

Three Watauga People Win At Area 4-H Day

The District 4-H Demonstration Day was held in Asheville June 12. Twenty people represented Watauga County in this event.

There were three district winners from Watauga—Agnes Gray Shipley in the Dress Revue; Janice Tester in the Fruit and Vegetable Use; and Janie Shipley in the sewing division.

The blue ribbon winners were as follows: John David Farthing, Sugar Grove; John Wineberger, Rt. 2, Boone; Janie Shipley, runner up in electric division, Vilas; Bobby Shipley, runner up in forestry, Vilas; Joe Shores and Donna Townsend in the talent division, and Luis Hicks and Marthanna Frennell in the talent division also.

Joe Shores entered the talent division with a piano number and a vocal group consisting of Janice Tester, Nancy Love, Sharon Love, Elizabeth Cornett, Joyce Tester, and Linda Farthing, from the Bethel Club, entered this division.

Bobby Shipley was elected as the District Vice President and was presented by Mrs. Callie Hardwick, District Home Economics Extension Agent, during the afternoon session of the program.

Dress Revue Held Thursday

The annual 4-H Dress Revue was held Thursday afternoon, in the Boone Methodist Church educational building.

Eight girls entered garments they had made especially for this event.

Agnes Gray Shipley won first honor in the senior division, which gave her the opportunity to compete in the District Demonstration Day in Asheville where she won an all expense paid trip to 4-H Club Week in Raleigh. Janice Tester was awarded a blue ribbon.

In the junior division of simple school dresses, Judy Rupard was first winner; Marsha Farthing, second, and Helen Coffey and Fanny Fox received red ribbons.

In the play or sport outfit division, Joyce Tester won first place and Sharon Issenhour received a blue ribbon.

Mrs. Hugh Tison, Assistant Home Economics Extension Agent in Caldwell County, and Mrs. Mary Brown of Boone were judges for the event.

YMW Club Asks New Members

Single men and women, 19 years or older, are invited to attend meetings of the Y. M. W. Club, young adult branch of the 4-H Club.

Representatives of the volunteer Watauga County Rescue Squad presented the program of the first June meeting. Through similar programs, which are given throughout the year to explain the work of many local and state organizations, the group executes worthwhile projects.

Insurance Men Given Honors

General Agent Stanley A. Harris and associate Dan Miller of Sturdivant Life Insurance Company qualified as members of the Key Producers Club, for the Sturdivant Life annual meeting at Myrtle Beach this week.

Harris, a repeating member of the Producers Club, holds the individual sales record for the highest production in one month.

Boone's Jack Cobb Presides At Health Gathering In Statesville

The Seventeenth Annual meeting of the Public Health Association was staged at the Vance Motor Hotel in Statesville June 13-14 with approximately 200 persons in attendance, including eight Wataugans.

Boone's Jack Cobb, R. S., was presiding officer of the two-day affair. He is supervisor of the sanitation with the District Health Department and served as president of the PHA last year.

The theme of the meeting was "Man and His Environment." One speaker stated that whatever else man may be, he is a biological creature who has to compete in his environment for not only his existence but also for his sense of well being.

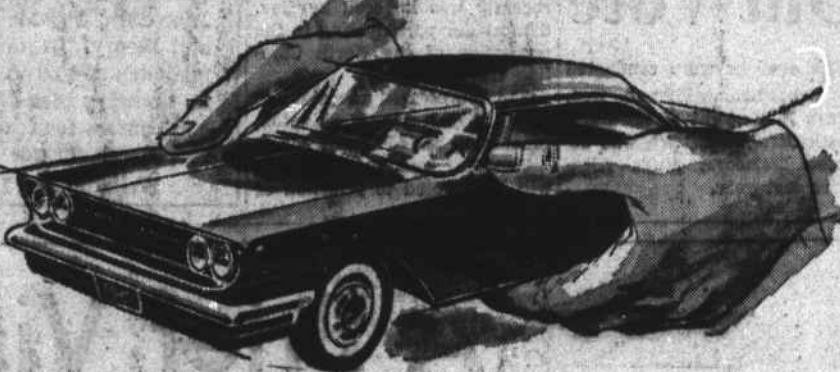

"Your theme . . . is indeed all-inclusive but none the less profound and challenging," the speaker continued. "Perhaps no other group among the health careers is so well acclimated to enter such a comprehensive consideration, and no other group has so accepted the whole man in the entirety of his environment."

Speakers at the meeting were Dr. J. W. R. Norton, president of the American Public Health Association and director of the N. C. Board of Health; Dr. Emil E. Palmquist, regional director of the U. S. Public Health Service;

Dr. Jacob Koomen Jr., Assistant State Health Director; and C. H. Atkins, assistant surgeon general of the U. S. Health Service, Washington, D. C.
