

JAN AND PAUL DAVENPORT PREPARE TO TASTE MOTHER'S PRIZE PIE.

Newland Woman Among 100 Finalists Competing In National Bake Contest

A Newland woman with a keen interest in making deserts today was named one of 100 finalists in Pillsbury's 15th Grand National Bake-Off, which will be held September 15-17 in Beverly Hills, Calif.

She is Mrs. Ernest Davenport of Route 3, Newland. She developed a recipe for a pear pie with a sour cream and crumb topping by experimenting with a recipe from her collection. Mrs. Davenport will go to Beverly Hills to compete with 99 other prize-winning bakers from throughout the United States in the International Ballroom of the Beverly Hilton. The grand prize in the $100,000 contest is $25,000.

Mrs. Davenport is one of two finalists from North Carolina. The other is Mrs. Guy H. Little of Hickory. As finalist, each is already the winner of a General Electric range and mixer, a $100 cash prize and full expense money for the trip to Beverly Hills to compete in the Bake-Off. Both had submitted their recipes for judging on a nationwide basis earlier this year.

Mrs. Davenport was born in Davidson county, and attended high school at Crossnore. She has done some traveling, mostly in the Southern and Eastern Seaboard sections of the United States, and one of her great ambitions is to do some more extensive sight-seeing.

Mrs. Davenport says that she "bakes frequently, mostly desserts, pies and cakes because my family is so fond of them." The family includes her husband, who is a tire dealer, and three children: Philip, 26; Paul, 23, and Janice, 20.

When Mrs. Davenport isn't in the kitchen of the family's six-room house she'll probably be found reading or working crossword puzzles. But she also finds time to serve her church — Pine Grove Methodist — as secretary and as a member of several church committees and women's organizations.

It didn't take Mrs. Davenport long to decide what she might do with the prize money in case she's a winner at the Bake-Off. "I have two children in college who could certainly use the financial assistance," she said.

ECONOMY GOOD

At a recent news conference, President Kennedy described the economy as "good." But indicated he would be worried about the future if Congress did not enact his tax reduction bill this year.

Funeral services were conducted Monday at 2 p. m. at Poplar Grove Baptist Church by Rev. Raymond Hendrix and Rev. Harold Hayes. Burial was in the Brown Cemetery.

Jackson Jr. and Frank Jackson, both of Detroit, Mich.; Eisel and Charles Jackson, both of Boone; one step-daughter, Mrs. Connie Gilbert of Strawberry Plains, Tenn.; one step-son, Lefler Jackson of Strawberry Plains, Tenn.; four brothers, Fred Brown of Boone, Clyde Brown of Lenoir, Ernest Brown and Sylvester Brown, both of Detroit, Mich.; nine grandchildren.

Library Closes For Expansion

The Watauga County Library will be closed from Sept. 3 through Sept. 16 for vacation and expansion.

DOMESTIC PEACE CORPS

President Kennedy's plan to create a domestic peace corps passed the senate by a margin of three votes. The Senate approved a 2,000 corps of members instead of the 5,000 Kennedy suggested. The domestic peace corps will do for residents of slum areas in this country what they have been doing in under-developed foreign countries.

Kephart Takes Note Of Arab-American Society

While attending a meeting of Arab leaders in Jerusalem, Jordan, last winter, Dr. A. P. Kephart met some of their outstanding leaders of whom Dr. Jamil Nasir was the chairman.

They were considering the proven inequities of the Arab-Israel border settlement and the continuing violations and the ensuing conflict. Later Dr. Kephart distributed for Dr. Nasir one hundred and fifty booklets, "The Embittered Arab," to outstanding leaders in this country.

Dr. Kephart now has a letter from Dr. Nasir asking for his opinion and advice on the desirability of setting up an Arab-American Cultural Approach Society to enlighten many leaders in both countries by the publication of facts and pictures and excerpts from books and journals. Since so very little is known in the United States about people and institutions of the Arabs and so little in Jordan about the United States, there is great lack of understanding of each other.

Dr. Kephart said, "We really do not know the Arab at all. Such an organization could bring about greater understanding and closer relations and so contribute to welfare and ultimate establishment of justice and peace."

Dr. Kephart has replied that having been in Jordan now three times, the last time for seven weeks, and based upon his acquaintance with and understanding of the problem and conflict he does approve and would be glad to join such a society and to help in its development.

A person's intelligence can be accurately judged by what he or she is interested in.

Dairy Group Sponsors Drive To Protect Nation's Children

Raleigh—Crusade Child Safety, a national campaign to protect children from motor vehicle accidents, is being sponsored in this state for the sixth year by the North Carolina Dairy Products Association. Sponsored nationally by the Milk Industry Foundation and the International Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers, the campaign is being conducted September 1-30.

In 1961 children under the age of fourteen accounted for 2,200 of the 7,650 pedestrian deaths in the nation. Motor vehicle accidents killed more children between the ages of one and fourteen years than the next two major causes combined.

D. W. Greene, Biltmore Dairy Farms, Asheville, president of the North Carolina Dairy Products Association, stated that the purpose of the crusade is to emphasize to the school children and the public the need for alertness and safety, by both drivers and pedestrians.

North Carolina's safety-conscious dairy processors and distributors participating in "Crusade Child Safety" have set their goal to save lives and reduce injuries by developing alert driving habits by dairy truck drivers and the motoring public.

Some of the safety tools are bumper strips urging motorists to "Always Watch for Children," safety badges for drivers, safe driving pledges their customers, and safety pledges and metal buttons reading, "I Am A Safety Crusader," for the children.

R. E. Davenport, Sycamore Dairy, Fayetteville, chairman of the campaign in North Carolina, gives as the theme of the Crusade, "The world's best food—delivered by the world's safest drivers."

Civitan Club To Support Bonds

The Boone Civitan Club has unanimously voted to actively support the proposed school bond issue, according to club president Bill Spencer.

The Club feels that Watauga needs the expanded educational program before it can offer incoming business and industries opportunities in elementary and secondary education for children of their employees.

Club members expressed the feeling that the children of Watauga County need the opportunities that a consolidated high school can give for future college work. Many also expressed hope that the proposed new school would provide training in vocational fields for children who do not plan to go to college.

Fifty years from now we will be having Miss Constellations beauty contests, and that will be so much the better.
