

N. C. Writers In Edenton

Through courtesy of the Raleigh News and Observer, The Herald this week is able to publish a few pictures taken during the recent meeting in Edenton of North Carolina writers.

Here John Fletcher and Paul Green pass away a little time playing checkers at Bandon, where he and his wife, Inglis Fletcher, entertained the group.

Here Elizabeth Boatwright, novelist of Blowing Rock and Hartsville, S. C., Ovid Pierce of Weldon, novelist, and James Street, Chapel Hill novelist and short story writer, chat during the meeting held in Edenton.

Mebane Holoman Burgwyn of Jackson, writer of juvenile fiction, and Inglis Fletcher, historical novelist, chat in the Fletcher library at Bandon Plantation.

Frederick P. Speight Dies In Petersburg

Frederick Perry Speight, 56, died Monday morning at 5 o'clock in a Petersburg, Va., hospital after an illness of six weeks.

Mr. Speight was a native of Edenton and made his home at Colonial Heights the last 20 years. He was a son of W. O. Speight and the late Minnie Perry Speight.

Surviving, beside his father, are his wife, Mrs. Erma Jolly Wrenn Speight of Colonial Heights, a daughter, Miss Barbara Dawn Speight; a step-daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Wrenn Killebrew, both of Colonial Heights; a brother, William Edward Speight of Edenton; three sisters, Mrs. Henry Jenkins and Mrs. Herman White of Edenton and Mrs. Richard Colvin of Atlantic, Va., as well as a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Remes & Morris Funeral Home at Petersburg and burial followed in the Petersburg Cemetery.

Well, It Worked

Suitor—Yes, sir. I've a plan where you can save money.
Father—All right, son. Take her and be good to her.

Discreet
Voice (on the telephone): "Is my husband in the club?"
Club Waiter: "No, madam, I'm afraid he isn't."
"How do you know? I didn't tell you my name."
"Husbands are never here, madam—especially those who are wanted on the 'phone."
