

KNOW YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

F. E. Beitzendorf, representative of the Social Security Administration, is in Edenton every Thursday at the North Carolina Employment Security Commission in Citizens Bank Building.

If you are one of the 120 million people who have a social security card, hang on to it. Your social security insurance may be worth as much as $50,000 to you and your family. The Social Security Act now provides protection to the worker and his family if he dies, retires, or becomes unable to work because of a disability.

If you have worked under social security long enough, and if you retire, monthly cash benefits are payable to you when you attain retirement age (65 for men, 62 for women). Cash benefits may also be payable to the retired worker's wife at age 62, children under age 18, disabled adult children (who were disabled before age 18), wife, regardless of age, with a child entitled to benefits in her care.

If you die, monthly cash benefits may be payable to the following survivors: Widow, age 62, children under age 18 (includes stepchild and legally adopted child), disabled adult child, widow under 62 (if she has a child in her care entitled to child's benefits), dependent parent or parents (mother 62, father 65). In addition, a lump-sum death payment is payable when the insured worker dies.

If you become unable to work because of a total and lasting disability, and if you have credit for 5 years of work under social security out of the 10 years before you are disabled, you can have your social security earnings record frozen from the time your disability begins.

If you meet the above disability requirements and you are between 50 and 65 years of age, you can also get monthly cash benefits for yourself and your dependents just the same as a regular retired worker and his dependents would receive.

Social Security Pays—But Not Automatically

If an eligible person does not file application for benefits, none will be paid.

If it appears that you might qualify for payment under one of the categories listed above, contact your nearest social security office now for assistance in completing the proper application.

If you delay, you may lose some benefits.

ings were extended by the Council President, Mrs. Mable Jordan, who also presided. Summary of Achievements was given by the Council Secretary, Mrs. Pattie Payton. Remarks from our County Agriculture Agent, Mr. Lassiter and I presented the Achievement Certificates.

Community Sing Is Held At Rocky Hock

On Tuesday night, October 27, the Gum Pond community held a community sing at the old Rocky Hock school. The whole community turned out for an evening of fun and fellowship together. Mrs. Florine Nixon gave the devotional, using the 100th Psalm. C. W. Overman led in prayer. Mrs. Florine Nixon welcomed the visitors and explained that this sing was being held in conjunction with the community progress contest. Community socials was one of the projects chosen for this contest.

Mr. Overman led the group in singing several hymns as well as other songs. Several special selections were sung by the Rocky Hock quartet consisting of Melvin Harrell, Jack Evans, Carroll Evans and Charlie Peele.

The Girls' Chorus of Rocky Hock also rendered several selections. These girls are Miss Esther Layton, Miss Becky Harrell, Miss Loretta Bunch and Miss Mary Alice Perry. The highlight of the evening was the little Halloween song sung by Miss Emily Bass, Miss Charlotte Nixon and Miss Susan Harrell. After much singing refreshments were served to all there and the evening closed with everyone singing, "Sing Your Way Home."

Miracle Tricks With Colorful Accessories

Accessories act as wonderful miracle tools for color performances in your wardrobe. They can change a lifeless, drab outfit into a Cinderella product right before your eyes.

According to Miss Mary Em Lee, clothing specialist for the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service, colorful belts, collars, flowers, bags, and costume jewelry act as wonderful 'pick-me-ups' for wardrobe morale. Everytime a new accessory is bought, whether it be as important as shoes or insignificant as a flower, make sure it can be made a close relative in the family of your clothes. The trick is to choose accessories deliberately and with knowledge.

If the main part of your suit is of greyed colors, a bright belt or scarf may be added. When the basic color is light, accent it with bright or dark accessories.

Miss Lee says your chief interest should be finding colors suitable to you. Experimentation is your best teacher. Sit before a good mirror and bright light and analyze yourself—your skin, hair, and eyes. Study your features and decide on those you want to emphasize.

Color is always fashion news and you want to study seasonal colors. Use your good judgment and select only those that are most becoming.

"To select colors with beauty, harmony and correctness takes consideration and planning and with energy and time spent you will see miracles performed that you never thought possible," says Miss Lee.

Pi Chapter Meets At Carolinian Hotel

Pi Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society-International, held its annual luncheon meeting at The Carolinian Hotel, Nags Head, on October 24, at which time the chapter members of Dare County were hostesses to the group.

Guest speaker was David Stick who was introduced by Mrs. Mary L. Evans. Mr. Stick, known as Dare's adopted son, has greatly highlighted the Outer Banks and Dare's coast, by intense research and his capsule history stories of those areas. His best known and truly fascinating stories, "Graveyard of The Atlantic" and "Outer Banks of N. C.," will soon be followed by "Carolina Hurricanes," which is now in the stage of research and writing.

Prior to the one o'clock lunchcon, which was held in the hotel's Dogwood Room, Miss Minnie Hollowell gave a most informative briefing on highlights from the Northwest Regional Conference, which she attended at Glacier National Park in June.

President Carolyn Brinkley announced committees for the coming year and urged a full attendance at Hertford's luncheon meeting on December 12.

Miss Mary E. York of Alpha Chapter, Greensboro, was a guest at the meeting.

The Chapter regrets the possible transfer of two of its members, who have left the Albemarle counties area.

District Winner—Enriched Corn Meal Activity

Mary Rebecca Owens ranked first place in the Northeastern District in the Junior 4-H Enriched Corn Meal Activity. Results were obtained from scores of muffins entered at the State Fair and the record of work of the 4-H Club member.

The contest on the Corn Meal Enrichment Activity was launched in our county in April with 36 junior 4-H Club girls entering. Mary attended all training meetings, did the required work and was judged first place in the "Bake Off." She was then eligible to enter the District Contest. It is hoped a large number of girls will enter and complete the Enriched Corn Meal Activity in 1960.

We were fortunate to have our District Agent, Mrs. Frances W. Corbett as our guest speaker at the Annual Achievement Program on October 27th. Mrs. Corbett spoke on "The Changes That Are Affecting Our Family Living Pattern Today." She emphasized that the basic goals change little, but the greatest changes are that—"Change of the times" brings on confusion; brings about a period of adjustment; attitudes have to cope with and the family must accept the challenge if we are to keep up and progress. Changes of the times are brought on by such things as better transportation, communication facilities, rising education level, longer life span, women working away from home and more leisure time. It was an interesting and informative message.

The Principal, W. H. Creecy, gave words of welcome. Great-
