Development Group In Awards Program

Elizabeth City came up short (on the minimum number of out-going passengers per day required by the Civil Aeronautics Board) an effort would be made to try to move the service to Edenton rather than lose it from the area altogether.

He said the Williamston-Plymouth area would be particularly interested in air services from Edenton but Pasquotank County representatives said they feel Elizabeth City customers will drive to Norfolk to board planes rather than to Edenton. J. E. Foreman said many are already driving to Norfolk because there are so many more flights from there.

George Lewis of Edenton, chairman of the AADA's community development division reported there are 49 organized communities in the 10-county area and that 16 more expected to begin community improvement projects by May 1.

He said his division is ready to secure area sponsors for the annual awards and promised details in about a week.

Lewis said the area has 28 organized white communities and expects 10 more by the May 1 area competition deadline. There are 21 organized Negro communities with six more expected in April.

The committee accepted the resignation of Mrs. Lucille Winslow of Hertford and Nags Head as chairman of the Travel and Recreation Division. Mrs. Carrie Earnhardt of Edenton was chosen to succeed her.

Mrs. Winslow's letter pointed out that her beach property sustained heavy losses in the March 7 storm and said she resigned on her doctor's advice.

President William C. Glidewell, Jr., of Elizabeth City announced finance committee appointments as follows: Richard S. Atkinson, Jr. of Edenton, chairman; Mrs. Ann E. Davenport of Columbia, Austin T. Hurlburt of Gates County, R. L. Hollowell of Hertford, J. E. (Ed) Ferrel of Camden and secretary-treasurer H. R. Linkous of Elizabeth City, ex-officio member.

The full board of directors will meet in late April in Elizabeth City at a date to be set.

April Is Cancer Crusade Month

The enactment of the National Cancer Institute Act, and the launching of the American Cancer Society's first intensive nationwide public education program.

Cancer Progress Year serves to dramatize the notable progress in cancer control in the past twenty-five years, evidenced by the fact that in 1962 more than 1,100,000 Americans are alive and well five years after cancer, while in 1937 the figure stood at 160,000.

To speed the final victory over cancer, the American Cancer Society must intensify its efforts to bring life-saving facts to the public, to improve the care of the cancer patient, and to accelerate its research program.

"Therefore," says Governor Terry Sanford, "I am happy to designate April as CANCER CONTROL MONTH IN NORTH CAROLINA and to urge all citizens to give increased support of the American Cancer Society and to learn the facts about cancer that are vital to personal protection from this disease."

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By G. SAMUEL COX, Work Unit Conservationist

T. R. Kirby in the Burnt Mill Creek Watershed over in Perquimans County seeded both fescue grass and lespedeza in his wheat last year. Mr. Kirby harvested 46 bushels of wheat per acre in the spring of 1961. He later cut all of his fescue and lespedeza for hay except 1.1 acre which he left to harvest lespedeza seed from. 824 lbs. of clean lespedeza seed were harvested from or the equivalent of 840 lbs. per acre. Based on 1 acre Mr. Kirby got 46 bushels of wheat and 840 lbs. of clean lespedeza seed per acre. He also got a lot of grazing from the wheat in the early spring and then some grazing from the lespedeza and fescue in the summer. The fescue has been providing a lot of grazing ever since he had a lespedeza seed combined. Plus all of the grazing he had been getting from the lespedeza and the fescue, Mr. Kirby says that he made more money per acre from the wheat and the lespedeza than he made on his peanuts this past year. He is sold on it enough himself that he has put in 8 acres this fall instead of the 4 acres that he put in last fall. It is an excellent soil conserving cropping system and at the same time it is a money making system, too.

This system is part of Mr.

Kirby's soil and water conservation farm plan for his farm which he developed, with assistance from the Soil Conservation Service through his local soil and water conservation district which is the Albemarle Soil and Water Conservation District.

Preston Monds and Herbert Earl Wilson have just been approved by the Chowan County Board of District Supervisors as new cooperators with the district. All this means is that they have made application to the district for assistance in planning and carrying out a complete conservation farm plan for their farms and that this application has been approved by the supervisors. The supervisors for the Chowan Unit are: Lloyd C. Bunch, H. Fahey Byrum, and J. A. Webb, Jr.

The Pollock Swamp location and design survey that is now being made on the Pollock Swamp Watershed is scheduled to be completed some time around the middle of April. When this survey is completed it will provide all of the necessary information needed for a complete design and the information needed to prepare the construction contract. This is another step almost completed that we have to take before we can start moving dirt.

BIG BULLY-DOZER—What looks like a fight between two mechanical monsters actually is the result of a freak accident. The small bulldozer was being used to help weight down the larger as it tried to lift its block-long boom. The boom was too heavy, and the weight lifted the cab off the ground, with the little one trailing behind in Dallas.

RYLAND CLUB MEETS

The Ryland Senior 4-H Club meeting was held Monday night with Lester Ray Copeland. The meeting was called to order by Miss Catherine Aman then singing "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and Pauline Byrum read the Scripture. All prayed the Lord's Prayer in unison. The roll was called with 13 members answering to their name.

Two motions were made and passed. First, that the club get song books and game books for the club. Second, if the club got any chance to raise money for the club, it would accept it. The meeting was then dismissed. Devil's food cake, cookies, mints and lemonade was served.

Grover Sutton sold his interest in the Sutton & Barrow Betting Company to John L. Goodwin. Mr. Sutton and T. B. Barrow began the partnership 11 years before.

Stephen Stoner pays his monthly electric bill at his own rural electric office.

Stephen Stoner doesn't have his hand in your pocket!

The alarmists are misinformed who say you're subsidizing users of rural electric power, like this Illinois farmer. They confuse Rural Electrification Administration loans, which finance rural electrics, with government aid or ownership. Actually, Mr. Stoner's monthly bill covers far more than the actual cost of his electric service. It includes interest, taxes, and repayment of principal on REA loans.

Multiply Stephen Stoner's case by 4 3/4 million other consumers, served by nearly 1,000 rural electrics and you have dollars-and-cents proof that owner-users pay the cost of rural electrification. Already, they've repaid $1 1/2 billion in principal and interest on loans of $3 3/4 billion.

Economists give much of the credit for the sky-rocketing productivity of sparsely-settled rural America to local electric systems which brought light and power to people who could get it by no other means. But we, as rural power pioneers, take just as much pride in the fact that we've always paid our own way.
