

Center Hill Baptist Christmas Program Presented Tonight

The annual Christmas program will be presented at the Center Hill Baptist Church at Tyner tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 o'clock. This is to be a special music worship program with all the choirs of the church taking part. The Junior and Primary Choirs under the direction of Mrs. Henry Napier will have specially arranged music along with the Youth Choir under the direction of Britton Byrum. The Church Choir, under the direction of the pastor, the Rev. Henry V. Napier, will close the worship program with a special arrangement of "O Holy Night." The combined choirs will present a special arrangement of "Silent Night" as a call to worship and an arrangement by the pastor of "O Little Town of Bethlehem." A special offering will be taken during the program which will go into the annual Lottie Moon Christmas offering of Southern Baptists for foreign missions.

At the close of the worship program the annual Christmas treat given by the church to all members of the Center Hill Baptist Sunday School will be presented. The public is invited to this special worship program of music. Bulletins will be handed out, the art work of which was done by the fourth grade of the Chowan High School, taught by Mrs. C. T. Mansfield. Appreciation of the church is given to that grade for their fine work. Pianist for all music will be Mrs. Wilbur Privott, who is church pianist at Center Hill. Special music was also arranged by the Lorenz Company of Princeton, New Jersey.

Enterprise Club Christmas Party

The Enterprise Home Demonstration Club held its Christmas supper on December 4 at the Advance Community Building with 22 persons present.

The Advance Club women prepared and served a delicious turkey supper which was enjoyed by all. The building was decorated carrying out the Christmas theme.

Miss Maudred Morris, home agent, gave the devotional by reading the Christmas story from the book of Luke, followed by prayer. Miss Morris gave a very interesting program on the origin of four famous Christmas carols. She showed a film of how people were inspired to write the carols and the group sang the carols as they were shown on the screen. The carols were "Silent Night," "Away In A Manger," "O Come All Ye Faithful" and "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

With the exchange of gifts, everyone realized that Christmas is just around the corner.

Chowan County Farmers Join In Overwhelming Voting For Programs In Referendums

"Farmers in Chowan County are to be congratulated for their number of votes cast in the referendum held on Monday," says County Agent C. W. Overman. Some over 200 voters valued their programs enough to face the cold and snow to cast their ballots.

According to H. O. West of the ASC Office, a good vote occurred on each of the four referendums. On the cotton program, 177 votes were cast for and 16 votes cast against. This is 92% for and 8% against cotton allotments. According to the news reports Tuesday morning, North Carolina cotton growers voted 95% for and 5% against cotton allotments, in a tentative report.

On tobacco allotments and marketing quotas, Chowan County growers cast 100 votes for and four against. In the tentative State report, 96% of the votes were for and 4% were against.

On tobacco assessment, Chowan County growers cast 99 votes for and five votes against ten cents per acre. Ninety-four favored, and seven were against an increase up to one dollar per acre. A tentative report showed 86% of the North Carolina votes cast in favor and 14% against the increase assessment.

The peanut assessment referendum also met with overwhelming favor. In Chowan County, 192 votes were cast for and 22 against the two cents per 100 pounds growers' assessment. The tentative report showed that in North Carolina, 97% of the votes favored and 3% were against the assessment.

Edenton And C. Of C. Featured In Issue Of E. S. C. Quarterly

The Edenton Chamber of Commerce and the local community are featured in a special summer-fall issue of the E.S.C. Quarterly, published by the Employment Security Commission of North Carolina. The two-page story headed "Edenton Chamber's Reorganization This Year Promises Bright Future For Community," describes some of the activities and projects which the Chamber has initiated and discusses the general operation of the organization.

Photos of the town's historic buildings, its picturesque creeks and agricultural crops illustrate the article which was prepared by the Chamber of Commerce staff in cooperation with the E.S.C. public information office in Raleigh. The entire issue is devoted to the work of various Chambers of Commerce in the state.

Edenton will also be highlighted in the January issue of the national D.A.R. magazine in cooperation with the local D.A.R. Tea Party Chapter.

If you have no enemies it is a sign fortune has forgotten you. —Ibid.

District Meeting Of March Dimes Held In Edenton Tuesday

A district meeting of March of Dimes workers was held in the new banquet room of the Edenton Restaurant Tuesday night. Tom Ridgeway, Chairman of the Chowan County Chapter, was host and Jack McGee, state director, was present.

Mr. McGee outlined the purpose of the national organization to focus the vast experience and resources of the National Foundation on additional diseases and ailments that cripple millions of adults and children every year. He especially pointed out research to combat arthritis and birth defects.

"With the fight against paralytic polio showing unmistakable signs of becoming a winner," said Mr. McGee, "a broad new program of future attack on disease and disability has been formulated."

Mr. McGee stated that while continuing to aid disabled polio patients, the National Foundation will step up its research in virus diseases and disorders of the central nervous system and will widen its program of education for professional disease fighters.

Two films were presented by Mr. McGee pointing out the effects of polio, birth defects and arthritis, and various methods of raising money for the March of Dimes during January were discussed. A question and answer period was held during which

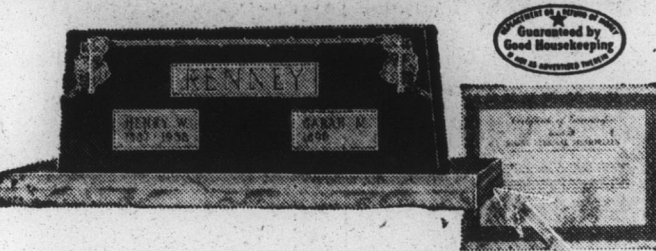

Mr. McGee and Dr. Archie D. Walker, Jr., Edenton's new doctor, answered a number of timely questions.

Landowners Accept Government Offer

that any group of landowners could make application for assistance under this law. Application forms are available at work unit offices of the Soil Conservation Service in each county in the state. He promised that for the present time quick action could be made on applications from groups of landowners. Improvements under the act include flooding, flood prevention, drainage and water management.
