High Dam Construction Begins in December

Construction of the Aswan High Dam, which will be built in two stages over a period of ten years, will get underway in December following the recent approval by the United Arab Republic of final plans proposed by Soviet experts. The Soviet Union contracted to build the first stage in an agreement signed on December 27, 1958.

In order to expedite construction, and bring in heavy equipment, the UAR built a road to the site, an airport, and extended railways to Aswan. Currently, the Government is constructing an entire housing unit for workers and experts.

A major project in President Nasser's economic development program, the High Dam will increase the Egyptian Region's cultivated area by 1,300,000 acres. The new dam will hold 130 billion cubic meters of water—25 times the capacity of the present Aswan Dam.

The High Dam will also enable conversion of 700,000 acres from basin irrigation to perennial irrigation, thereby allowing year round cultivation of this land, and an increase in the harvest yield of food. It is estimated that the yield of presently cultivated land will increase by 20 per cent due to better drainage.

Governor James H. Price of Virginia and eight Virginia visi-tors made an unofficial visit to Edenton and were shown the various historical sites and were guests at a luncheon held at Hotel Joseph Hewes.

John A. Holmes received from the government a final PWA payment of $31,500 for building the new Edenton school audi-torium and making other neces-sary improvements and repairs to the building.

Mrs. W. B. Shepard was ap-pointed a member of the Eden-ton school faculty to succeed Mrs. David Holton, who resigned.

George Capehart severed his connection with M. G. Brown Lumber Company and was re-placed by Ned White, a clerk at Leggett & Davis Drug Store.

Mrs. Lucille Marriner Miller, 64, died suddenly at her home on West Church Street as a re-sult of a heart attack.

'Tis not what man does which exalts him, but what man would do! —Robert Browning.

Accident Facts

How well do you know traffic laws? Are you hep to the finer points of driving? Take this test and find out just how sharp you are.

1. You are driving down the highway at 2 A. M., and come to an intersection with a stop light. The light is flashing red. No cars are in sight. By law you are re-quired to (a) slow down and pro-ceed with caution, (b) come to a full stop and then go on, (c) stay at the same speed.

2. You're on a side street and about to turn onto a main thoroughfare. But first you must (a) come to a full stop and, if it's safe, proceed, (b) slow down be-fore proceeding, (c) blow your horn and proceed if there's no other vehicle within 200 feet of the intersection.

3. The most common factor in auto accidents is (a) mechanical defects of cars, (b) bad weather, (c) unsafe practices by drivers and pedestrians.

4. You're driving at a moderate speed on a slippery road. The rear end of your car starts to skid to the left. No other cars are coming, fortunately. What two things should you do: (a) hit the brakes, (b) keep your foot off the brake pedal, (c) turn the wheel to the right, (d) turn the wheel to the left.

5. When you hear a person talk about "long brakes" you

Answers:

1. (b) Regardless of the time of know he's referring to crakes that (a) must be pushed near the floorboard before they work, (b) have to move only about an inch before they take hold, (c) must be pumped.

2. (a) And in most states, you are also required to stop com-pletely before entering a through street from a driveway or alley.

3. (c) The National Safety Council says the major causes of traffic accidents are "people—not speed or unsafe conditions." In recent years, for example, 6 out of 10 motorists in an accident were charged with violating a traffic law.

4. (b) and (d) The Council says that if your car starts to skid, never jam down on the brakes. Better that you pump the brakes with an up-and-down motion of the foot. And always turn the wheel in the direction of the skid—in this instance, to the left.

5. a) "Long brakes" can cause a lot of trouble when quick stops are needed. And just as danger-ous are brakes that require pumping. The ideal brakes are those that "take" about an inch down.

The event is never in the power of man. —Robert Herrick.
