

BPW Club Sees Film On Polio

With the March of Dimes campaign now in progress, Tom Ridgeway, chairman of the drive, showed a film on polio entitled "Survival is Not Enough", at a dinner meeting of the Edenton Business and Professional Women's Club held Thursday night of last week in the Penelope Barker house.

The film dealt mostly with the rehabilitation of polio victims and their courageous struggle to make their lives as useful as possible. The picture also showed a dire need for more funds with which to continue helping those struck by the malady. Ridgeway stated that of the 214 cases of polio in North Carolina last year, only four had shots. "There is a lot more work to be done yet," he declared, "and I hope you get something out of this film that you'll never forget."

Mrs. Laura Ferguson, president, presided at the meeting and Miss Frances Marshbourne gave the blessing. A delicious chicken dinner followed, served by members of the Health and Safety Committee, with Mrs. Beulah Boswell as chairman.

It was announced that the spring district meeting will be held in Ahoskie in April. The club voted to continue having the district meetings on Sunday instead of Saturday. The club was also asked to submit a name as a candidate for the DSA award. The president thanked all those who in any way helped make the Christmas Parade and Bosses' Night a success.

Mrs. Alice Twiddy reported on the Teenage Christmas dance and announced that plans are for a Valentine dance at the club with a tentative date set for February 15. Mrs. Beulah Boswell reported on hospital duty schedule and gave the members the date they will serve.

It was announced that a band concert will be held at the Elementary School auditorium on Thursday, January 30, with the proceeds going to the March of Dimes.

Outstanding Speakers For Series Of Courses

"Bible" by Georgia Harkness. Mrs. Brown is the holder of various college degrees, including the Ph.D. from the University of Heidelberg. It was pointed out that this course is unrestricted as to age or religious preference.

Another course, which should be of interest and value to many people, is being taught by the Rev. J. L. Joyce, Havelock. Mr. Joyce's course is an "Adult Work in the Church School", and is of special interest to teachers, leaders and workers with adults in the church. Mr. Joyce has been active in the ministry since 1932, having served numerous churches up to 1942 at which time he entered the Army for four years, and served in North Africa and Italy. Since returning from service, he has had four assignments. At the present he is serving the progressive and fast-growing Haylock Methodist Church in the Cherry Point area. Mr. Joyce's course should fill a need for more study and preparation for effective work with adults in the church school.

In addition to these two courses, a course for workers with youth by Mrs. H. R. Odum of Gibson, and Home and Church Cooperating in Children's Work by Mrs. V. E. Queen of Durham, will be available. Both of these leaders are persons of long experience with children and youth and in addition have had extensive formal training in these subjects.

All persons interested in these courses are urged to attend each session and receive credit for the course, which is approved by the Conference Board of Education.
