Miss Gail Hare Takes Part In College Play

Miss Gail Hare, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hare, Route 3, Edenton, played the part of Catherine Lynch in the production of Tad Mose's play "All the Way Home," an adaptation of James Agee's Pulitzer Prize novel "A Death In The Family," produced by the Drama Workshop of Warren Wilson College, Swannanoa, N. C., under the supervision of David Hempleman, director.

Miss Hare is a graduate of John A. Holmes High School, Class of 1962.

Warren Wilson College is owned and operated by the Board of National Missions, United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A.

Chap's Grill Now In New Location

Arthur Chappell this week moved his grill and billiard parlor to 204 South Broad Street. His new location is in the Taylor Building next to Phthisic's Super Market, where a clothing store was formerly operated by Blair Gibson.

Mr. Chappell has occupied the building next to the bus station for nearly three years and in his new location he says he can better serve light lunches and sandwiches and drinks of all kinds. His billiard parlor is in the rear of the building, separated from the grill.
