THIS WEEK'S BIBLE THOUGHT

LOVE SURVIVES ALL: Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it; if a man would give all the substance of his house for love, it would utterly be contemned.—Song of Solomon 8:7.

Logical Source For Action

Chowan County Commissioners at their meeting Monday agreed to add an appropriation in the budget for employing an assistant county agent, and while discussing the idea with District Agent Troy Ferguson, attention was called to the fact that Chowan farmers are vitally interested in methods for growing more and better type Virginia peanuts. In fact, it was emphasized that unless something is done in the Carolina-Virginia area to improve the peanut crop, States farther south will before very long crowd Chowan farmers out of the picture.

It was pointed out that volumes of information have been prepared by experiment stations regarding growing tobacco, corn and other crops, while practically no information is available concerning peanuts.

More data is necessary and a movement for vital information might as well start in Chowan County and apparently will, for the Commissioners will, upon the return of Representative John W. Graham, insist upon devoting his efforts in the General Assembly toward more attention given to peanuts at experiment stations.

In fact, it would not be amiss to send a delegation to Raleigh when the Legislature is in session. Dairymen did that very thing and got some relief, and other delegations, too, have been benefitted by presenting their demands.

The peanut crop is the life-line of Chowan County and if, because of lack of up-to-date methods, more and better peanuts are raised in other states, the County will greatly suffer. The peanut crop is just as important to Chowan County as is tobacco, dairying and other crops in various sections of the State. It deserves as much attention on the part of experiment stations. It is time to demand such service and the pressure might as well start in Chowan County.

Edentonians Honored

Edenton and James E. Wood in particular were signally honored last week when Mr. Wood was elected president of the National Peanut Council. That Mr. Wood's ability is recognized by the South's two hundred million dollar peanut industry is reflected in the fact that he was chosen from a group of more than 400 peanut farmers, processors and shippers who attended the national convention held at Virginia Beach. He has for many years been prominently identified with the industry, so that his interests and activities have warranted the confidence of members of the industry to place him at the helm of an organization which is facing the need for more research and promotion to maintain peanuts as the South's fifth largest and perhaps its most profitable crop.

The Herald predicts a successful year for the Peanut Council under the leadership of Mr. Wood.

Another Edenton peanut man, W. W. Byrum, was also honored by being elected as one of the 41 directors of the organization, so that The Herald congratulates both of these men.

Will Their Cry Go Unheeded?

Attention is called to the Emergency Food Collection which will begin in Edenton next Thursday and end the following Sunday with a house-to-house canvass for canned food. In the meantime a canvass will be made for cash contributions with which will be purchased food for starving millions in countries laid waste by the ravages of war.

Many of these starving people are women and children, so that it isn't fair to refuse to give by the argument that "they started the war." They know the

Some Children WON'T LIVE WITHOUT YOUR HELP!

WILL YOU GIVE THAT THEY MAY LIVE?
Here's what you can do!

1. GIVE MONEY. More food can be obtained for a given amount of money when it is bought centrally and in large quantities. Send cash, money order, or check to your local Emergency Food Collection Committee or to Lee Marshall, Executive Director, 100 Maiden Lane, New York 7, N. Y.
2. GIVE FOOD IN TIN CANS. Leave at any Emergency Food Collection depot.

Urge your church, club, or organization to participate!

Millions of children are sick from hunger. Many will die before help from America can reach them. But you can help save thousands of others.

Yes, you've pledged to "Share a Meal Every Day" to help starving people. But the need for all foods is so desperate you're asked to do more.

After a rather stormy start, the Albemarle Baseball League finally opened the season Sunday and though only three teams decided to carry on, three others joined the ranks to make a six-team circuit. The league is made up of Edenton, Hertford, Elizabeth City, Camden, Windsor and Colerain. Jim Daniels is president of the league, but he's not like he used to be. He paraded to the pitcher's mound to throw the first ball to open the league, but the bloomin' ball hit the ground before reaching Howard Phipps. Of course, Jim will not admit he's slipping, claiming that he threw a drop. Anyway, during the game conversations turned back to the days when Jim, Caleb Goodwin and Fred Wood formed an outfield, of which any team could be proud.

And speaking about Sunday's game, another old-time baseball player was rather prominent, for Joe Webb was the umpire. And, believe it or not, not a whimper from players on either team was heard about Joe's decisions. Here's hoping that the umpiring during the season will be as satisfactory as the game Joe called Sunday afternoon.

What was expected to be a general wrangle turned out to be a rather orderly meeting when, on Monday afternoon, another meeting was held regarding the selection of a site for the Chowan hospital. Prior to the meeting everybody appeared to be in a jovial mood and as far as outward appearances are concerned nobody was mad after the meeting. Which is as it should be. Of course, there are differences of opinion as to the proper location of the hospital, but the future welfare of the hospital and Edenton as well are at stake, which require serious thought and study. It is no time for hot-headedness and flying off the handle.

Arthur Hollowell had a new experience Wednesday morning. He shipped a dog to his son-in-law and daughter, who are now living in Massachusetts, and discovered that there is a lot of red tape connected with shipping a dog. Let alone a great deal of trouble fixing a box. At any rate he said he valued the dog at $200 when as a matter of fact the critter isn't worth two cents. But just the same, the dog and the recipients will be glad when he reaches his new home.

Just about the most discussed subject locally these days concerns reports relative to closing the Edenton Naval Air Station. However, on Wednesday morning as this column was written it sounded as though the base was getting in full swing again, for many planes were flying over the town. So many folks "know" what's going to happen at the base that it's no use mentioning anything in The Herald.

Though there were no graduating exercises at the Edenton school this year, Charles Baker was one of the four who actually graduated, and has a rather unique record in that he is the first boy to graduate as a war veteran. Charles was wounded in Germany and upon his return resumed his studies and plans to enter college. Going to school is better than fighting in his opinion.

Tommy Manning, who operates The Herald's inter-type machine, entered Albemarle Hospital Tuesday morning for an operation, so that here's one who has had and will have a load to carry until Tommy comes back. Anyway, here's hoping he gets along as well as I did about two years ago when I was in the same fix.

Blowing in Wednesday night of last week of some relatives from Pennsylvania came as quite a surprise. When told about the way the bloomin' fish are acting these days, the party started off Thursday morning for a visit in Florida. Anybody could leave Edenton for a spell now and not miss a good fishing trip unless the scudders bite better than they have during the past few weeks, and I might add, months.

Again this week quite a few news stories were crowded out due to unexpected advertising coming in. If anyone received a short answer along about Wednesday morning, it was due to a certain guy going just about "nuts" to decide what to leave out.

gnawing of pain and piteous weakness brought about by hung rations to no cause of their own.

Chowan County people have ever been generous for any worthy cause, but to provide food for the starving should be reason for the softening of hearts so that a creditable contribution is expected during the drive. Money or food will be accepted and if given in the spirit of "Inasmuch as ye have done this unto the least of these," there should be no little satisfaction in knowing that some effort was made to relieve suffering and saving precious lives.
