Philip Jethro was best man for his brother. Ushers were Dallas Lee Jethro, Jr., and Julian Jethro, also brothers. Mrs. Charlotte Umphlett and Mrs. Thelma Davenport were mistresses of the ceremony. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Skinner wore a dress of gold silk organza, brown accessories and a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of Dior blue, black accessories and a corsage of pink chrysanthemums.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained at a reception at their home. Mrs. Hoyle Umphlett and Mrs. Antoine Davenport greeted the guests and presented them to the receiving line.

Mrs. Ned Nixon and Mrs. Irvin Nixon poured coffee and Mrs. Willie Jessup and Mrs. T. B. Smith assisted at the table. Others assisting were Miss Juanita Jethro and Miss Mary Wilson Nixon.

Miss Mary Lynn Pate registered the guests and goodbyes were said by Irvin Nixon and Ned Nixon.

For their wedding trip to the mountains of Virginia, the bride changed to a blue knit suit, black accessories and the orchid from her prayer book. Upon their return they will make their home in Edenton.

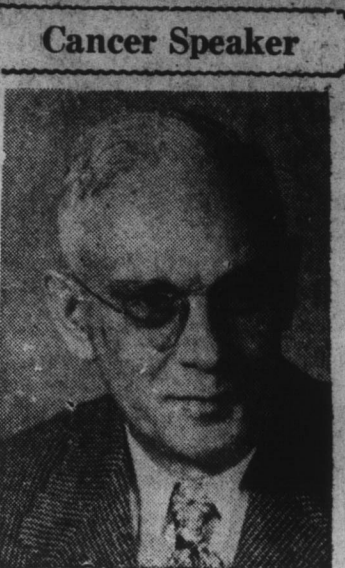

Out of town guests attending included: Mr. and Mrs. Poy Preston, Norfolk; Mrs. Robert Albertson, Portsmouth; Miss Mary Lynn Pate, Williamston; Mrs. Jack Futrell, Conway; Tommy Bullock, Farmville; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Outlaw, Corapeake; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bragg, Plymouth, and the Rev. and Mrs. Dick Otterway, Greenville.

Mrs. Ned Nixon, Mrs. Irvin Nixon and Mrs. Hoyle Umphlett entertained Friday night honoring the engaged couple. The rehearsal party was held at the church parish where a pink and white motif was used in the decorations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal wedding gown of peau taffeta styled with a sweetheart neckline outlined with lace appliques, and long taffeta sleeves. The full princess skirt was accented with lace appliques and ended with a wide chapel train. Her fingertip veil of Brussel lace and imported illusion was arranged from a plateau bonnet of lace re-embroidered with seed pearls. She carried her confirmation prayer book topped with an orchid and streamers.

Miss Sallie Skinner was maid of honor for her sister. She wore a rose velvet street length dress fashioned with scoop neckline and princess front and fullness in the back. She wore a matching headband with brief veil and carried a bouquet of Fall flowers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Myrna Skinner of Edenton and Miss Lois Ann Hurdie. They wore dresses identical to that of the honor attendant, in Jamestown manship under the U. S. Army's Trainfire program which enables the modern soldier to become a better rifleman in less time than previous methods. In this program, most of his training consists of firing his rifle at pop-up targets at various unknown distances on terrain which duplicates combat areas. Other highlights of his intensive training include squad tactics, bayonet and hand-to-hand combat, and crawling the infiltration course while actual machine gun fire is popping overhead. Many of his instructors are combat veterans of World War II and the Korean War.

As a climax to this first phase of training, he will march with his battalion in a review before the commanding general of Fort Jackson. This ceremony is witnessed by relatives and friends of the trainees who attend the "open house" held by each company on graduation day.

RECORD SOYBEAN CROP

Based on condition and probable yield reports from growers, soybean production in North Carolina as of October 1 is forecast at a record 12,079 bushels. This estimate is down slightly from the September 1 forecast. The expected production, if realized, would be 26 percent above the 1959 production of 9,592,000 bushels and more than double the 10-year average.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

And what is marriage without trust in one another's integrity? To conform to this world is a sin both against ourselves and against others. It is a violation of personal integrity and a betrayal of trust.

We now move on to the other alternative of our memory verse. Paul's appeal is that we should be not conformed but transformed. To put it briefly, he is saying, "Be a God-directed person." Then in the twelfth chapter of Romans he gives us wise and clear direction for accomplishing this. "Be transformed," Paul writes. This is the same word used of Jesus when his face shone as he spoke with Moses and Elijah. This is an inward experience, not of our own making, but given us by the glory of God. It comes by a renewal of mind. One must see things from God's point of view and think of them as Jesus would think. A renewed mind likens us to God's mind, and to the mind of Christ.

And Paul goes on to indicate the life which a Christian whose mind is renewed should live. He owes it to himself to take a humble view of himself, to acknowledge his need of the Christian brotherhood and practice his religion with enthusiasm. He owes to others a complete and God-directed love. Especially upon those hostile to him he is never to revenge himself. He owes to the state his obedience to its officials and all laws and the payment of taxes. And, finally, upon those who disagree with him in matters of conscience he is not to pass judgment, but welcome them in Christ.

The true will of God is found within each individual as he is willing to become completely submissive to the revelation of God, as he sees God's will in the life and teachings of Jesus. God's will, difficult though it may be to find, costly though it may be to follow, points the way to inner wholeness and social health. All we have to do, to get started on our 'transfiguration' is to ask ourselves: how can I best use my talents and resources as a fellow work with God? How can I best minister to the deeper needs of my community? Once started, it will be surprising how quickly the answers will present themselves!

Pontiac announces the Trophy V-8 Engine

NEW PRECISION AND ECONOMY IN THE ENGINE ROOM OF THE '61 PONTIAC!

A completely new fuel induction system gives this new free-breathing V-8 more air... to save you gas. Closer calibration of this big 389-cubic-inch engine gives you maximum thrust at half-throttle without over-carbureting. We made the engine lighter, mounted it lower for better balance. An oil refill now takes only 4 quarts. Tailor your Pontiac power plant to your needs. There are 11 versions to choose from. Horsepowers range from 215 to 348. (For best economy, specify the Trophy Economy V-8. Its lower compression lets you use regular gas.) If this sounds a bit technical, just try a new Trophy engine soon. It's in all four Pontiac series. In one block, it will become clear why we've called this '61... all Pontiac!
