

Negro Home Demonstration News

By Miss ONNIE S. CHARLTON, County Negro Home Economics Agent

Last week seven 4-H'ers attended the Thirty-Second Annual 4-H Club Week at A. and T. College, Greensboro, N. C.

On arriving we each were extended this welcome from the District 4-H Club Agents, Mrs. Gwendolyn H. Blount and William C. Cooper.

"This is a celebration. One hundred years ago, President Lincoln approved through the Senate and House of Representatives a Department of Agriculture, and the Morrill Act, which created the national system of land-grant universities and colleges.

"Thus, the Department's Centennial observance will, as President Kennedy requested, commemorate the contributions of agriculture to the health and welfare of every citizen to the national well-being, and to the development of emerging nations."

"Each of us has a tremendous responsibility and challenge to contribute to the making of the next hundred years more meaningful—because each of us here, being 4-H'ers will make the best better."

Classes at 4-H Club Week were on "The Land Grant College and You—In Research; In Education; In Production; and In Marketing."

Two demonstration teams and one individual demonstrator from Chowan County were in competition for State honors. The boys peanut demonstration team, composed of James Taylor and David Felton, were awarded first place in the State. The girls vegetable preparation team, composed of Doris Littlejohn and Harriett Coston, ranked second in the State. Also ranking second was Carl Coston in the vegetable production demonstration division.

Jean Hall, district first place winner in the talent contest presented her oration Thursday night. The talent program was not competitive on the State level.

Marjorie Harris attended 4-H Club Week. You remember she ranked second in the district with her dairy foods demonstration.

Shopping For Milk

With so many forms of milk on the market, reading the labels on bottles or other containers is well worthwhile. These are the common forms of milk on the retail market:

Pasteurized Whole Milk—This milk contains 3.6 percent butterfat and is fresh fluid whole milk.

Homogenized Milk—The fat globules of pasteurized whole milk have been broken up and spread through the liquid so they will not rise to the top as cream. Most homogenized milk has 400 International Units of Vitamin D added to each quart.

Skim Milk—Contains less than one percent butterfat. Some skim milks are fortified with non-fat milk; have the same food value as whole milk with the exception of the fat and Vitamin A.

Chocolate Flavored Milk—Regular milk with chocolate added.

Chocolate Flavored Milk Drink—Chocolate syrup is added to skim milk. Sometimes vanilla, salt and a stabilizer are also added to keep the beverage well mixed.

Buttermilk—This is a form of fermented milk. It is now produced with bacterial cultures from pasteurized skim or partially skimmed milk. The butterfat is less than 1 percent.

Evaporated Milk—is made from homogenized whole milk. Over half the water in the fluid milk is removed in the evaporating process. The milk is sealed in cans and sterilized by heat. All evaporated milk on the retail market has Vitamin D added. With an equal amount of water added, evaporated milk can be used like any other fluid milk. It is sold in 6 ounce and 14 1/2 ounce cans for home use.

Non-Fat Milk is Economical—

Non-fat dry milk is manufactured by removing nearly all of the fat and water from fresh milk. With water added, it makes reconstituted fluid skim milk. In fluid or dry form it can be used in many ways. It has advantages in cheapness and keeping quality. Non-fat dry milk is sold in packages ranging from .64 ounces to 2 pounds, making from 2 to 10 quarts of fluid skim milk. Also on the market are packages containing envelopes of 3.2 ounces of non-fat dry milk. When reconstituted, each envelope makes a quart of fluid skim milk.

le "To Hell and Back". It's today's feature at the Taylor, and a darned good 'un, too.

Other Notes: At WCDJ we're still in the process of fixin' up. Many improvements have been made, still more on the way. Our studios will look better inside and out; the equipment will be the most modern; the sound will be suitable to every taste.

Response to our "Pop Show" program has been phenomenal. We've been getting cards and calls from every county in our general area.

I don't know if you can refer to it as spring fever, now that the season is no longer with us, or if you can call it summer fever, but whatever it is, I've got it.

Channel 9 this week has been and will continue to televise some important moments from the Billy Graham Crusade in Chicago. Also, Billy Graham's "Hour of Decision" is heard every Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock over WCDJ.

We have a host of volunteers to take over the Saturday morning "Teentime" program. If you're interested, gimme a call and I'll give you a show. The first teener was Sandra Harrell. She was on last Saturday and was so good she'll endorse on the job this Saturday morning, too.

Closing Thought: I have been

Frankly Speaking

Movie Notes: Actress-singer Joan O'Brien's hobby is collecting Valentine cards. Started when she was six and now has amassed more than a thousand different varieties from all over the world.

Pat Boone, who doesn't drink, came up with a prize drunk scene in the motion picture, "State Fair".

John Lupton, who portrays a clown in "The Clown and the Kid", did spend one summer as a real clown in a carnival.

If you can keep up with this, here goes: Lars Schmidt, Ingrid Bergman's real-life husband, had a bit role in her movie, "Goodbye Again." He gave the bride away in the movie. The bride? His wife. It was the sequence in which Miss Bergman marries Yves Montand.

Fess Parker's hobby is flying. He's become an expert pilot and has received a private license for both single and multi-plane crafts.

In the movie "Lawless Breed," both Rock Hudson and co-star Julia Adams run the age gamut, from about 14 to 45.

A total of 50,000 rounds of ammunition was used in Audie Murphy's auto-biographical movdriven many times to my knees by the overwhelming conviction that I had nowhere else to go. My own wisdom, and that of all about me, seemed insufficient for the day.

Chairman Byrum, after hearing a lengthy discussion of the street lighting plan prepared by lighting engineers, appointed Jesse L. Harrell to meet with the Town Council at their next meeting and explain to them the Board's thoughts and ideas on this subject. (It is estimated that the street lighting recommended would cost in excess of $25,000 and therefore not be undertaken at present. It is further suggested that the E & W Dept. be consulted before any additional street lights are approved in order that we plan the installation on a sensible and orderly basis.) Warren Twiddy appeared before the Board to bring it up to date on activities on the Town of Edenton-U. S. Lumber Company site at the former Marine Corps Air Station. There being no further business the meeting was adjourned. RALPH E. PARRISH, Secretary.

A Dollar Invested In Blue Cross And Blue Shield

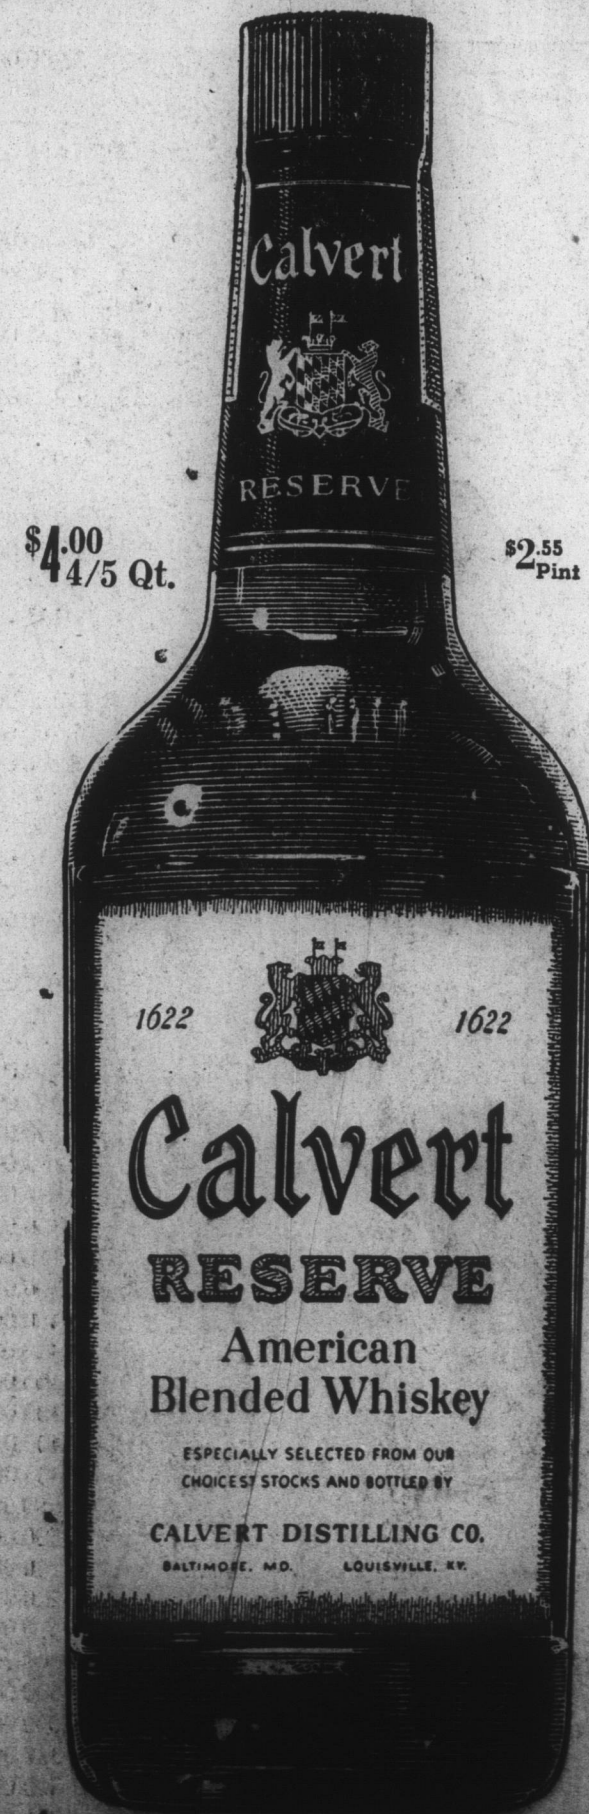

may be the wisest investment you will ever make. One hospital claim may save you more dollars than you will invest in dues in a lifetime. This is the basic principle of Blue Cross—a hospital service plan that does not stop at a certain dollar limit but pays for the hospital services actually needed. Blue Shield is a companion plan for Surgical and Medical benefits. Both group and nongroup plans are available. Call or write today for details.
