MR. AND MRS. DONALD MYLES FAIRCLOTH (Ricks Photo)

Following a wedding trip to the mountains of North Carolina, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Myles Faircloth will reside at 821 Cabarrus Street, Edenton.

The bride is the former Miss Janet Faye Hendrix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Hendrix of Tyner. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Faircloth of Edenton.

The marriage took place Sunday, October 8 in Ballard's Bridge Baptist Church at four o'clock in the afternoon. The Rev. Carl Hart, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony in a setting of lighted cathedral candles, palms, ferns and baskets of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and pom-poms.

Mrs. Walter Hollowell of Hobbsville, pianist, played the wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Miss Becki Harrell, a former classmate of the bride. Selections were "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," "Entreat Me Not To Leave Thee," and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Robert Hendrix, an aunt of the bride, was mistress of ceremonies.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional wedding gown of white peau de taffeta and re-embroidered Alencon lace. Her basque bodice was designed with an oval scalloped neckline applied in lace with tiny covered buttons down the back, and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. The entire princess panel front was shadowed in lace. The skirt was accented with a tailored fabric bow and clusters of unpressed pleats which swept gracefully into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion, outlined with lace medallions, was arranged from a lace bonnet shaped crown, etched in seed pearls. The bride carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and showered with satin streamers and Stephanotis.

Mrs. Jesse Bass, aunt of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Johnny Mack Hendrix, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Betty Gay Morris of Tyner; Miss Sharlie Faircloth, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Loretta Bunch both of Edenton.

The attendants were gowned alike in antique gold peau de soie dresses with full skirts, designed with brief sleeves, scooped necklines, and sashes that crossed in front and tied in a bow in the center back. They wore headdresses of matching tulle shirred around a gold crown. They carried cascades of bronze chrysanthemums, accented with autumn leaves, natural wheat, and clusters of grapes.

Little Miss Jill Hendrix, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dainty white peau de soie dress fashioned like that of the bridesmaids. She wore a matching headpiece. She carried a small white basket of gold rose petals. Master Randy Hendrix, brother of the bride, dressed in dark attire was ringbearer.

The bridegroom's father was his best man. Groomsman were Johnny Mack Hendrix, brother of the bride, and Hughes Bunch, Jr., both of Tyner; Jesse Bass of Hobbsville and Bryant Griffin of Edenton.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of emerald green satin, styled with a fabric rose accentuated side drape and matching accessories. She wore a green symbidium orchid corsage.

The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of mauve lace over taffeta with matching accessories. Her corsage was of pink cymbidium orchids.

For her wedding trip, the bride traveled in a forest green wool suit with matching feather hat and amber alligator-lizard accessories. She wore the white orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.

operation of all Agricultural Agencies in Small Watershed Projects". N. C. Wildlife Commission will have an exhibit on wildlife practices in watersheds. The USDA national exhibit on small watersheds will be on the dedication and groundbreak site.

The Edenton Chamber of Commerce, County Commissioners, and the Town of Edenton are sponsoring this event along with the Albemarle Soil Conservation.

Plans are for banners to be flying and a hardy-welcome given everybody. The Edenton Woman's Club will add the colonial touch to activities. They will be dressed in their colonial dresses and conduct historical tours for those who desire. Several historical homes will be opened to the visitors. Tours of both watersheds are planned immediately after the dedication address by Donald A. Williams, National Administrator of the Soil Conservation Service about 3:30 P. M.

The film "Ye Towne on Queen Anne Creek" will be shown at 5 P. M., in the John A. Holmes High School auditorium.

A special event is the 2nd Marine Aircraft Wing Band from Cherry Point Marine Air Station which will give a band concert beginning at 1:30 P. M., at the dedication and groundbreaking site on L. C. Bunch's farm.

Sandwiches and refreshments will be available on the grounds by the people of Enterprise Community which is located in the Pollock Swamp Watershed.

"This is your official invitation to attend this special Soil and Water Conservation event," says James Griffin, work unit conservationist, "and learn firsthand about the small watershed program. Come early and stay long."

Words are but empty thanks. —Colley Cibber.

Farm Facts

Every now and then a farmer runs across a bull or steer that is so mean he feels like shooting him. Some farmers do—with a tranquilizer dart that tames the unruly animal. It thus protects both man and beast.

The dart is a plastic syringe encased in metal and loaded with nicotine. It's fired from a special air rifle that loads like a single-shot shotgun and is powered by a compressed air cartridge.

Farmers, ranchers, zoo keepers, veterinarians, and big-game hunters use the rifle. They can fire it from as far as 75 yards away and score an effective hit, but best results are obtained from a distance of about 25 yards.

When the dart strikes the animal, a small compressed air cartridge is activated and the nicotine is injected into the bloodstream. In a few minutes the bull will stagger and then drop to the ground, paralyzed. Then the farmer can administer medicine that the animal may need.

The treatment is relatively painless for the animal. It appears to suffer little, either from the dart or from the dose of nicotine. Within an hour's time, the bull will be grazing contentedly as if nothing had happened, and science will have helped the farmer solve another knotty problem.

Defense Planning Key To Survival

seph Hewes Hotel in Edenton.

At the present a survey is being made in Chowan County of buildings which could be used as possible fallout shelters. Using the present shielding properties of existing structures for protection against radiation, several buildings have been found which with a little work could serve as emergency shelters.

If anyone should know of a building which offers protection, please contact the civil defense office. We must make plans if we are to survive. We must consider the threat! Only by well laid plans will we be able to strike back.

History is full of examples where men with little hope have fought on. The frozen men at Valley Forge, the starved and beaten soldiers at Corregidor, the tortured masses in Nazi concentration camps. They never gave up the fight to live and if our country should become involved in another war, I believe man will again confirm the facts of history by proving his desire to survive.

We must make our plans now before the attack. When we read of the possibility of bombs dropped upon our cities with a five mile wide fire ball as hot as the sun with clouds of radiation.

I am taking this means to express my sincere thanks and appreciation for the many deeds of kindness and prayers in my behalf while I recently was a patient in Chowan Hospital. I especially am grateful for the consideration and attention on the part of hospital personnel. Thank you, each one.
