

N. C. Farm Bureau Meeting In Asheville

Most Important Ever Held According to Vice President

North Carolina Farm Bureau will hold its 12th annual State convention February 1, 2, 3 and 4 in Asheville, with leading representatives of agriculture, industry and labor joining with outstanding legislators in a program of unusual interest, R. Flake Shaw, executive vice president, has announced.

"This year's convention will be one of the most important ever held by the North Carolina Farm Bureau," Shaw said. "A well-rounded program is being developed and we feel sure everyone who attends will receive considerable benefit from the discussions, addresses and commodity conferences."

Arrangements have been made to run a Farm Bureau special train on the Southern Railway, if at least 300 members indicate they wish to make the trip by train, Shaw said. The special train would originate at Goldsboro, as did last month's Farm Bureau special for the organization's national meeting in Chicago, with stops scheduled at major points enroute to Asheville. Early registration for the train must be made by those planning to go by rail, Shaw added.

Main sessions of the meeting will be held in the City Auditorium, adjacent to the George Vanderbilt Hotel. The opening ceremony will be a colorful and impressive candlelight Vesper service, Sunday, February 1, at 8 P. M., sponsored by the Farm Bureau Associated Women, headed by Mrs. B. B. Everett, Palmyra, president.

Hotel reservations are being handled through County Farm Bureaus, Shaw said. The county units, he added, are engaged now in electing official voting delegates to the State meeting, official representatives on all State Farm Bureau committees and adopting individual county resolutions to be presented for consideration at the convention.

Insecticides Subject Of Local Meeting

An insecticide and fungicide meeting was held Wednesday night of last week with representatives of three dealers present. The meeting was in charge of James T. Connor, extension entomologist and Howard R. Garriss, extension plant pathologist, both of whom gave excellent information on the types of insecticides and fungicides needed to serve purposes of this area.

These specialists answered many questions which will help to face local problems. They also made recommendations for control measures on insecticides and fungicides covering crops, livestock, poultry and household in this area.

35th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Algie Hollowell celebrated their 35th wedding anniversary with a floating reception, given by their children, at home in Tyner, from 6 to 9 o'clock in the evening of Sunday, January 4th.

The home was a scene of beauty and simplicity, decorated with pine, holly, fern and poinsettias, with white and red candles predominating. The centerpiece was a three-tier cake with miniature bride and bridegroom.

The hostess was attired in black with a corsage of gardenias, while the children wore black with a corsage of yellow rose buds and white carriages. The guests were greeted by Miss Pearl Anne Hollowell, youngest daughter of the honoree. Presiding at the guest book was Mrs. Harry Hassell of Edenton. Mrs. Hallett Rountree of Corapeake, a brother, J. H. Hollowell of Ryland, assisted in the receiving line. Mrs. Anthony Sakowski of Los Angeles, Cal., cut the cake, while Mrs. J. H. Hollowell, Mrs. Lewis Mathias, Mrs. Paul Breeding and Pauline Rountree assisted in the reception of many guests with ice cream, mints and nuts.

During the reception, music was rendered by Anthony Sakowski and daughter, Jacqueline, on the electric Hawaiian guitar and violin.

Social Security Tax Return Due Jan. 31

Law Affects Every Employer of One or More Employees

On or before midnight, January 31, employers who are subject to the insurance provisions of the Social Security Act will send to the government their payroll tax returns covering October, November and December, 1947.

Mr. Employer, the law applies to every business or industrial establishment even though it has but one employee either full or part time. You can save yourself time and trouble by making certain that the name, account number and wage earnings of each worker employed by you during October, November and December are shown on your tax report.

Mr. Employee, you can save yourself and your family the possible loss of future benefits if you cooperate with your employers by seeing that they have your name and number exactly as it appears on your account number card. If you have not given this information to your employers, do so at once. If you do not have a Social Security account number card, apply for one immediately. You can get the application blanks from your local post office and you should send the completed application to the Social Security Administration, 520 Flatiron Building, Norfolk 10, Va. As soon as you receive your card, show it to each employer you have had during October, November and December, 1947.
