

Weekly Devotional Column
By JAMES MacKENZIE

Quite a furor has been raised in church circles by the visit of the dictator of communist Russia to our shores. The American and International Councils of Christian Churches have been staging protest rallies along his route of travel, and Roman Catholics are praying for his conversion.

Those who protest his coming do so mainly on moral grounds, citing the Scripture principle that those who claim the name of Christ should not compromise with His avowed enemies. They also point out that an enthusiastic American welcome for this man would be a mortal blow to the hopes and aspirations of captive peoples behind the iron curtain.

Others agree, but feel that we have a Christian obligation to be courteous; and that it is un-Christian to be discourteous to him. With all due respect for their sincerity, I personally believe it is always Christian to protest evil, even at the risk of being discourteous. Khrushchev is nothing if he is not a cynical, heartless, cold-blooded murderer—and he is no more deserving of our hospitality than would be Al Capone (who, I understand, recently visited Edenton).

Further, to negotiate with such persons is a thorough waste of time, as their word cannot be trusted. Why are we so anxious to come to an agreement with them on Berlin, for example—we already have one that dates back some fifteen years. They have never honored that one nor would they honor a new one. The entire problem resolves itself into a simple philosophical truth: all moral values come from God. Those who deny the existence of God have no logical basis for a system of moral standards. Communism is built on the premise that there is no God—Therefore, communism can neither recognize nor be bound by any difference between right and wrong. And the sooner we realize this the better off we'll be.

As for prayers for his conversion—such prayers should be backed up by a positive witness to him. What are we doing along this line? Bishop James Pike of California (Episcopal) invited him to church, but the U. S. Government refused to pass on the invitation. During his recent visit to Russia, our Vice President failed to attend church services on Sunday. Sadly, we are passing up a splendid opportunity to witness to the faith in God upon which our nation is built, and from which it receives its strength. During his visit to Hyde Park, New York, Mrs. Roosevelt showed the Soviet dictator a Bible that had been in her husband's family for years—a Dutch Bible, I believe. Someone asked her if he was impressed, and she answered "I don't think so." If he is not impressed with our Christian faith during his stay in America it will be our own fault.

Aces Prepare To Meet Williamston

Continued from Page 1—Section 1 very tricky and a fast runner, while Bowen and Tice, 6 ft. 2 inches tall, are reported to be excellent pass receivers.

The Green Wave won its first game by defeating Robersonville 7-0. Last week they were defeated in a heartbreaker by Scotland Neck 14-13. It will be their first home game and Coach George Staley is of the opinion his charges will show considerable improvement over the first two games. It is Coach Staley's first year at Williamston, having gone there from Benvenue, the team the Aces defeated 27-13 last year for the regional championship.

The Aces have one player on the injured list, Bud Parker, who was scheduled to start on offense, injured a knee during practice last week and will hardly see action Friday night. Other than that, the Aces were in good physical condition up to Wednesday and are anxious to test their strength against the

Mail Boxes Improved In Ryland Community

The Ryland Community Progress Committee chose improving mail boxes as one of their projects this year. The community members are now busy painting and repairing old boxes and some are buying new boxes.

One short road in the Ryland community has recently begun to have rural mail service. People on this road had formerly been getting their mail at the post office in Ryland. These folks have been putting up new mail boxes with their names on them.

Mrs. Lester Copeland, chairman of the mail box project, and members of the Home Demonstration Club have been selling mail box nameplates and lawn markers. Proceeds from this sale will go toward building a community building which is another project in the community.

Five From Chowan At Chowan College

With the late registration period almost at an end at Chowan College 455 students have been enrolled for the 1959-60 academic year. Last year at the same time, 408 students had registered.

This year's Chowan record-breaking enrollment includes five Chowan County students: Frank W. Fortescue, Tyner; Calvin Lee Foxwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Foxwell, Edenton; Joseph F. Nixon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Nixon, Rolfe 1; Harriett Anne Pearce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Pearce, Route 3, and William G. Welch, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Welch, Tyner.

MRS. PAULINE PHILLIPS DIES AT WILLIAMSBURG

Mrs. Pauline Cheers Phillips of Richmond, Va., died in a Williamsburg, Va., hospital Tuesday after a long illness. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cheers of Edenton and wife of Judge Harry N. Phillips, Jr.

Besides her parents and husband, she is survived by a son, Harry N. Phillips, III, of Richmond and a brother, Thomas Cheers, Jr., an attorney at Kill Devil Hills.

The body was sent to Ziegler's Funeral Home and graveside services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Beaver Hill Cemetery. The Rev. George B. Holmes, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, officiated.

Pallbearers were Thomas Wood, Richard Elliott, J. W. Davis, J. H. Conger, Sr., W. E. Bond, John Graham, Albert Byrum and T. B. Smith.

DREAM COME TRUE—Refugees in Haid, Austria, stare hard at a new refugee housing project erected for 197 families. It was officially opened by August R. Lindt, U.N. high commissioner for refugees.

Washington — Although I opposed the creation of the Commission on Civil Rights, I nevertheless entertained the hope that the Commission would suggest something new and constructive in the field of racial relations. The report which was released by the Commission last week has robbed me of this hope.

Report of the Commission
The report is not a report in any real sense of the term. This is true because the report has many authors who entertain and express differing views. The major portion of the report is written by the staff of the Commission. The other portions of the report are written by individual commissioners or groups of commissioners. The portion of the report written by the staff of the Commission consists of the same old cliches which have been used for years by those who make the advocacy of civil rights legislation and compulsory racial integration a profession.

New Legislation Unnecessary
A study of existing statutes shows that new legislation in this field is wholly unnecessary. Sections 1981 to 1992 of Title 42 of the U. S. Code confer upon all Americans legal and equitable remedies sufficient to enforce all of their civil rights. To be sure, advocates of new legislation in this field do not like these statutes because they require that the rights developing upon each American as a citizen or a man shall "be protected in the ordinary modes by which other men's rights are protected."

The concept of uniform laws is abhorrent to those who would single out certain groups and make them the special favorites of the laws. Section 241 of Title 18 of the U. S. Code provides heavy criminal penalties for those who "conspire to injure, oppress, threaten, or intimidate any citizen in the free exercise or enjoyment of any right or privilege secured to him by the Constitution or laws of the United States, or because of his having exercised the same."

Under these two criminal statutes, the Department of Justice can prosecute in a Federal court any state or local official who willfully subjects any inhabitant of any state, territory, or district, to the deprivation of any rights, privileges or immunities secured or protected by the Constitution or laws of the United States.

Advocates of new legislation in this field do not like these statutes because they would deny to state and local officials legal rights which they are willing to accord to persons charged with murder, smuggling, dope peddling, counterfeiting, and other crimes.

Jaycees Cooperate In Youth Fitness Week

Youth Fitness Week, sponsored by the Edenton Junior Chamber of Commerce is being observed this week.

The aims of the observance is to support the objectives of the President's Council on Youth Fitness; to recognize outstanding sports performance through awards and publicity as a means of encouraging increased participation in sports; to initiate greater recognition of leadership in sports; to promote fitness through the basic rules of good health: Rest, clean living, exercise and proper diet; to encourage increased participation by Americans in all sports, and in other group and individual activity and recreation; to assist and cooperate with other groups interested in improving the fitness of our nation.

Caswell Edmundson is chairman of the observance in Edenton.
