

Swimming Pool At Base Open To Teach Swimming Lessons

Coach Ben Perry Plans For Program and Transportation

FIVE DAYS A WEEK

Youngsters Must Have Permission of Parents To Participate

According to an arrangement made with officials at the Edenton Marine Corps Air Station, Edenton youngsters this summer will be given an opportunity to enjoy the splendid swimming pool at the base.

Coach Ben Perry informed The Herald this week that classes will be held for beginners two hours a day for five days each week. The youngsters will be in charge of Coach Perry, who will teach swimming and has arranged for transportation to and from the base in the baseball bus.

The bus will leave the Junior-Senior High School at 10 o'clock each morning. The youngsters must have the permission of their parents in order to go to the pool.

The Marines, of course, require that they be relieved of any liability in connection with the use of the pool and another requirement is that a statement be furnished from a doctor to the effect that no child is afflicted with a contagious disease or has any kind of skin disorder.

Coach Perry's regular recreational program will not be affected by the swimming classes. Mack Privott has been employed to carry on the program with other boys and girls while Coach Perry is at the swimming pool.

James Speaker At Lions Club Meeting

Principal Points Out Immediate Needs at School

At the regular meeting of the Edenton Lions Club on Monday night the annual report of each activity committee was submitted and altogether the club has had a busy and gainful year.

The principal speaker for the evening was Gerald James, principal of the Junior-Senior High School, who spoke briefly of the four immediate needs of the school:

First, vocational or industrial education to prepare the youth better and eliminate the necessity of leaving the local community to seek work after graduation.

Second, an activity bus to be used exclusively for the needs of the school and one to provide comfort and not to be abused.

Third, a visiting teacher who would serve as a liaison between the school and the home. This teacher would serve to a large degree as a truant officer.

Fourth, a beautification program to make the school a more inviting place for the student, parents and visitors.

Mr. James' talk was a challenge to the Lions Club, other civic clubs and the citizenry in general to take more pride in and more initiative in the curriculum, the general appearance and the extra-curricular activities of and within the school and to give to the young people what they justly deserve.
