

The Roundup

By WILBORNE HARRELL

Today—All my life I've heard a lot of nonsense about money. Money doesn't bring happiness; money is the root of all evil; you can't take it with you—and on and on. But actually money in modest quantities (not riches) is one of man's most loyal friends. It takes care of hospital bills and medical attention, buys food, lodging and clothing; brings peace of mind and smooths many a bump in the rocky road of life. Get all of the honest money you can. A few extra dollars will never make you unhappy. Yesterday—No Western movie or TV story would be complete without at least one scene of a stagecoach lumbering over the trails. And there might even be a stage holdup, a favorite bit of technique with Western writers. The prototype of the Old West stagecoach had its origin in Europe, found its way to America in the Colonial era, and reached its peak development on the Western plains. The most popular and best stagecoach of the Old West was manufactured in Concord, Massachusetts, and became known as the "concord" coach. The stagecoach provided the best and quickest mode of travel in the West, until finally pushed into second place by the coming of the railroad. Tomorrow—"Next stop the moon" seems to be next on the space program of the United States. A satellite of the earth, the moon is "only" 239,000 miles away, just a hop, skip and a jump as distances are measured in space. But the moon is nearer, much nearer, than Mars or Venus, our nearest planets, and therefore our logical first space objective. The White House has given the green light and the Army's Ballistic Missile Agency at Huntsville, Alabama, will carry out our first moon program. Time is running out, though, and as Werner von Braun has warned, if we don't act quickly Russia "may very well" beat us to the moon.

services. After workers reach 72 years of age, they are entitled to benefit checks regardless of the amount of their earnings. However, in figuring the number of payments due in the year they reach age 72, their total earnings for the whole year may affect the number of payments due prior to the month they reach age 72.

Even if the worker earns over $1200 a year, he may be entitled to some checks for that year and should contact the Norfolk Social Security Office and get more information.

Weekly Devotional Column

By JAMES MACKENZIE

Continuing the thought of last week's column, here are a few rules for successful Bible reading:

1. Read prayerfully. Prayer and the study of God's Word should be inter-related. When we pray, we speak to God; when we read the Bible, God speaks to us. Before you begin to read your Bible, pause for a moment of prayer. Ask God to open his meaning to you, and to reveal His will for your life through the Sacred Page. The message of comfort and challenge in the Bible will mean more if you read with prayer.
2. Read regularly. Sporadic reading of the Scripture profits but little. The Bible is food for our spiritual growth, and food should be taken daily.
3. Read consecutively. Try not to jump around in your Bible reading. Begin at the beginning and continue through to the end.
4. Compare Scripture with Scripture. If you have a center-reference Bible, look up the references. The comments of men on the Word of God profit little; but often one verse of Scripture will cast just the needed light upon another. The best commentary on the Bible is the Bible.
5. Mark your Bible. If some promise, some word of comfort or challenge speaks to your heart, underline it. When you read it again this will help bring it to your attention and you will receive an added blessing.
6. Read with faith. The Bible is God's inerrant Word to you and to me. Accept it as such. Before you read, consider that you are entering the very presence of the Holy God, and are about to hear Him speak. The Bible is a book we dare not read carelessly or flippantly, for it is God's message to us, and it speaks for eternity. Believe it from cover to cover, and read it with reverence and faith.
7. Read it with reference to yourself. Never read with a view only to instructing others (a bad habit that ministers are prone to). Ask yourself, "How does this affect me?"
8. Memorize it. This is important. The psalmist said, "Thy Word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against Thee (Psalm 119:11). Jesus, when tempted, answered Satan with, "It is written . . ." It is good to have the Word of God at the tip of your tongue in times of sorrow and adversity.
9. Read the Bible itself, not books about it. It is not the morning sermon, or the Sunday School quarterly, or your daily devotional guide (important as these are) that is the Word of God to you, but the Bible. Read it!

Sherwood L. Harrell Completes Training

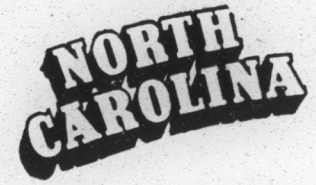

Sherwood L. Harrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Harrell of Route 3, Edenton, graduated from recruit training April 12 at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

The graduation exercises, marking the end of nine weeks of "boot camp", included a full dress parade and review before military officials and civilian dignitaries. In nine weeks of instruction, the "raw recruit" is developed into a Navy Bluejacket, ready for duty with the fleet.

It Does

Pat and Mike were watching some bricklayers at work one day and Pat asked: "Say, Mike, what is it that holds the bricks together?" "Sure," said Mike, "That's aisy. It's the mortar." "Never a bit of it," said Pat. "That kapes them apart."

FACES A CHALLENGING FUTURE

50% of North Carolina industry is located in only 10 counties. Our "businessman" Governor is striving mightily to bring about a better distribution of industry in our future development. Our new tax laws are a first step in this direction—designed to make North Carolina more competitive in its bid for new industry. Already it is paying off in the improved opportunities and standards of living in many areas in our State.

Significant perhaps is another fact . . . in the areas of nearly all North Carolina industrial concentrations, the system of "legal control" of the sale of beer and ale is in effect. This would seem to indicate that an adult, enlightened approach to this matter has been working in the best interests of our most progressive communities.

KNOW YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

P. E. Bettendorf, representative of the Social Security Administration, is in Edenton every Thursday at the North Carolina Employment Security Commission in Citizens Bank Building.

Are you losing social security benefits? Do you know anybody who is? Under old-age and survivors insurance you may be eligible for payments now but you cannot get them unless you apply for them. A considerable number of beneficiaries lose some of the payments they should receive simply because they do not apply for them. The most frequent case is that of the worker over retirement age who is temporarily or permanently laid off. The worker expects to go back to his old job or get a new one and quite often he does return to work. But in some cases he is idle for a month or more. Retirement benefits for the women workers at age 62 and the men at age 65 are payable on a monthly basis under the old-age and survivors' insurance program.

A test of retirement is provided by the Social Security Act to insure that only those older workers who have substantially retired from their jobs will receive old age benefits. The present law permits the payment of benefits to the men and women workers under the age of 72 for every month in the year if they do not earn over $1200; if they earn more than the $1200 some of the checks for that year may not be payable. After reaching age 72, there is no restriction on earnings amounts.

The following chart describes how payments are made and the number of monthly benefits payable for those who earn over $1200:

Annual Earnings	Monthly Benefits Payable
$1,200 or less	12
$1,200-$1,280	11
$1,280.01-$1,360	10
$1,360.01-$1,440	9
$1,440.01-$1,520	8
$1,520.01-$1,600	7
$1,600.01-$1,680	6
$1,680.01-$1,760	5
$1,760.01-$1,840	4
$1,840.01-$1,920	3
$1,920.01-$2,000	2
$2,000.01-$2,080	1
$2,080.01 or more	none

Even though a person works and earns more than $2080.00 in a calendar year, he may still receive a benefit for any month in which he earned less than $80.00 or did not work, or any month in which a self-employed person performs no substantial
