A LIFT FOR TODAY

. . . Let there be no strife between me and thee . for we are brethren. —Genesis 13:8
ANGER becomes sinful and contradicts the rule of Scripture when it is conceived upon slight and in-adequate provocation, and when it continues long.

When anger arises, O God, help us to remember the consequences—that others, as well as ourselves, may be harmed.

If publicity has anything to do with it, Edenton merchants should attract many new and old shoppers from April 5 to April 13. Between those dates the merchants and business concerns will observe a Spring Festival of Values in order to develop a habit of shopping in Eden-

The event has been publicized by an eightpage circular being sent all over the Edenton trading area in which 24 merchants advertise many items they will offer at bargain prices. The Herald, too, has publicized the event and radio station WCDJ is having no little to say about it.

In connection with the Festival of Values merchants will contribute approximately $1000 worth of attractive merchandise which will be given away as prizes. Drawings have been scheduled to take place each of the two Saturday nights on Broad Street at 9 o'clock. To be eligible to win these prizes the only requirement is to register in the various stores.

Edenton merchants are anxious to have prospective customers visit their stores, for they are of the opinion that if merchandise is inspected and prices compared it is just, or even more economical, to trade in Edenton than in stores at a greater distance.

Many bargains have been offered for the Spring Festival of Values, so that shoppers stand to realize substantial savings by making purchases during the eight-day observance.

To this end Edenton merchants extend a cordial invitation to prospective shoppers all over this section of the state to visit their stores not only during the Spring Festival of Values, but all during the wear.

Reason To Be Proud

Chowan County's April term of Superior Court had a rather unique opening Monday morning when, before proceeding with court affairs, Judge Joseph W. Parker yielded the floor to William S. Privott.

Mr. Privott called attention to the fact that it was the first term of Superior Court to conwhe since 1869 without a man named Pruden, some as heing a Sorry Old Buzzard, being a member of the Chowan County Bar. He went back to the days of W. D. (Billy) Pruden who was a wheelhorse in his day throughout the entire district. Following him were his two sons, W. D. Pruden, Jr., and Norfleet Pruden and the last to serve being the latter's son, J. N. Pruden.

Mr. Privott paid glowing tribute to the Pruden family for its record in the halls of justice and it should be a matter of pride not only to the Pruden family, but Chowan County as a whole to be able to claim so long a chain of able and illustrous men in the legal profession.

The hopeless cripple who once depended upon the charity of others is rapidly disappearing from the American scene. Modern medicine with all its seeming miracles has not yet erased illness and crippling, but modern science is becoming more and more capable of making useful, happy citizens of those who are crippled.

Today, there are schools for crippled children, workshops, rehabilitation centers, and many other specialized programs to cope with the problems of the physically handicapped. Responsible in great part for the rapid advance in aid and understanding is the Chowan County Easter Seal Society, which is now conducting its annual Easter Seal campaign.

Dedicated to serving children and adults regardless of race, creed or cause of crippling, the society last year provided valuable assistance for crippled children and adults. In spite of the outstanding job, the society's officers do not feel it is enough. Every dollar spent is worth many times its value to the handicapped and to the community.

Beginning Friday and continuing through April 13 many of Edenton's merchants will be offering attractive bargains in Edenton's Spring Festival of Values. Bill Harry, however, got the jump on bargains last week at Ed Bond Post's fish fry. A Hertford Legionnaire won a pound cake as a door prize and put it up at auction to help boost a fund to support the candidacy of John Holmes as Department Commander. The cake was bought jointly by Frank V. White and Howard Ange for $20 and they in turn agreed to again sell the cake at auction. This time the cake was bought by Rill Harry at a price of $9.50—he got the cake at about "half price", you see.

And speaking about the Legion fish fry, the complete, misunderstood by the next time they have an auction maybe E. J. Hobbs, Jr., will leave his little son at home. At one stage of the auction bidding was sort of slow and the auctioneer kept hawking, "I've got slow and the auctioneer kept hawk $5.50-$5:50 I've got-who'll give me $6.00? Who'll give me $6.00 for this fine cake baked by Mrs. J. L. Chestnutt?" There was sort of a quiet spell when suddenly the little boy yelled way to rationalize and condone "$6.00." There was still another quiet spell their misdeeds. Others, including and Friend Hobbs didn't appear to be so well pleased. He no doubt didn't tell his son what but pride themselves on their abilihe was thinking, but it appeared as though he someone to champion their cause. wanted to say, "Hey, there, you keep your big mouth shut." Anyway, bidding took on new life and the cake brought $20.

Eddie Spires tried to get Charlie Overman several times on the phone the other day, but was unsuccessful every time he called. Seeing Charlie at the Masonic meeting Thursday night, Eddie told Charlie, "I tried to get you on the phone all day today, but you must have been out gallavantin' around." Charlie replied, "Well, yes, I might have been vantin' but I surely have not been gallin'."

In just about a month another election is scheduled to be held in Edenton. According to the whisperings there might be at least three candidates for the office of Mayor. But whoever is elected, no matter how good his reputation and character is, the chances are that it will not be long before he'll be considered by

Monday was April Fool's Day, but not everybody was foolin'. For instance, I received a letter from the Bank of Edenton saying: "Your note is due April 1." Hoping it was an April fool joke, I hustled over to the bankbut Edward Wells informed me that it was not

Then one of the Herald boys had a notion to send an empty envelope to his landlord for the month's rent. But upon second thought he gave up the idea for fear his landlord would get some ideas.

March 15th used to be a day dreaded by most people. Now it's changed to April 15th. That day is rapidly approaching. Have you filed your income return?

With the arrival of summer-like weather the word has gone out that speckled perch should start moving around with sort of an appetite. Well, here's one who tried 'em out the other day and from my catch there are no speckled perch or else they have learned to keep their mouths shut.

Here's one who lost out on a free feed this week. The banquet planned by the local chapters of the North Carolina Education Association and the National Education Association was called off. It was scheduled to be held tonight (Thursday) at the Masonic Temple. It was cancelled due to circumstances which developed.
