

Speaking Of Golf

By JOE MAPLES

After a rather cool and damp month of May which held down play on local golf courses, things during the past week have picked up considerably. Reports from Blowing Rock and Linville in addition to the Boone course indicate a good increase in play. Reports also indicate that all three of the area courses are in the best condition ever which is good news to players from down state where most greens are in the transition stage with very little grass. It was a bad winter on most greens with one course we know of (Morganton) having to put in new grass. Professional Joe Cheves reports that his greens are coming along nicely and should be ready for play in a short time. It was really good news to hear that one of the greatest players of all time, Ben Hogan, has gone back to active competition, starting with the Thunderbird tournament this past weekend.

Boone Ladies Golf Assn. News

There will be a meeting of the Boone Ladies at the golf shop, Tuesday, June 25th at nine o'clock and all members are urged to attend. The Boone Ladies have been invited to play the Hilltop Golf Course at West Jefferson as their guests on Thursday, June 27th. All ladies planning to make this trip please sign up at the Boone Golf Club golf shop before Monday June 24th.

Two of the local ladies have been doing quite well as of late, Fern Hunt broke 100 for the first time last week, not once but twice and Marie Newton just missed her course record of 69 the other day. Also worthy of note, Julie Barber won herself a season permit by making an Eagle three on our tenth hole. She was on the green in two and sank a putt of 105 feet! This is actually a double eagle since par for ladies on this hole is six.

Bruce Sudderth, a member of the ASTC golf team for the last several years and assistant to Professional Roy Tinsley at the Blowing Rock Country Club, is turning professional. Bruce is now in the process of making application for apprentice membership in the Carolinas Section and hopes to apply for membership in the National PGA within the next year. Bruce is a very capable young man and we wish him the best of luck in his chosen profession.

A very well known young man in these parts, King Triplett will be working in the shop of the Boone Golf Club this summer. Both he and Grady Hollars are a definite asset to our staff and will be ready at all times to serve the needs of our players.

Sectional qualifying round for the national championship of the PGA of America was held at the Myers Park Country Club Monday. It turned out to be a long, tough, wet golf course to all the players but Charlie Prentice of Columbia, S. C. was able to master it for one good round by shooting a three under par 69 in the morning. He came back, playing it safe, with a 75 and led the qualifiers with even par 144. Next came Jim Riggins of Goldsboro with 149, followed by Dick Tiddy of Charlotte with 150. Rain was the order of the day as the some thirty odd players tried to beat par but for most, the task was too demanding as the 6800 plus yard Myers Park course refused to yield. Double bogeys on the 1st, 7th and 36th holes proved to be enough to keep me from qualifying as my rounds of 76 and 79 missed the cutoff by five shots. An unplayable lie, a bad break and a flubbed wedge shot, in that order, were the contributing factors to those bad holes. The three players that made it, will give the section good representation however. They are all fine players and all three have played the tour at one time or another so let's wish them the best of luck at Dallas.

Know The Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Is the old saying—the higher the clouds the finer the weather—based upon any scientific knowledge or is it purely folklore and superstition?

This old belief actually has a scientific foundation, since clouds form when air is cooled and moisture particles become visible in rising, cooling air, with constantly lessening moisture capacity. Therefore, high clouds are a good sign.

This is mainly true in the summer . . . when cumulous clouds usually form every day. If there is a great amount of moisture in the air, the rising air forms clouds quickly. Therefore, if you see low white cumulous puffs quite early on a summer morning, look for rain during the day.
