

Cotton Textiles By The Millions Used In Sleepers

Rich Source of Cotton Industry Income Since Year 1859

Enough cotton sheets and pillow cases to tuck 44 times the entire population of Edenton into bed were purchased last year by The Pullman Company.

Its total bed linen inventory, announced in Chicago by Frank S. Rick, general storekeeper, would be sufficient to give clean sheets and slips to each of the 3,935 men, women and children of Edenton every night for 303 nights. Pullman owns 2,342,186 sheets and 1,881,387 slips, worth about $2,000,000.

This unique view into the operations of the sleeping car company, which was probably the largest user of linens in the world before the war expanded the requirements of the armed services, was offered to the cotton industry which in 1941 sold more than $260,000 worth of sheets and slips alone to Pullman.

The total estimated value of all linens in the inventory report was put at $2,571,000 and the annual laundry bill in recent years has exceeded $1,500,000.

With the price of cotton higher now than two years ago, Pullman expects to surpass its 1941 purchases, provided its increased orders for linens are not curtailed, Rick pointed out. Often called "the world's greatest housekeeper," Pullman plays host to more than 40,000 travelers nightly. Its fleet of cars, now numbering 7,000, has represented a rich source of income to the cotton industry since 1859, when the first sleeping car was put on the tracks.

Lions Clubs To Observe National Maritime Day

The Edenton Lions Club, as well as other Lions Clubs throughout the country, was notified this week through President Franklin D. Roosevelt that Friday, May 22, will be observed as National Maritime Day all over the nation.

Since it is fitting that public recognition be given to the patriotism and courage of the officers and men of the cargo ships in the Victory Fleet, and to the men in the shipyards and factories whose labor and genius go into their construction, the people have been called upon to observe this day, May 22, as National Maritime Day by displaying the flag at their homes or other suitable places and on all Government buildings.

William H. Coffield "Missing In Action"

Mrs. W. H. Coffield received a message Wednesday morning from the Adjutant General's Office of the War Department, which was written on May 18, saying that her son, Private William H. Coffield, Jr., was reported "missing in action." William was in the Philippines at the time of the Jap attack and nothing has been heard from him since. As a large number of prisoners were taken by the Japs, it is thought that he is now held a prisoner. The War Department hopes to effect a transfer of prisoners soon, but until that time, it is only known that William is "missing in action."
