Three Amendments | Candidates In Next Tuesday's Election Will Be Voted On In November 4 Election

One Affects 15-cent Tax Limitation on Property Valuation

CALLS FOR 20 CENTS

Other Two Have to Do With Filling Vacancies In Office

While voting for the President of the United States, the Governor of North Carolina and other important public officials in the general elec-tion on Tuesday, November 4, North Carolina voters should not overlook the fact that they will have an opportunity to vote on three proposed amendments to the Constitution of North Carolina.

The first amendment has to do with changing limitation of total state and county property tax.

At the present time the total state and couny tax limitation is 15 cents on the $100 property valuation. Under the proposed amendment this limitation would be raised to 20 cents on the $100 property valuation, except when the county property tax is levied for a special purpose and with the special approval of the General Assembly, which may be done by special act. Provided this limitation shall not apply to taxes levied for the maintenance of the public schools of the state for the term required by Artticle 1X, Section 3 of the Constitution. Provided, further, the state tax shall not exceed five cents on the $100 value of property.

Under the present limit of fif-teen cents on the $100 property value which counties may levy for the gen-eral fund many counties have found themselves in financial difficulties and unable to meet their general fund operating expenses. Some of the representative items which must be paid out of this fund include the salaries of all county officers and the cost of operating the offices of Sheriff, Tax Collector, County Ac-countant, Register of Deeds, the Coroner, etc., expenses of tax listing, holding elections, holding courts, expense of county jail, county commissioners' pay, courthouse maintenance, etc. All of these regular operating expenses of a county must be paid out of the general fund. Taxes for special purposes may be levied with the approval of the General Assembly. These special taxes for special poses make up the greater past of county tax levies.

Amendment No. 2 has to do with changing the method of filling vacancies in the General Assembly. (Continued on Page Four)

Million Voters Be Old Enough To Cast Ballot For President

The quadrennial infusion of new blood into the electorate and the their first ballot in a Presidential

This is a fundamental part of the regenerative process of democracy, and it is an event that is symbolic of far more than the mechanics of the first exercise of the franchise by a group of new voters. What is actually taking place is the formal assumption of the duties and obligations of citizenship by the oncoming genera-tion of Americans, and all that this implies socially and economically as well as politically.

The Economic Factor

As a matter of fact, individually and as a group, these first voters have already become an influence in the operations of the American economy in all its varied phases. A large number have already established their own homes, for it is in this age group that the average marriage takes place and families are begun.

Parade of Youngsters And Floats on Broad Street

Plans have been completed and the mat of welcome is ready to be rolled out for the hundreds of children expected here tonight (Thursday), when the Edenton Woman's Club hold their annual Halloween Carnival. This will be a night never to be forgotten by the youngsters who have been waiting all year for this big event. An ansortment of ghosts, witches, goblins and many other spooky monsters will throng the streets of Edenton along with the blaring of Halloween noisemakers.

The entire area of the playground at Hicks Field will be roped-off, and along its sides will be attractively decorated booths including a fishing pond, fortune telling, movies, hot dogs, peanuts, candy and drink stands as well as numerous other amusements to delight the children. The children will be greeted by a wink of the eye from a huge witch which will be stationed at the playground entrance. There will also be a talking witch and 'witches' brew" will be served the kiddies. Everything will be free to the children, who are also looking forward to the wonderful hayrides given them last year by Marines from the Edenton base.

A big parade will start the night's activities, with those taking part congregating on the Court House Green at 6:30. The line of march will get underway around 7 o'clock and will be led by the Edenton High School Band. Since the ban has been lifted this year on motor-driven vehicles, it is hoped that a greater number of floats will enter the parade. Prizes will be given for the most original boy and girl costume, the most comical boy and girl costume and for the most comical and most will be done on Broad Street and for ground. The children will form a line receive their tickets for the shows
