GOVERNOR

STATEMENT BY GOVERNOR TERRY SANFORD

The Watauga Democrat is known all the way to the Atlantic Ocean as a sturdy champion of go forward government for a State on the Go. It has been my pleasure to know Editor Rob Rivers since the campaign of U. S. Senator W. Kerr Scott in 1954. I know him as a man who has helped pave the way for new roads, new schools, new hospitals, new jobs, and new opportunities for all the citizens of Watauga County and, indeed, for all North Carolinians throughout the State.

I shall look forward to continuing reading the editorials and the news stories of the Watauga Democrat as it works for Watauga County and for the State of North Carolina.

With best wishes always,

Sincerely,

Terry Sanford

Homecoming Activities To Center Around Ad Building

The majority of the Homecoming activities at Appalachian State Teachers College will revolve around the area of the administration building for the convenience of alumni, it was announced by Bob Allen, director of foundations, public relations and news bureau.

Alumni may park at Conrad Stadium, behind the New Science Building, at the baseball field, behind the college laundry and behind the elementary school. Campus police will be on hand to direct parking.

Alumni will register in the New Science Building lobby from 8 a. m. to 12 noon.

At 8:30 a. m., the alumni president's breakfast will be held at the Daniel Boone Inn.

Musical notes will break the clear mountain air at 10 a. m. as the fast-stepping ASTC college band and other bands start the traditional parade from the FCX Store on Water Street to King Street and thru downtown Boone. The parade will continue on King Street to "Greasy Corner" and then down Hardin Street to Daugh Blain and through the campus to the New Science Building.

Charles McLean, president of Chi Lambda Chi, said that many of the clubs and organizations on the campus are preparing floats to go in the parade. A special prize is awarded to the club that has the best float. Last year the Industrial Arts Club float was voted the best. Austin Adams is parade marshal and will supervise the parade.

Those invited to ride in the parade will include college officials, members of the board of trustees, the alumni council and officers. Chi Lambda Chi has invited Miss Brenda Bost, N. C. Rhododendron Queen, to participate. Miss Bost is a product of ASTC, and will be back at Appalachian after her year's reign as Rhododendron Queen is over.

Arrangements have been made for six bands to participate in the parade. Adams said that students have started work on floats and there will be between 10 and 15 in the parade.

At 11 a. m., there will be a faculty-alumni fellowship hour in the lounge of the college cafeteria. ASTC faculty members assisting 60th Anniversary Chairman H. R. Eggers in welcoming old-grads will be Dean D. J. Whitener, Dr. James Stone, Mrs. Daisy Eggers, Mrs. Maxie Edmisten, Dr. Cratis

Williams and Mrs. Charles Blackburn.

A buffet luncheon will be served at 12 noon in the Men's Old Gym. In the gaily decorated room, tables will be arranged for 300 alumni and friends of the college. The meal will be prepared by the college cafeteria. President Leroy Sossamon will preside, and Dr. W. H. Plemmons, ASTC President, will bring words of greetings along with Registrar Herman Eggers, chairman of the 60th Anniversary committee. Dr. Amos Abrams will speak on the "Romance of Appalachian." Special classes will be recognized and new officers installed for the ASTC Alumni Association. Also, special awards will be presented to the alumnus of the year and the chapter of the year. Special guests for the luncheon will include John and Jane Corey. John is on a one-year leave of absence from his duties as director of alumni affairs and is working toward the doctorate at Duke University. We hope all the alumni will join those of us here at the college in making this a special homecoming for the Coreys. We miss them and hope they will soon be back with us.

Kick-off time for the football game between ASTC and Carson-Newman is scheduled for 2 p. m. There will be special pregame and half-time entertainment for the enjoyment of the alumni. During the half-time of the Homecoming Queen and her court will be presented. Also, the Bob Broome Award will be presented to the outstanding athlete. A section of the 50-yard line has been reserved for the alumni and reunion classes.

At 4 p. m., the alumni are invited to inspect new buildings on the campus which include the Home Economics, Industrial Arts and Science buildings and the new eight-story dormitory for women. Also, the alumni may use this period after the game as free time to fellowship or do as they please.

The exclusive Touchdown Supper will be held at the Boone-Blowing Rock Ski Lodge from 7 to 12 p. m. The Lodge is located just off the Blowing Rock Road, a few miles from the campus. A combo will furnish dance music.

The annual Homecoming Dance will be held in the auditorium of the New Health and Physical Education Building. During intermission the Homecoming Queen will be crowned and her court will be presented to the student body. Music will be provided by a popular dance band from Charlotte.

All ASTC alumni have a special invitation to return to the Boone campus for the Homecoming festivities and take part in all the activities.

Funeral services were conducted October 16 at 2 p. m. at the Beaver Creek Christian Church by Rev. James Pritchard and Rev. Edd Blackburn. Burial will be in the Howell Cemetery.

Samuel Worley Dies Monday

Common Market to offer Soviet a tariff cut.

Residents of Boone and Perkasieville can get transportation to and from the Bloodmobile by calling AM 4-8226. After making their blood donations, they will be returned to the point where the transportation service picked them up.

Following the crowd is the usual course of little-town socialites.

Miss Allgood To Speak In Virginia

Miss Mary Brown Allgood, chairman of the Home Economics Department at Appalachian State Teachers College, will speak for Home Economics Day at Madison College, Harrisonburg, Va., on Saturday, October 19.

Miss Allgood will speak on "Demonstration As a Teaching Tool."

The Appalachian department head is a graduate of Madison College and Iowa State College.

Prior to coming to Appalachian she was associated with Pennsylvania State University.

Transportation Being Arranged For Blood Donors

Transportation for the October 24 visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to Watauga County will be available at the Blowing Rock Community Center at 1 p. m. for the convenience of Blowing Rock residents.

Donors will be brought to East Hall, where the Bloodmobile unit will be stationed, and after donations will be returned to the Community Center.

1500 County Farmers Apply For ACP Help

Watauga County now has over 1500 farmers who have made application for Federal cost-share assistance under the 1963 Agricultural Conservation Program, according to Vaughn Tugman, chairman of the Watauga ASC County Committee.

Approvals have amounted to $69,560 to date this year. In most cases the approval is only about one-half the cost to the farmer. When we consider this we realize that well over $139,000 has been spent on conservation of our soil in Watauga County, not including any cost of the labor or machinery the farmers put into their conservation practices.

Highest expenditures have been to improve and establish meadow and pasture. Ranking below these are liming of farmland; open ditch and tile drainage; tree planting and planting of winter cover crops.

Over 300 farmers have already seeded winter cover crops this year. Funds are available for approvals on rye for seeding as a winter cover crop.

Any farmer who has not yet received cost share for his farm this year should contact the ASCS office immediately. Participation in the ACP program is a recognition of the farmer's responsibility to help protect the county's soil and water resources.

The 1511 farmers who have already signed to carry out conservation practices in the county are helping to build a stronger agriculture through conservation to provide a better living for all the people of the county, state and nation.

Bloodmobile Will Return Oct. 24th

What benefits are offered by the Red Cross Blood Program? The largest program of its type in the world, it offers resources for the conduct of research projects which will have practical implications for all aspects of blood banking and therapy.

Also, all blood is collected from volunteer donors, making available the most disease-free blood possible free as needed anywhere in the United States.

Every American thereby has a chance to participate in a program which exemplifies the principles for which the Red Cross stands. Giving blood can make you an integral part of one of the most important life-saving programs carried out in this country.

Everyone cannot go to Korea to provide comfort to the U. S. soldiers stationed there; and not everyone is able to contribute blood to the Red Cross Bloodmobile. But to do the latter may mean that you will save the life of some soldier, or of some loved one who may have an automobile accident and require a blood transfusion. Everyone who wishes to be a part of the program can do so by going to East Hall on the ASTC campus October 24 and giving a pint of blood.

Jake Greene Is Thought To Have Taken Own Life

Lenoir — Jake Greene was found shot to death Monday in a trailer about 4 miles north of Lenoir.

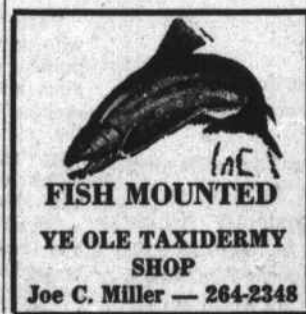

Acting coroner Karl Warlick ruled the wound self-inflicted. Greene was found in his trailer home fully clothed and in bed, Warlick said. A .38-caliber pistol was nearby.

Greene, 51, owned and operated the Power Way Service Station. His trailer home is near the station. Warlick said Greene probably died sometime after midnight.

Greene was born in Wilkes County to Filmore and Sally Hendrix Greene. He was a veteran of World War II.

Surviving are three brothers, Herbert and Zollie Greene of Deep Gap, Rt. 1, and Elmer Greene of Lenoir; two sisters, Mrs. Jennie Miller and Mrs. Octavia Kerhoulas, both of Deep Gap, Rt. 1.

The funeral will be conducted at 2 p. m. Wednesday at Mount View Baptist Church in Watauga County by the Rev. Roscoe Greene. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Paul & Ralph Say:

A big city minister visiting in a rural parish was asked to pray for rain. The rain came in floods and destroyed some of the crops, whereupon one elder remarked to another: "This comes from asking a man to pray when he doesn't know agriculture."
