MRS. FRANKLIN DEMING OWEN, JR.

Miss Dorothy Anne (Dottie) Greene became the bride of Franklin Deming Owen, Jr., at four o'clock Saturday, June 22, in Saint Mary's of the Hills Episcopal Church in Blowing Rock, N. C. The Rev. Martin R. Tilson of Saint John's Episcopal Church in Charlotte performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Spencer Greene of Blowing Rock. She is a graduate of Blowing Rock High School in Blowing Rock, and received her B. A. degree in Business Administration from Furman University in Greenville, S. C. She holds her M. A. degree from Appalachian State Teachers College in Boone, N. C., and has done post-graduate work at Appalachian and the University of North Carolina. She has taught at Anderson College in Anderson, S. C., worked for United States Steel Corporation in Charlotte and Atlanta, and taught in the School of Business at Wake Forest College, Winston-Salem, N. C., this past school year.

Mrs. Owen is a member of the Americana Association of University Professors, the American Association of University Women and active in Furman Alumni affairs. While at Wake Forest, she was faculty advisor to Delta Kappa Nu sorority, and elected secretary to the School of Business faculty.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Deming Owen, Sr., of 107 Edisto Avenue, Columbia, S. C. He is a graduate of Dreher High School in Columbia and the University of South Carolina in Columbia, S. C., with a degree in Engineering. He has done graduate work at Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) in Cambridge, Mass.

Mr. Owen was a member of Sigma Nu fraternity while attending the University of South Carolina and is presently a member of the Bachelors Club, the Saraband Club and Forest Lake Country Club of Columbia, S. C. He is now executive vice-president of Owen Steel Company, Inc., Columbia, S. C., and associated Owen interests.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory peau-de-seoie gown fashioned with imported Brussels lace bolero scooped neckline and long tapered sleeves with Brussels lace inserts forming the points over the hand. The semi-full skirt extended into a cathedral train.

Her heirloom veil of Brussels lace to match her dress was worn Mantilla style. She carried a white Prayer Book topped with yellow-throated white orchids, showered with lilies of the valley and satin ribbon streamers.

Miss Jane Johnston from Atlanta, Georgia, was maid of honor. Mrs. Tommy A. (Allie) King of Anderson, S. C., served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. John R. (Jerry) Carlisle, cousin of the bride, from Lyman, S. C., and Mrs. Melvin Lee (Betty) Burton, sister of the groom, from Columbia, S. C.

The attendants wore long dresses in candlelight and ransom taffeta, designed with high neckline and short sleeves. The long sheath skirt with flounce at bottom of skirt held a detachable train of ransom. They wore flat bows of candlelight taffeta in their hair matching their dresses and carried New Testaments topped with cream and ransom cymbidium orchids with satin streamers.

Junior bridesmaid was Jeanne Owen, sister of the groom from Columbia, S. C. She wore a dress very similar to the other attendants, with same headpiece and flowers.

Mr. Franklyn D. Owen, Sr., father of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were William Spencer Greene, Jr., brother of the bride, from North Wilkesboro, N. C., A. Spence Williams, Dr. Theodore G. Crook, and James Best Letton, III (brother-in-law of the groom), all of Columbia.

Flower girl was Nella Cannon Tate, daughter of Mrs. H. Frank Forsyth of Winston-Salem, N. C., and Lloyd P. Tate of Pinehurst. She wore a white silk organza dress with a headband of sweetheart roses. Zachary Reynolds (Skip) Tate, the flower girl's brother, was ring bearer.

David Bolick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bolick of Blowing Rock, lit the candles and served as acolyte during the wedding service.

Mrs. Robert (Pat) Moser of Charlotte, organist, and Mr. Ronald E. Alexander, vocalist, presented the wedding music.

The bride's mother wore a rose-beige ribbon and imported lace dress with matching accessories. The groom's mother chose a mauve lace sheath with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of cymbidium orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held by the bride's parents at Mayview Manor. The ransom and candlelight color scheme was carried through as decorations, with an ice carving of wedding

JANE'S PERSONAL COLUMN

Dear Jane And Rachel:

My week started pleasantly with a luncheon at Daniel Boone Hotel Monday. The party was given for Pat Dowling by Peggy Cline, Margaret Council and Dolly Matheson. The table was so pretty and the food was excellent. A heart-shaped picture of Pat and George (Davis), who will be married July 13, had been edged in tiny pearls and used as place cards. Some one spent a lot of time making them and they were clever as could be. During the luncheon it was my good fortune to be seated opposite Artie (Mrs. W. T.) Payne, who is now living in Asheville, where W. T. is with Security Life Insurance Co. They have three darling children... two girls and a boy, and I believe they moved into a new home a short time ago. Forgot to check on this. This is the first time I had seen Artie in about two years and I thoroughly enjoyed visiting with her. Also met George's mother, who is a charming person... one I would like to know better. It was a good day for me.

Had a chat with Helen G. Todd Smith Wednesday. She had come down from Maine for a visit with her brother, Horton Gragg and family, and was called home shortly after arriving here because her husband's brother had been killed in an airplane crash. I think she said he was in the Air Force. I'm real sorry about this. Seems Helen has had more than her share of sadness in the past few years.

Went out to the Parkway School Friday morning to see the foreign students who were coming to Watauga County on the World Food Tour. They were late arriving and that gave me an opportunity to visit with Mrs. Roby Vines, Mrs. Asa Reese, Mrs. Earl Petrey, Miss Doris Perkins and Mrs. Martha Jenkins, who formed a receiving line. I'm sure I was not supposed to be in the line, but when I saw all those friendly faces I automatically started shaking hands, too, and there must have been 100 of them. They were served lunch in the school cafeteria and I was seated at a table with Yen Tier Chang of the Republic of China, Nassar Goleosorkhi of Tehran, Iran, Miss Elza F. Ruegg of Brazil and Khalil Lubani of Jordan. This was a wonderful experience and I am real sorry I could not go on the entire tour with them. It was so good to have you along Rachel, to make pictures of the group. I'm especially anxious to see the one of the beautiful girl in native dress, who responded to the welcome given by Mr. Ivy Wilson.

I'm sending along a bread recipe that is fool-proof... (it would have to be if I had any luck with it)... and it freezes nicely. This was given to me by Mrs. Lewis Wilson, who got it from Ola Caudill, who got it from Lona Qualls and no telling where Mrs. Qualls got it. I do appreciate, Mrs. Wilson's thinking of me and passing along such a wonderful recipe.

Old Fashioned Bread
(Makes 5 loaves)
5 lbs. plain flour
3 packages yeast
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons salt
5 cups luke warm water
1 cup Crisco

Dissolve yeast in water and add 2 table spoons sugar. Make hole in center of flour, add the Crisco and yeast mixture and work until dough isn't sticky. Let rise until double in bulk. Work lightly, then cut into five pieces and place in bread pans. Grease top, let rise until double in bulk. Bake 15 minutes at 150 degrees, then 30 to 40 minutes at 325 degrees. Cut recipe in half if you don't need 5 loaves or freeze some for future meals.

Your daddy and I went to the Blowing Rock Country Club opening Saturday night and saw so many of our old friends for the first time this season. It was a lavish party and the food was never better. Mrs. Grimes, who was not feeling up to par last year, looks wonderful now. Met Grace Hamrick, whose column I read religiously in the Charlotte Observer. She is an excellent society reporter and probably does other reporting equally as well. She and her husband have a home in Blowing Rock and they are there frequently. See you soon!

Love,
Mom
