

Big Whiskey Still Captured In Upper Chowan Last Week

Revenue Officers Destroy Plant and Arrest Three Negroes

Bootlegging in Chowan County was struck a severe blow Thursday of last week when revenue officers located and destroyed a 1,000-gallon capacity still a short distance off the River Road in upper Chowan County near the Gates County line. The still was found a short distance from a spot where a similar outfit was destroyed about a month and a half ago. Both plants were capable of manufacturing at least 1,000 gallons of moonshine a week.

The still was said by officers to be very elaborate but not very well concealed. When they swooped down on the still about 2 o'clock in the afternoon three Negroes were making a "run" and had already made about 195 gallons, with the prospect of making an additional 300 gallons during the afternoon. There were 19 fermenting vats of 500 gallon capacity at the scene, with 6,500 gallons of mash fermenting to be turned into corn whiskey.

In June revenue officers discovered and destroyed a similar plant nearby, which required 30 charges of dynamite to put it out of commission.

Arrested at Thursday afternoon's raid were three Negroes, Willie Overton of Belvidere, and Knox Quick and John A. Holley, who said their homes were in Portsmouth.

Officers making the raid were Jack Gaskell, Moses Hawshaw and Lawrence Davis, ATU officers, and A. D. Baum and B. V. Halstead, ABC officers.

Ruritan Club Changes To Earlier Meeting Hour

The Chowan Ruritan Club held its meeting Monday night at the Community House at Cross Roads, with the meal served by ladies of the Lela Davis Missionary Circle of Ballard's Bridge Baptist Church.

During the business session the club decided to change the meeting hour from 7:30 to 7 o'clock. Committees were also appointed to visit those members who have been absent at the regular meetings before they are dropped from the roll.

W. J. Nichols was in charge of the program which was in the form of an interesting quiz about North Carolina and Chowan County.

Colonials Bidding For Second Place In Race

Helmer, Rocky Mount's moundsman, allowed only four hits, two of which were made by Manager Parker, one of which was a home run. Helmer fanned 14 Edenton batters.

Rocky Mount took a big lead in the second inning when they scored three runs. Barham and Martin singled and both scored when Wellman bunted and Parker made a wild throw. Templeton then singled to score Wellman. They also added a run in each of the seventh and eighth innings.

Edenton 1, Tarboro 4
On Hicks Field Saturday night the Colonials were apparently coasting to another victory, but in the ninth inning Tarboro scored four runs to win 4 to 1.

Stoudemire was on the mound for Edenton and for eight innings allowed only two hits, but in the last frame Olin started off with a single. Pavuk bunted and Inge bobbled the ball, after which Rance sacrificed both runners. With two on base, Raines replaced Stoudemire. One of Raines' curves got past Mauney and a run was scored which tied the score 1-1. Pavuk stole home when Mauney interfered with the batter, who was sent to first base and the run was good to put the visitors in the lead 2-1. Kunze singled, after which Raines became wild and walked three men in succession which netted two more runs.

The Colonials scored their lone run in the fifth and had several splendid opportunities to add more runs, but the necessary hits were lacking. Kunze allowed only six hits, while the visitors made only four, three off Stoudemire and one off Raines.

Edenton 5, Tarboro 4
In Tarboro Sunday afternoon the Colonials, trailing 3 to 1, rallied in the eighth inning to score four runs and win from the Tars 5 to 4.

Stinza started on the mound for the Colonials but gave way to Reeves in the eighth. Stinza allowed eight hits and Reeves 1. Liverman was Tarboro's starter, but was relieved by Drach in the eighth. The Colonials gathered 13 hits off the two pitchers with Horton and Inge leading with three apiece. Clark, Evans and Mauney chalked up two hits each.

The Colonials tallied one run in the first inning, but Tarboro came back to score two and added another in the third to lead 3-1. Both teams then went scoreless until the Colonials exploded in the eighth to score four runs. In this inning Mauney and Raines, who was pinch hitting for Stinza, walked. Mauney scored on Clark's single and an error. Horton then hit a fly and Raines raced home. Evans and Onan then singled to fill the bases and two runners raced home when Inge singled.

Edenton 5, Kinston 2
On Hicks Field Monday night the Colonials won a thrilling game from Kinston, the league leaders, 5 to 2. The victory carried the Colonials to only a half game behind Wilson for second place.

The game was a pitchers' duel between Edenton's Monk Raines and Grissom, with both hurlers developing streaks of wildness, which contributed in large part to Grissom's downfall. He allowed only two hits, singles by Evans and Griffin, while Raines was touched for five scattered hits. Grissom fanned nine and walked five, while Raines fanned eight and also walked five.

Kinston scored their first run in the third when Gaunci and Blackburn walked. Ferris then hit to short and the ball bounded over Horton's head for a single, with Gaunci scoring. The Colonials went ahead 2-1 in their half of the third. Horton walked and Evans hit through second base. The ball went through Center Fielder Andrews and Horton raced home, Evans going to third. With Onan at bat a perfect squeeze play was executed which put the Colonials ahead 2-1.

Kinston tied the score in the sixth. Ferris walked and Grissom sacrificed. Johnson walked and Stevenson's fly was caught. Davis, who fanned twice before, then singled bringing in the tying run.

The score remained knotted until the eighth, when Grissom walked and Clark and hit Horton with a pitched ball. Evans made a perfect sacrifice hit advancing both runners. Onan was then hit on the arm, filling the bases with one out. Inge then hit one over the fence which curved foul fourth and on the next pitch hit a long fly eighth.

to right field which scored Clark. Griffin, next up, slashed a neat single through second, bringing in Horton and Onan to bring the score to 5 to 2.

The victory was Raines' 25th for the season as against only five losses. Edenton 3, Kinston 0

With Stoudemire pitching a four-hit game, the Edenton Colonials again defeated the league-leading Kinston Eagles 3 to 0 on the latter's diamond Tuesday night. Stoudemire was pitted against Host, who has chalked up 26 victories for Kinston, but the Eagle ace was touched for six hits, three of which were made by Manager Parker. hit advancing both runners. Onan was then hit on the arm, filling the bases with one out. Inge then hit one over the fence which curved foul fourth and added another run in the
