

Eight Groups Given Permits To Solicit

Fund Raising Drives Obligated to Secure License to Solicit

During the month of December licenses were granted by the State Board of Public Welfare to eight organizations to conduct fund-raising campaigns through public solicitations for the support of their programs, and the licenses to two organizations were extended, it is announced by Dr. Ellen Winston, Commissioner.

All of the eight organizations were re-licensed in accordance with provisions of the state solicitation law. They are the American Bible Society and the United Board for Christian Colleges in China with headquarters in New York City; the Disabled American Veterans, National Office at Cincinnati, Ohio; the National Jewish Hospital at Denver, Colorado; the American Friends Service Committee, Southeastern Region at Greensboro, North Carolina; the Bethel Colony of Mercy at Lenoir, the Daniel Boone Council, Boy Scouts of America with headquarters in Asheville; and Elon College at Elon College, North Carolina.

Licenses to the North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs at Raleigh and the Christian Rural Overseas Program at Elkhart, Indiana, issued for only a portion of their fiscal-program years were extended at their requests to permit longer fund-raising campaigns.

The total amount which the eight organizations will seek from the public at large in North Carolina is $793,450. It was also announced that during the month of December the American Association for the United Nations in New York City, the Cerebral Palsy Foundation at Cincinnati, Ohio and the Holy Land Christian Approach Mission at Kansas City, Missouri, solicited citizens of this state. The State Board of Public Welfare is pointing out that such solicitations are in violation of the North Carolina solicitation law, since none of these organizations is licensed in accordance with the state statute.

PLANNED HOUSEWORK: Have you noticed how some homemakers always seem to get jobs done well and with a minimum of effort? The secret? Well, more times than not the lady who does her work most efficiently is the one who follows a work plan or schedule of some sort.

The very words "work plan" might scare some women off, but actually these plans should be very basic and simple and when properly planned and followed, they can make your daily and weekly household tasks much easier. For instance, the work to be done around the house might be divided as follows:

1. Jobs to be done every day like bedmaking, washing dishes, and cooking meals.
 2. The weekly tasks, such as darning and mending, and doing the laundry.
 3. Occasional tasks: waxing and caring for floors, cleaning out and setting closets to rights, straightening up bureau and desk drawers, conserving food, caring for rugs and curtains.
- Of course every schedule will be an individual matter and should be planned with your own home, family, and your particular needs in mind. Your standard of living will be important, too, in making out a workable schedule.

If you do much entertaining, you may want to allow time for party preparations. But with more and more home freezers being found in homes today, you may be able to budget your time and do some of your party baking ahead of time so that the last few hours before the guests arrive needn't be spent frantically stirring up pastries in the kitchen. And of course a successful plan for housework must be flexible. There are always unexpected interruptions to be coped with and a work plan should be made that won't be thrown out of balance by unexpected visitors or circumstances.

Important principles may and must be flexible.

TWO FIRE ALARMS SUNDAY

Edenton firemen were called out twice Sunday, once shortly before noon and again about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, both alarms being caused by oil stoves.

The morning alarm was caused when an oil stove in the Chowan County jail flooded. The firemen arrived before any damage was done.

In the afternoon the firemen were summoned to the home of Leon Thomas at Morris Circle, where an oil stove backfired. Aside from soot scattered about the house, no damage was done.

Character is what you are in the dark.
