

Employment Office Joins In Employ The Handicapped Week

Mayor Mitchener Issues Proclamation In Behalf of Local Observance

Manager William A. Hollar of the local Employment Security office announces that he and his staff have joined the state-wide campaign to promote the "National Employ the Handicapped Week" in North Carolina.

According to Hollar, the first week in October of each year is designated by the President as a time of special emphasis on the employment needs of handicapped workers. The week is authorized by Congress, he said, and Governor Sanford has announced official observance of the October 7-13, 1962, hire-the-handicapped program in North Carolina.

Explaining that approximately 5% of job applicants through the local employment service are handicapped, Manager Hollar pointed out that when placed in the proper job the rehabilitated handicapped worker has just as good a safety record as his co-workers. "In addition, absenteeism is less, and in a lot of instances his work production is higher.

"I hope employers in the Edenton area will give serious consideration to the skills of our handicapped workers," Hollar added. "I think it's a good, sound personnel policy.

Hollar urged all employers to contact the employment office for information on placement of handicapped workers.

In connection with the observance of National Employ the Handicapped Week, Mayor John Mitchener issued a proclamation calling upon the people of Edenton to join in observing the week. "I also call upon the public officials, as well as leaders in industry, labor and civic groups to make every effort to enlist public support for a sustained program aimed at the employment and full use of the capacities of all physically handicapped workers in Edenton," said Mayor Mitchener.

Edenton's Jaycettes Will Meet Tonight

The Edenton Jaycettes will meet tonight (Thursday) at 8 o'clock in the Barker House, Mrs. Ethel LaVoie, president, urges all members to be present.

The Jaycettes are sponsoring a booth at the Chowan County Fair this week, selling an assortment of baked goods. This is the first project of the Jaycettes, so the girls are looking forward to a sell-out each evening.

United In Marriage In Plymouth

MRS. MARVIN EARL ASHLEY

Beautiful in its impressive simplicity was the wedding of Miss Sylvia Jean Tetterton of Plymouth to Marvin Earl Ashley of Edenton on Sunday afternoon, September 30th, at 4 o'clock in Plymouth.

The nuptial vows were spoken on the veranda of the home where an improvised bridal setting was formed with a wrought iron filigree arch of white entwined with maiden hair fern and festooned with clusters of miniature mums and glads tied with white satin ribbons.

As guests arrived to the east lawn, Miss Kathy Tetterton, cousin of the bride, softly played a program of nuptial music on the piano, while during the ceremony Mrs. Oliver Lucas sang "Whither Thou Goest" followed by "The Wedding Prayer" as the bride and bridegroom knelt on the kneeling bench of satin.

The Rev. Paul B. Nickens performed the ceremony using the double ring service.

The bride, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Ronald Tetterton, wore a wedding gown of white tissue file, accentuated with a bodice of chantilly lace pointed in the back fastened with self covered buttons, bracelet length sleeves pointed towards the hand, scalloped neckline embroidered with seed pearls. Her wedding cap was fashioned of matching Chantilly lace with a scalloped front over the face also embroidered with pearls and from this cap a finger tip veil of imported illusion was caught. Her bridal bouquet was white orchids, roses and stephanotis of cascade design. An only ornament was a single strand of pearls.

Acting as maid of honor was Miss Carolyn Stallings of Edenton, beautifully gowned in a dress of white satin with overskirt of silk organza caught at the waist with shirred red cum-berbun. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses.

Bridesmaids included Misses Myrtle Corey, Patsy Holliday, Robin Horner and Priscilla Everett, all of whom were dressed in white satin frocks with silk organza over-skirts. Each wore cumberbuns of winter green satin and circular veils with bandeaus of green satin roses and their flowers were cascade bouquets of red roses.

Little Miss Tammy Oriday was flower girl, wearing a replica of the bridesmaids' dress and she strew red rose petals from a dainty lace basket. She was accompanied by Master Maurice Bunch, nephew of the bridegroom, acting as ring bearer.

Ushers included Wayne Ashley, brother of the bridegroom of Edenton; Gilbert Tetterton, brother of the bride, Jack Horner and Fred Britton of Edenton. Earl Ashley acted as his son's best man.

Mrs. John Coltrain, Jr., of Williamston, aunt of the bride, acted as mistress of ceremony.

The grandmother of the bride chose for the wedding a Copen blue lace with feathered bangleau to match for her hair and she wore a corsage of white carnations. The bride's mother was becomingly dressed in an imported brocade beige and brown dress with a smartly feathered hat of brown and brown accessories. Her corsage was brown orchids with beige ribbons. The bridegroom's mother wore a two-piece costume suit of marine blue with hat to match and a corsage of white cymbidium orchids.

Following a reception in the home, the bride changed to a two-piece beige suit trimmed in mink with brown accessories, and she lifted the orchid from her bouquet as her corsage.

The bride was graduated from Plymouth High School in the class of 1962 and entered Greenville College immediately where she took the summer course.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Earl Ashley of Edenton. He is graduated from Edenton High School and his profession is modern farming.

Following a wedding trip through the mountains of Eastern North Carolina, the couple will be at home in Edenton.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in the home by the bride's parents with Mrs. H. B. Johnson receiving guests at the main entrance Holiday and Myrtle Corey on Saturday evening at the home of Miss Holliday.

Concluding the series of social functions given Miss Tetterton was the Coke hour given by Misses Robin Horner and Friscilla Everett, two other bridesmaids, at the home of Miss Horner.
