SENATOR Sam Ervin SAYS

Washington — The Senate has approved the President's request for stand-by authority to call up 150,000 military reservists if he deems it necessary. The Senate acted with war-time speed to strengthen the President in dealing with the serious international situation confronting the nation. Russia has had the effrontery to tell the United States that the Monroe Doctrine is dead. The Communist military buildup in Cuba constitutes the most direct security threat to this Hemisphere in the 20th century. Several years ago when Cuba started receiving arms from Russia, the United States ought to have told Russia that this was a clear violation of the Monroe Doctrine. Our nation should have demanded at that time that Russia stop shipping arms to Cuba.

Mankind has spent a large part of its time and energy and given of its blood and treasure in fighting wars. The United States has taken part in three major wars in the span of half a century. Our nation has appropriated more than $932 billion for national defense for World War II, the Korean War, and the cold war, 1947-1961. America must be prepared to continue her national security arsenals for the foreseeable future. Twice in this century following world wars, we let our army practically disband in the expectation that the world was going to be at peace. History records tragically that the Kaiser and Hitler began wars when they were convinced that the Western Powers had become soft and would not stand firm against aggression.

There are no easy or speedy solutions to the international crises which we face. In my judgment, however, it is essential for us to manifest our resoluteness to defend ourselves. I do not think that you strengthen your position or make peace more secure by appearing to appease aggressors. I think that we must endeavor always to convince Russia that the United States fully intends to protect the security of this Hemisphere and that no aggressor nation shall be permitted to violate that security.

Congressional Calendar—As of September 14, of sixteen major appropriation bills to be acted on at this session, six had been cleared for Presidential action, four others had passed the Senate and House but awaited conference action to iron out differences, and six remained to be acted on by the Senate. On that date the Senate had yet to act on appropriations for Foreign Aid, Public Works, the Peace Corps, the Atomic Energy Commission, the District of Columbia, and the Departments of State, Justice, Commerce, and the Judiciary.

This week the House is scheduled to take up the Foreign Aid appropriations bill, and the Senate may begin debate on the Trade bill which is being "marked up" by the Senate Finance Committee at the time this column is written. Both bills may cause lengthy debate in the Senate. This year, Congress has been requested to appropriate $4.7 billion for new Foreign Aid commitments. I have advocated for many sessions that Congress adopt a more sensible and prudent approach on Foreign Aid appropriations. Economic troubles, diminishing U. S. gold reserves, and the ineffectiveness of many foreign aid programs justify again this year a hard look at this appropriation bill. Even long time supporters of these programs are conceding that a substantial cut will be made in these funds this time. Whether that will happen or not is uncertain, but Congressional speeches are voicing more and more dissatisfaction with the accomplishments of current foreign aid programs. All the evidence indicates that they should.

Changes Made In Fishing Regulations

Continued from Page 1 Section 1 re-writing commercial fisheries regulations relating to closed seasons on commercial fish and, also, the use of nets in Chowan River and Albemarle Sound. The present regulations are being rewritten and rearranged in order that they may be more understandable and that existing confusion may be eliminated.

There will be no closed season on herring or rock, but from May 5 until June 30 will be a closed season on shad. The existing regulation prohibiting the use of gill nets in Chowan River below the northern tip of Holiday Island from March 1 to September 1 and above the northern tip of Holiday Island from April 25 to September 1 will be repealed.

At present, the regulations prohibit the use of any net within 300 yards of the Eden House bridge. The revised regulations will prohibit the use of nets within 300 yards of the bridge except on or over privately owned bottom. The question of permitting gill nets to be set perpendicular to the shore line, and the question of permitting the use of three-inch gill nets in all of Chowan River will be discussed with Wildlife Resources Commission and reconsidered at a later date.

The officers of Chowan River Fishermen's Association feel that the proposed changes in commercial fisheries regulations will be welcomed by the many Chowan River and Albemarle Sound fishermen.

KADESH REVIVAL WILL BEGIN SUNDAY, SEPT. 24
A revival will begin at Kadesh A.M.E. Zion Church Sunday, September 24, through the 28th. The Rev. R. A. Williams of Washington, D. C., will be the speaker for the week. He will be accompanied by a team of five gospel singers. The public is invited to attend.
