Heroic Cargo Ship Now in Idle Fleet

Carried 14,000 North Korean Refugees on Trip to Safety

A famous merchant ship has been laid up. She is the Meredith Victory, and she is now in molthballs at the government's Olympia, Oregon,

The Meredith Victory broke all world records as a refugee ship during the evacuation of Hungnam, North Korea, in December, 1950, the American Merchant Marine Institute recall. ed. She was operated at the time by a private American ship line, with a regular civilian crew, but serving under Navy command.

Built to carry only a crew of under 50, her captain gave orders to take aboard as many of the hapless North Korean refugees as the ship could hold. Over 14,000 had crowded aboard. They stood for three days, jammed togeither because they did not have room to sit down until they landed without a casualty at a refugee camp in South Korea. Five babies were born on

"We hope we don't have to pull the ship out of lay up again," a spokes-man for the Institute said. "But if there is another such emergency, the merchant marine is ready."

Be on the watch for salesmen of cooking utensils who make unusual claims about their pots and pans. There are some loose in North Carolina. We've had several letters from women saying, "There has been a man selling cooking utensils around here who says his produce prevents cancer, dandruff, high blood pressure and lots of other ailments that are caused by eating foods cooked in aluminum. Is this so?"

Our Answer: There is not a word of truth in it. You will find that these men are usually trying to Universities. scare you into buying some high priced equipment. Here is what the Mayo Clinic and American Medical Association have to say about aluminum and cancer:

Dr. Russell M. Wilder, M.D., of the Mayo Clinic writes: "We have no information in the Mayo Clinic that aluminum ware is in any way responsible for cancer or any disorof salesmen of the various other May 31st issue of utensil companies to discredit the use of aluminum utensils."

A bulletin from the Council on Foods and Nutrition, American Medical Assoication, says: "There are still many persons who cling to the old prejudice against aluminum. Order from Your Local Newsdealer | Ha There are a few who make it a profitable business to keep the prejudice alive. It has been proved over and over that there is no harm in aluminum and that its use for cooking utensils is entirely safe.

"While some persons make the claim that aluminum causes cancer, and therefore aluminum should never be used as a utensil for cooking, we can assure you that there is no basis for such belief."
