Ruth Carolyn Forehand Weds Thomas Bunch

The marriage of Miss Ruth Carolyn Forehand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin S. Forehand to Thomas Harold Bunch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Bunch, Jr., of Suffolk, took place Sunday afternoon, August 19, at 4 o'clock in the Eureka Baptist Church.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. John D. Hemingway, pastor of the church, in a setting of palm standards of Camedor and arrangements of white glads and mums and lighted cathedral candles.

The program of nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. L. Frank Rountree, organist, and Mrs. John D. Hemingway sang "Because," "O Perfect Love" and "Nuptial Benediction." Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown designed by her grandmother, Mrs. J. F. Perry of Edenton. It was made of white silk organza and Alencon lace over pou-de-soie. The basque lace body featured a portrait neck line embroidered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The long sleeves ended in points over the hands and fastened with five tiny self covered buttons.

The body came to a point in the back and closed with tiny self covered buttons. The full skirt was accented in the front with a wide panel of Alencon lace applied in the white silk organza over skirt which extended all the way down to the floor and ended in a chapel train beneath an abi back sash of the lace. Her veil of imported illusion fell from a matching lace pill box crown embroidered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. Her white prayer book was also covered with Alencon lace and topped with a white orchid with a purple throat and showered with staphanotis. Her ornament was a string of pearls, given by the bridegroom.

Miss Melva Forehand, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of green organza organdy fashioned with oval neckline and short sleeves and full skirt and picture hat and carried a cascade of yellow chrysanthemums and tied with yellow ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Anne Hare and Mrs. Kenneth Bunch. They wore yellow dresses like that of the maid of honor and picture hats and carried a cascade of bronze chrysanthemums tied with bronze ribbon.

Derwood Bunch, the bridegroom's brother, was best man.
