ENTERPRISE CLUB MEETS
On Thursday afternoon, the Enterprise Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Lester Gilley. The meeting was opened by singing "Fairiest Lord Jesus." This being the first meeting of the year, new year books were given to members present and the hostesses for the year were named.

It was decided to continue efforts in trying to get picnic tables placed along the highway as the project for the year.

Plans were made to have a covered dish supper at the meeting in February, which will be jointly with husbands.

Mrs. George A. Byrum, secretary, gave a reading on "Parliamentary Cues."

Mrs. Lester Gilley, family life leader, gave a reading on the "Ten Commandments To Get Along With People in 1958."

Mrs. Wallace Goodwin gave a very interesting demonstration on "Gadgets Galore", which are labor savers for the homemakers. She explained to the members the usefulness of such items as trays, various uses of aluminum foil, rubberized drainers and storage racks, mats, utensils for the kitchen designed to perform a shortcut in operation and many others.

"It is very important to know the gadget you are buying before you buy it," said Mrs. Goodwin, "because there are some gadgets on the market that are very helpful while others turn out to be just 'clutter.' Anything we buy and don't use is a waste of money no matter how small the cost."

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Gilley.

Graham Speaker At St. Paul's Meeting

"We are on the verge of becoming a great parish," said John W. Graham, Senior Warden of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Sunday evening at a congregational meeting. "Once before in the life of the parish this growth was coming about when history did not treat us so well. Now we have the opportunity in 1958 to see that change really come about."

The Senior Warden pointed out that in spite of a record-breaking Every Member Canvass providing an equally larger budget that the greater responsibilities of the parish are borne by 35% of the congregation. He challenged members of the congregation who had not increased their pledges in the last few years to "lift their sights." "Too many of us are contributing to the work of the church in the same way we were years ago and that is not sufficient in light of the changing conditions today," he said. He further advocated that "if those who are not giving adequately to the church would review their giving, we would have no debt, we could maintain ourselves, and we could launch ahead into a much-needed building program."

The ninety-two members present heard Miss Milly Price, president of the Young Churchmen; Miss Donna Loran for the Church School; Mrs. R. D. Dixon, Sr., president of the Woman's Auxiliary, and R. Graham White, Jr., treasurer, present their reports for the past year.

The congregation approved a record-breaking budget for 1958 and assumed its share of the work of the Diocese of East Carolina.

The Rev. George B. Holmes, rector, reviewed the highlights of the year 1957 and hinted at a few intended undertakings for 1958. "It should be a very important year to us," he said, "if every member will feel a part of the fellowship bringing others to church and attending well themselves."

The meeting was preceded by refreshments served by the young ladies of the Young Churchmen and an opening service of worship with music by Mrs. W. H. Coffield.

Farmers Urged To Give Census Facts

tural programs. The census is required by law, and the state Department of Agriculture and boards of county commissioners are responsible for carrying it out. Mr. Overman explains that the information obtained in the census is held in confidence. It is used only for compiling accurate statistics on land use, crop acreages and livestock numbers.

David S. Weaver, director of the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service, emphasizes that the annual North Carolina Township Farm Census should not be confused with the Federal government's general agricultural census every five years. He said "through the annual North Carolina Farm Census, we have the machinery for obtaining vital statistical data that helps this state on the right road, agriculturally."

Some of the questions farmers will be expected to answer include: Total acreage for each tract over three acres, number of acres from which crops were harvested in 1957, number acres of idle crop land, improved pasture, data on individual crops, cattle, hogs and chickens.

CHOWAN CLUB MEETS

The Chowan Home Demonstration Club met January 13 at 2:30 at the Club House with Mrs. Roland Vaughan presiding. The year books were given out and dues paid. The president stressed club dues and let all the members know how the dues were for something else besides their club books.

The February joint meeting was discussed, which is to be held February 17 at the Club House at 6:30 or 7 o'clock. It will be a covered dish supper, buffet style. It was decided to invite people in the community who are non-members as special guests and 4-H club members. The demonstration will be "Landscaping Projects" for the club is to erect a sign in front of the club house to show what kind of house it is. Then second is to cover the kitchen floor and so some painting, etc. Mrs. R. H. Hollowell gave a report on Parliamentary Procedure, and then reading the Ten Commandments to live by and get along with people in 1958. Motion was made and seconded that club members follow these.

Mrs. C. J. Hollowell gave a demonstration on "Gadgets Galore" in making housekeeping easier.

The hostess, Mrs. Roland Evans, served cookies, sandwiches, cheese crackers and Coca-Colas.

Youth Sunday At Presbyterian Church

Mitchener, Melba Gray, Nancy Jordan, Wayne Baker and Betty Farless. Other young people who will take part in the service are Gene Lane, Charles Cuthrell and Leonard Speer.

The Edenton Presbyterian Church has an ample supply of fine young people, and is happy for this occasion to do them honor. Some 65 teenagers are in regular attendance at the Sunday School. Over half the members of the church are of high-school age and below.

The church holds a girls' meeting every Sunday night under the leadership of Mrs. Carl Barrier, and a Boys' Christian Service Brigade each Tuesday night. Teenage Sunday School classes are taught by Carl Barrier, Mrs. Terry Phillips and Bill Billings.

The public is cordially invited to attend this service and encourage the young people of the church in their Christian service.
