

State Fair Offers Cotton Bag Contest

Cash Awards and Portable Sewing Machine Given as Prizes

A new contest, with cash awards and a portable sewing machine as the sweepstakes prize, will be a feature of the women's division of the 1953 N. C. State Fair in Raleigh, October 29-31.

Miss Ruth Current, state home demonstration agent and superintendent of the women's departments of the fair, announced that sewing skill and ingenuity in transforming cotton bags into dresses and household articles will pay off in the new contest in the clothing department. Premiums are offered for curtains, dresses, luncheon cloths with napkins, and mother-daughter dress outfits. The winner of the most awards in these classes will receive a Pfaff portable sewing machine offered through the Textile Bag Manufacturers Association.

"We would like to urge homemakers to file their entries in the clothing culinary and house furnishings departments of the fair as early as possible," Miss Current said. "We anticipate the largest entry in the 100-year history of the N. C. State Fair in the three women's departments, and we may need to seek additional exhibit space at the last minute from Dr. J. S.orton, fair manager. However, we don't accept entries after all available space is taken," the State

Home Agent declared.

The State College leader said there is still time to request a free catalog and premium list from: Manager, N. C. State Fair, P. O. Box 1388, Raleigh. The official entry form, which must be used, is attached to the back of the catalog. Entries in the women's departments of the fair close Saturday, October 17, at 6 P. M., and all exhibits must be on hand by 10 A. M., Monday, October 19.
