

North Carolina Is Leading South In Car Registrations

U. S. Has Twice as Many Vehicles Than All Other Nations Together

North Carolina led the South in registrations of passenger cars, trucks and buses during 1949 and ranked fifteenth in the nation, according to information released by the North Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles.

California was first with 3,971,141, followed by New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Texas, Illinois, Michigan, New Jersey, Indiana, Missouri, Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa. North Carolina was next with 899,645. The figures do not include such motorized vehicles as motorcycles, scooter-bikes, and tractors, which brought the State total registration for 1949 to 1,030,319.

Registrations for other Southern states were as follows: Florida, 867,474; Virginia, 819,448; Georgia, 797,678; Tennessee, 686,600; Louisiana, 613,103; Alabama, 545,704; South Carolina, 500,872; Mississippi, 403,889.

Nevada had the lowest passenger car, truck and bus registration listed with 66,595.

The registration figures gave the United States more than twice as many autos, trucks and buses as those in all other countries put together. Registrations by continental divisions were: Europe, 11,615,828; Americas (excluding the United States), 3,837,745; Australia and surrounding islands, 7,593,898; Africa, 1,062,583; Asia, 934,536; United States, 43,773,982.

Registration activities for the first six months of 1950 outpaced those for the first six months of 1949 in every category. The registration mark for the first half of 1950 reached 1,036,811, as compared with 918,404 for the first half of 1949. Other registration activity for the first half of this year as compared with the first half of last year as follows: title and license transfer (one North Carolina owner to another), 132,357 and 99,536; original title issuance (new vehicles), 66,330 and 49,661; original title issuance (out-of-state vehicles), 37,670 and 24,339.

More Fords were in operation in North Carolina last year than any other make of car. The Ford figure was 183,019 with 15,067 being last year's model and 25,682 older than 1933. More 1941 Fords were in use than any other model—a total of 23,046. Chevrolet was second with 173,760, a total of 7,966 being 1949 models, 25,236, 1941 models and 4,405 older than 1933. Plymouth was third with 70,391.

Sixty-five Hupmobiles still were in operation, none being post-war products and 36 being older than 1933. Graham listed 157, none older than 1941 and 30 being older than 1933.

Station Announces New Bulletin On Pastures

Farmers and other interested persons were urged this week to get their copy of a new pasture publication just released by the North Carolina Experiment Station. The publication is a special pasture edition of "Research and Farming," quarterly magazine put out by the Station. The 48-page bulletin is devoted exclusively to a discussion of North Carolina's pasture needs, production, pests, and grazing problems. It is designed as a part of the state-wide "Green Pastures" campaign. A beautiful pasture scene in full color adorns the cover of the edition. The photo was taken on the farm of J. R. Nipper near Raleigh.

The lead-off article by Station Director J. H. Hilton is entitled "North Carolina's Pageant of Pastures" and reviews efforts over the past 70 years to develop pastures in the Old North State. Dean Hilton salutes Dr. I. O. Schaub, veteran director of the Extension Service, for his leading role in pasture development.

Easy-to-read charts simplify the research findings as to seeding rates, fertilizing rates and methods of managing pastures. A two-page "spread" in the center of the booklet summarizes the recommendations of the Station on the type of pastures to grow and how to grow them.

The publication was edited by Lane Palmer of the Station's editorial staff. Illustrations are by Norman Youngstead and photos by Ralph Mills and Landis Bennett, all of the college staff.

Single copies of "Research and Farming" are available on request. They may be secured from county agents' offices or by writing to the Agricultural Editor, State College, Raleigh.
