

BROAD STREET BULLETIN

By KATE

Each season has its smell and feel—spring with the freshness and expectancy, summer with its warmth and fulfillment, and now fall with its tinge of coolness and preparedness for the long winter days ahead. There's a haze, now, in the air and a definite touch of sadness—to me—a time when leaves fall, flowers and vegetables die and spring seems so far away again. Perhaps I resent the passing of time—when one is happy, it would be nice for time to stand still.

CONGRATULATIONS to Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Marriner—who recently celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary. Somehow, in these times, such examples of long marital happiness are unusual and certainly an inspiration. Some couples are not fortunate to be able to be together for so long a time and several million don't want to stay together that long. Mr. and Mrs. Marriner, may you have many more years of being TOGETHER!

What a wonderful surprise we had this past week-end. When we arrived home from a very nice fishing trip up Pembroke Creek, we found we had company—my oldest son who travels for UNIVAC, which keeps him far away most of the time. His brother came home, too—so we really had a reunion. I've found that when boys leave home, they never return again for long periods. My friends who have daughters tell me that they are closer to home most always. Anyhow, it was nice to have my two boys with me for a short time.

Band Conducts First Rehearsal

On Tuesday, August 20, the band of John A. Holmes High School held its first rehearsal of the season. Despite the inclement weather, attendance was quite good, and during the first part of the rehearsal plans were outlined for management of the current magazine campaign.

The band was divided into two groups and a captain elected for each: Judy Byrum, for the first; David Ward, the second. Plans for precision drill practice were postponed because of rain, and the rehearsal was spent in beginning the always tedious task of betting back into shape.

For the next two weeks, rehearsals will be held each evening, Monday through Friday, from 6 until 7 o'clock. All band members are urged to attend.

Bell Battery Chapter of United Daughters of the Confederacy, which disbanded here several years ago? Mrs. George P. Byrum has had quite a few inquiries of visitors in Edenton asking about these records. Anyone having this information, please contact Mrs. Byrum.

CONGRATULATIONS to Mrs. Irma Allbrook in her new quarters for her beauty salon. The new room, which has recently been built, adjoins her home on Albania Street. It is quite attractive, the color scheme being red, white and gold—making a very cheerful place to go and relax while having your hair done.

It's nice when people tell me they read this column. Mrs. D. C. Lewis (Swindell) of Greensboro, whom I met recently, gave me a handy hint for the kitchen. She keeps a pair of eyebrow tweezers handy all the time to reach hard-to-get places, such as getting small pieces of bread from the toaster, etc. Certainly is a good tip. Someone else told me a few days ago that she keeps a small sponge handy to use to wash dishes, when there are just a few of them. Just squirt a small amount of liquid soap on the sponge, then hold the dishes under the hot running water. This is good for odds and ends of in-between-meal dishes.

A quick way to make applesauce: Wash apples in several waters. Quarter, cut out bruised spots and simmer until well done. Run through a sieve, add sugar and cinnamon to taste.

Had a little more to write this week, but got behind somehow and the "boss" said it must be now or not at all.
