

Robert Ray Winslow Weds On West Coast

One of Few White Weddings on West Coast During Holidays

One of the few white weddings of the holiday season on the west coast was that of Miss Nathalie Marie Niemi, daughter of Mrs. O'Lydia Niemi, who was married to Robert Ray Winslow, son of Mrs. Maebell P. Winslow of Hobbsville on New Year's eve.

The little Lutheran church, perched on the snowy hillside, was set with silvered branches and hung with myriad silver bells, which lined the aisle leading to the altar.

White tapers in greenery were at every window and the altar was decorated with white chrysanthemums, where the Rev. H. Storaasli performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Kenneth (Sonja) Stamm sang "Why Do I Love You?" and the Lord's Prayer, accompanied by Mrs. F. W. Kaskinen, prior to the bride being led to the altar by Andrew Nelman, her uncle.

The bridal gown was of white satin, with Queen Ann collar on the left yoke, bouffant skirt over hoops and full court train.

Her veil of imported illusion was lace edged, falling from a sweetheart crown of lace and she carried tallis-man roses, hung with bouvardia streamers, and centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Elmer Forseth, her matron-of-honor and Mrs. Arthur Blum, her attendant, wore Alice blue satin under skirts of matching tulle, with sleeveless tops and matching satin boleros. They carried silvered wedding ring loops, on which were removable white feathered corsages tied with sprays of forget-me-nots.

Elmer Forseth was best man and ushers, who lit the seven-point candelabra prior to the wedding were Robert Tenny, cousin of the bride, and Arthur Blum.

Mrs. Niemi chose a purple dress with beaded top and orchid corsage for her daughter's wedding. The mother of the bridegroom, who had planned to attend from her North Carolina home, was unable to, due to travel conditions.

The church parlors followed the decor of the church for the reception following, in silvered branches and white tapers. Over the guest book, managed by Mrs. Maureen Miles, cousin of the bride, hung graduated silver bells tied with tulle. Large silver bells filled with greenery formed a centerpiece with tapers in crystal for the four-tiered wedding cake cut by Mrs. Andrew Nelman, the bride's aunt.

Mrs. Roscoe Miles, another aunt and Mrs. Petra Henningsen, Mrs. Olga Henningsen and Mrs. Anton Kvistad were dining room hostesses, and in charge of the kitchen were Mrs. Alex Bernhoff, assisted by Mrs. Julia Selbeck.

Assisting were Miss Gail Hauke, Miss Frances Gustafson, Miss Jessie Miller and Mrs. Arnold Johnson.

The bridegroom's cake was passed by little Miss Joy and Mary Carol Miles, cousins of the bride.

A short honeymoon in Portland, for which the bride changed into a black dress, coat and hat and orchid from her bouquet, was followed by a trip to San Diego, where the bridegroom is stationed with the navy.

NEW HIGH-YIELDING CORN HYBRID

This is a sample of Dixie 82 yellow corn, one of five new hybrids available for use on North Carolina farms in 1952. It is very high-yielding, has good roots, and is adapted to the Coastal Plain and Piedmont regions. According to Dr. E. R. Collins, agronomist for the State College Extension Service, the other new hybrids are N. C. 24 yellow, adapted to the upper mountain region only; N. C. 36 yellow, adapted to the mountains and as early corn in other parts of the State; N. C. 29 white, suited to sections of the Coastal Plain and Piedmont; and N. C. 31 white, adapted to same regions as N. C. 29 except the lower or southern Coastal Plain.

Hospitality And Gracious Living

Hospitality depends on the people in the home rather than on the "company" dinner, appointments, and elaborate service.

A few hints on hospitality and gracious living: True hospitality is sharing what you have with your friends. We compliment our friends when we invite them to share in our family life.

Successful entertaining depends more on the spirit of hospitality and the relaxed atmosphere that prevails in the home.

A home that maintains this spirit of hospitality and restful atmosphere will have fewer awkward moments when company comes. It is very embarrassing to guests when parents use the meal hour to teach good manners to children.

Front Door Works For Or Against You

Someone has said, "Each entrance reflects what the people inside the house are like. What you see as you go up the walk, climb the steps and wait for the doors to be opened, will form lasting impressions."

Maybe we had better get busy and see if our walk is clean and the entrance door attractive, not a path that is muddy and littered with debris and the steps hazardous.

Perhaps we need to look at the entrance of our home and get the impression that friends get when they come to call on us.

HEALTH FOR ALL

"COMEBACK" AFTER TUBERCULOSIS

Some people have the idea that the person who has had tuberculosis remains a semi-invalid for the rest of his life and can never be fully self-supporting again.

Yet there are thousands of recovered tuberculosis patients who are today holding jobs by which they support their dependents as well as themselves. Many of these people now have jobs which they enjoy more, and which are better paying, than the ones they held before they became ill.

Many patients can return to their old jobs or line of work after they are well. But there are times when for one reason or another the doctor will advise that the patient prepare for a new type of job.

When this is the case, the preparation of the patient for future self-sustaining livelihood is often begun in the tuberculosis hospital. Vocational training services are available to patients in many tuberculosis hospitals—in all veterans' hospitals. State and federal agencies supply the rehabilitation and vocational training programs in some hospitals and sometimes tuberculosis associations, operating on a demonstration basis until the proper state agencies are prepared to take over the job, offer social welfare and rehabilitation workers and counselors in hospitals where they are needed.

Preparing for work can be an important part of the patient's treatment. While studying and training, he is spending his convalescing time profitably and interestingly.

According to a survey made by the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, former TB patients compare favorably in work performance with workers who have never been seriously ill.

The former patient is often more valuable to his employer than others in such matters as losing time through minor illnesses because he learned the value of good health and takes better care of himself. Furthermore, those who hire former patients or supervise their work report that they usually make good, conscientious employees.

CANCER CLINIC

The Cancer Clinic is held the first Friday of each month at the Health Department in Elizabeth City. The clinic, which is open to the public, is open at 12:30 P. M.

The worth of a state, in the long run, is the worth of the individuals composing it.

One ride and You'll say:

"That's the Smartest Million Dollars BUICK Ever Spent"

WHEN we tell you that every 1952 Buick rides like a million dollars, we're not just slinging slang—we're talking real money—right-on-the-barrelhead cash.

A million dollars and more were poured into research and testing—design and tools—engineering, production and components—to team up the combination of ride features you'll find on a Buick—and on no other car in the world.

A million dollars and more was the price paid to work out control of end-sway and side-roll on curves—to double-check vertical "throw" with shock absorbers and big soft-acting coil springs for all four wheels—to V-brace the torque-tube keel and X-brace the frame—to cushion body and engine—and to silk out the whole operation with Dynaflo Drive.*

You may not care how the job was done, or what it cost. But we'll lay you this: You're going to say "thanks a million" to Buick engineers once you get this spirited smoothie under your hands and haunches.

Old familiar roads take on a new smoothness. Gone are the weave and wander, the jitter and jounce that you've felt in lesser cars. You ride with road-hugging assurance and level ease.

All of which only begins to tell you what really great cars these 1952 Buicks turned out to be.

Never before have style and stamina—comfort and character—power, performance and price been brought together with such satisfying skill.

The obvious thing for you to do is come in and look them over. How about taking half an hour off to do that—today?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Buicks.
