

Gains Reported In Milk Consumption Per Capita In 1956

Report Is Released By National Dairy Council

Americans drank two more quarts of milk per person in 1956 than the year before and set a new all-time record for these consumption.

A new record was also set for cottage cheese consumption. Ice cream was purchased at a rate nearly double the 1935-39 average. Butter consumption in 1956 dropped a tenth of a pound, but this figure was still second highest of the last five years.

These facts were announced this week by the National Dairy Council with the publication of its annual statistical study, "How Americans Use Their Dairy Foods."

On the production side, milk production in 1956 was 748, pounds of milk for each man, woman and child in the United States. The dairy foods consumed last year processed and manufactured from an average of 699 pounds of milk per person. This left a surplus of 49 pounds per person, one pound per person less than in 1955 and 2 1/2 pounds per person less than the peak surplus of 71 pounds per person in 1953—an improvement of 31 per cent.

How did America produce a record amount in milk with fewer dairy cows on the farms and a larger population to feed? Through greater milk production per cow—6,006 pounds per cow in 1956, the first time that figure has exceeded 6,000.

Price-wise, also, the dairy foods industry has a good story to tell to the homemaker. According to the Dairy Council publication, the average retail price for dairy foods has risen only 8 per cent above the 1947-49 average as against a 12 per cent average rise for all foods.

ROTARIANS QUIZZED

Rotarians at last week's meeting enjoyed a geographical quiz, which was conducted by Gilliam Wood and strangely enough the Rotarians were better acquainted with various places in the world than Mr. Wood expected, with very few of the questions going unanswered.

At the meeting two new members were inducted by John Holmes, the two baby Rotarians being Edward Wozelka and James P. Ricks, Sr.

ABRAHAM, A MAN OF PRAYER
International Sunday School
Lesson For May 19, 1957.

Memory Selection: "Arise, O God, judge the earth; for thou shalt inherit all nations."
—Psalm 82:8.

Lesson Text:
Genesis 18:22-33; 19:29.

Sitting in the door of his tent, under the oaks of Mamre, near the city of Hebron, Abraham saw three strangers approaching. In true

Oriental custom, he ran out to meet them, bowing before them and beseeching them not to pass on until they had refreshed themselves by resting and partaking of food.

When they consented, Abraham received them hospitably, had water brought for their feet and had a sumptuous feast prepared for their enjoyment. In appreciation of this hospitality, Abraham was informed by his guests that Sarah, his wife, should bear him a son.

Overhearing the remark while in the tent, Sarah, knowing that both

GO TO SOME CHURCH EACH SUNDAY

Childhood is a brief span in the bridge of life. Yet it is during the early years that we lay the foundation for all that is to come.

Church School is over, and Eileen and Johnny linger on the church steps, talking about the lessons they've learned this morning. They both are excited because, under their teacher's guidance, the stories of the Bible are beginning to come alive for them.

We're not going to predict a "happy ever after" ending. We're not going to say that having met in Church School, Eileen and Johnny will go on seeing each other in church each week and that ultimately they'll grow up, fall in love, and get married. (Though, who knows? Maybe they will at that!)

But we are saying—and deeply believing—that through Church School these children and thousands upon thousands of other children are receiving religious education, an ever-expanding lesson in good fellowship, wisdom, kindness, and tolerance.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible, daily.
