

NAAS NOTES

By CAROLE McFERREN

Time! This is one of those days you know the kind. You sit and stare out in space, and are so sleepy that you can't keep your eyes open. You have a million things to do, but never accomplish any of them. These are usually days that your children are at their desks, so you just hit and let them run around. Just as you've convinced yourself that you'll never have the energy to move again, your husband comes in hollering for his lunch. You want to tell him to fix it himself, but when you think of the ensuing mess you decide that fixing lunch is the lesser of two evils. Finally lunch is over, the baby's in bed, and the husband is glued to the TV... now... a few moments rest... but no... a column to write for next week's paper... so here I am... I think! I do have an excuse for being so tired though—I was up until 2 A. M., watching "90 Seconds Over Tokyo." Dad-gum WTAR-TV any way... Oh well, I guess I've subjected you to enough of my tale of woe, so on with the news...

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Jay McDonald have as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McDonald of Minneapolis, Minnesota. Lt. Col. McDonald's parents are visiting in Westover Heights enroute to Florida.

The monthly business meeting of the Edenton O' Wives was held Wednesday, March 13, at the O' Club. Demonstrations of the latest in home freezers were given by representatives of the Amana Company. Mrs. George Ferrington and Mrs. Leo Murphy were the hostesses.

Mrs. N. D. Butler of Genoa, Lou.

isina, has arrived to be with her son, Major N. D. Butler and his children during the absence of Major Butler's wife, Mrs. Butler is in Mansura, La., where her father, Dr. Kirby Roy, is seriously ill.

H&MS held the first of a series of Dinner-Dances last Saturday in the O' Club. Guests of honor were Col. and Mrs. Frank Collins, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Todd Whitten, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Wm. Case and Major Neeley Butler. The Dinner-Dance was arranged by a committee consisting of Major John Hyneman, Lt. Hans Zander, Lt. Karl Batt and Lt. LeClair.

Major John Read has left Edenton to assume new duties at Camp Lejeune. Mrs. Read and their four children will remain in Edenton until Major Read completes his schooling in preparation for his new duties.

The Officers' Wives Bridge Club will meet tomorrow, March 15, at 1:15 o'clock in the Fireplace Room of the O' Club.

Lt. John Connally and Miss Alice Langston were married in Goldsboro, N. C., on March 2.

Captain and Mrs. L. L. Beeler were the guests of Lt. Col. and Mrs. William Schwerin at Fort Bragg following the Langston-Connally nuptials.

Congratulations to Lt. and Mrs. Tom Trettis. They are the proud parents of a new son, born last week in the Chowan Hospital.

Lt. and Mrs. Hal Shore have returned from their honeymoon in Florida and Cuba. They are now making their home in Westover Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Preston have left for a tour of the South following their visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Jack Mimmack in Westover Heights. The Prestons reside in Albert Lea, Minnesota.

Lt. and Mrs. Hans Zander are playing host to Miss Pat Clancy of New York City for a month. Miss Clancy and Mrs. Zander are sisters.

MATCU 61 entertained with spaghetti dinner Saturday night at the O' Club. Lt. and Mrs. Robert Calabrese were the hosts. The guests were Major and Mrs. W. E. Zane, Major and Mrs. Gig Koehler, Captain and Mrs. John Breeze, Captain and Mrs. E. Conroy, Lt. and Mrs. Harry Gillis, Lt. and Mrs. W. Richardson, Lt. and Mrs. Robert Kazmierczak, Mrs. G. Winters, Frank Adams of Georgetown University and Robert Hensel of Panama.

Mrs. G. Winters of Norfolk is the house guest of Captain and Mrs. John Breeze in Albemarle Court.

Dr. and Mrs. Edward F. Mimmack of Buffalo, N. Y., are visiting their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Jack E. Mimmack.

Well, that's the column for this week. Hope you enjoyed it. More next week... till then Bye.

Plans Made For Sunrise Services

made later as to where that service is to be held. The members of the various communities are urged to attend service nearest them. This plan will make possible two Easter sunrise services out in the county and make it possible for many more people to attend. The large crowds which have attended in past years has brought about this change for this year. The public is urged to cooperate with the ministers who are working out the plans. A total program for the group which meets at different places will be announced later.
