A LIFT FOR TODAY

* No chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous; afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness. —Hebrews 12:11.
 TRIAL is God's glorious alchemy, by which the dross is left in the crucible, the baser metals are transmuted, and the character is enriched with gold. —Punshon.

Help us to bear life's trials and burdens in a Christlike spirit, Almighty God.

Needs Study

Zoning is about to be adopted for the new area recently added to Edenton and as the result of one public hearing, some differences of opinion have developed. The Zoning Commission has made recommendations, which were considered to some extent by Town Councilmen Tuesday night, but no official action was taken.

Instead, the Councilmen preferred to give the zoning plan more thought and study to the end that the proper decision should be ultimately reached.

In fact, the Councilmen wanted to devote more consideration and study until Monday night, when they will meet in special session and probably tentatively adopt a zoning plan. Following this meeting, another public hearing will be held to hear any objections to the zoning as recommended. To be sure, there are quite a few people who are vitally interested in zoning, so that they should make plans to attend the hearing when it is called in order to register any objections. After the zoning has been adopted it will be too late to complain and suggest various changes.

In the meantime, any member of Town Council will be glad to hear any comment either for or against the proposed zoning as it is now planned.

Worth Patronizing

For some weeks now, a group of people have been devoting their time and effort to developing a Variety Show to be presented in the Elementary School auditorium Friday night, beginning at 8 o'clock. The show is sponsored annually by the Edenton Lions Club and this year a goodly share of the talent has been enlisted outside the club membership.

On the program will be talented Edenton people and will also include talent from the Mari-es, some of which is professional. That the show, under the direction of Lieut. Jim Bowers, will be well worth while, is reflected in a statement by J. R. DuLaney, general chairman, who says it should eclipse any previous show sponsored by the Lions, and that the show is the entertainment bargain of the season.

Proceeds from the show will be used by the Lions in their blind aid work, so that by attending, an evening of wholesome entertainment will be enjoyed and at the same time a worthy project will be helped.

Congratulations!

Congratulations are in order for the Band Parents Association for the success of its first Awards Banquet which was held in the Masonic Temple Tuesday night. Some 200 people gathered for the occasion, so naturally it was reason for encouragement not only for band members, their parents and friends, but Miss Lula Williams, popular director of the band, as well.

It was delightful to have C. L. McCullers of Kinston present for the occasion, for he is more or less the "daddy" of a band in Edenton, many recalling the famous Edenton bands of some 20 years ago under his direction. Both Mr. and Mrs. McCullers were idols of Edenton youngsters when they lived in Edenton, and it was very enjoyable for them to greet many of their old friends Tuesday night.

Mr. McCullers is still vitally interested in music for children, telling his audience Tuesday night that through music, careers were built, good citizens made and leaders developed in all phases of life.

The Herald hopes the Awards Banquet will become an annual affair.

The business of developing one's personality is more important than that of regulating others.

Philosophy is often a lazy man's excuse for not doing something about it.

Heard & Seen By Buff

Branning Perry believes in saving postage. One day this week he received a notice that his subscription to The Herald would expire June 1. He started to call and ask why we didn't send him a stamp with the self-addressed envelope so he could mail his check. But instead he hoofed it over to The Herald office using as much energy and shoe leather as a stamp would have cost.

And then Branning was telling me about a lady who called to have her car fixed. "What make is it?" Branning asked. "I don't know," the lady replied, "but it starts with 'B'." He studied a while and then said to the lady, "I don't know what kind of car it is, for I thought all cars start with gas."

Like I said before, a fellow is never too old to learn. Tuesday I parked beside Charlie Newcomb and with a door open he was busy getting some things out of his car. After waiting for a while I said, "Charlie, you're holding up the wheels of progress." He poked out his head and told me, "Shucks, there's two sides to your car, go around the other way." And, of course, that's what I had to do.

Then Charlie was telling me about a hole in one of the streets in Westover Heights. "Is it dangerous?" I asked. "No," said Charlie, "I saw a hat about level with the pavement and when I went to pick it up, a boy under the hat yelled, 'that's all right, I can get out by myself!'"

A pleasant visitor in The Herald office Tuesday was Chaplain G. H. Wheeler, who was stationed at the Edenton base in 1944-45. It was the first time I've seen him since then and though he knew me, I would not have recognized him. Anyway, it was a pleasant conversation talking about the early days of the base and the fine fellows we met—now scattered all over the country. Chaplain Wheeler was impressed with the changes made in Edenton since he was stationed here and was delighted to see and talk with some of the friends he made while in Edenton. He's scheduled to leave Monday for the Mediterranean.

Iron pipe is now scattered all along Broad Street and in case you don't know, it will be used for installation of a 12-inch water main to give Edenton sufficient pressure, now lacking especially in the northern end of town.

Edenton's official family took the oath of office at Tuesday night's meeting of Town Council. Except for one new member, Raleigh Hollowell, the Board is the same as has been. Of course, there are two new members on the Board of Public Works, Walter M. Wilkins and Sidney Campen, succeeding Dr. J. A. Powell and W. J. Yates, who were not candidates. With Graham Byrum absent at the council table, the Board doesn't seem exactly the same. Graham, except for one term, has occupied a seat ever since I became a member in 1937, so that he will be missed by every member of the re-elected Board. Graham has seen many years of service in behalf of the town, much of which has been directed to parks and playgrounds and, of course, he has had to experience the many headaches in connection with running the town's business. If nobody else does, here's one who wants to pay tribute to Mr. Byrum's lengthy tenure of office and his long service to the town as a Councilman. Incidentally, Tuesday night's meeting was opened by a very appropriate prayer by Town Clerk Ernest J. Ward, Jr. If anybody needs divine guidance, it should be members of Town Council, for it's a big business involving many "stockholders," and is fraught with many perplexing problems which require serious thought and consideration. What could be wrong with imploring divine guidance at every meeting?

Lieut. William Atherton, manager of Edenton's entry in the Albemarle League, dropped in the office just before going to press. He announces a four-game pre-season schedule, with the Edenton team playing Elizabeth City in Edenton Saturday night, May 18, at 7:30 o'clock. The other home game will be Friday night, May 31, when the local team will cross bats with Hertford. Friday night, May 24, Edenton plays at Hertford at 7:30 o'clock and Saturday, May 25, they play in Elizabeth City at 2:30. Atherton says he has 24 recruits for the team, which must be reduced to 20 by June 3, when the season opens. The first home league game will be Tuesday, June 4, with Williamston.

Marines are going to some trouble to celebrate Armed Forces Day for the benefit of civilians. How about dropping out to the Edenton base between 9 A. M., and 3 P. M., Saturday?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

FOR A CLEANER AND QUIETER EDENTON

Dear Editor: Toward a cleaner and more quiet Edenton, I would like to bring to the attention of the Department of Health and Sanitation the merits of a product I recently had the happy experience of purchasing. This is a 20-gallon trash and garbage container, item 870 manufactured under the name of Loma in Fort Worth, Texas. It is made of an almost indestructible heavy gauge plastic with easy lock-on top. A flick of the wrist and the kitchen disposal is dog and small boy proof, tightly sealed against flies, rodents, etc., in a slick interior that can be readily cleaned with a quick rinse from the garden hose. It is acid proof, non-absorbent and noiseless. Incidentally, these containers weigh less than one-half (6 lbs. 10ozs.) the weight of an ordinary trash can (a little over 13 lbs.) and they come in a variety of bright solid colors with black tops. Possibly garbage can be beautiful!

My motive for focusing attention in this direction is that possibly the people of Edenton, when made aware of the pleasant possibilities of painlessly disposing of this omnipresent task, will encourage the local hardware stores to stock this item. Then when the day comes to part with the worn-out metal one, the new polythene cans will be available.

 Mrs. A. L. Feldmeier.

Boyce Commended For Saving Life

In the letter of commendation, Captain Willis had this to say: "For excellent service in the line of his profession while serving with the Elizabeth City Shore Patrol at Nags Head, North Carolina, on August 13, 1956, As Shore Patrol Medical Corpsman HMC Boyce was informed of drowning casualties at Avalon Beach, North Carolina. Proceeding to the scene, he found J. M. Boyette to be in complete respiratory failure, his heart had apparently ceased to beat and he was markedly cyanotic with widely dilated pupils and glazed eyes. He immediately took charge of the resuscitation efforts, employing back pressure arm lift method of artificial respiration, examining the victim as he did so. Despite the complete absence of vital signs, ordinarily diagnostic of death, he persisted patiently and skillfully in his efforts, preserving an adequate airway throughout and administering free flow of oxygen during re-

Missionary Union Will Meet In Edenton

The afternoon session will convene at 1:30 o'clock with the devotional in charge of Mrs. Sanford Bass, county young people's leader. Special music will be presented by Mrs. Henry Napier, and the principal address will be made by the Rev. Lamar Sentell on the subject, "The Great Challenge." Reports of committees will be presented after which the meeting will adjourn.

Firemen At Fire In Washington County

Edenton's Fire Department received an early morning call for help Monday morning, when one of the trucks, shortly after 5 o'clock, raced to Shag White's barbecue stand in Washington County, about 16 miles from Edenton. The fire started in the kitchen, but Mr. White had the presence of mind to close all doors and windows to cut off the oxygen supply, so that damage was held to a minimum. Fire trucks from Roanoke and Plymouth also answered the call for help.
