

Rocky Hock Section News

By Mrs. T. W. Allred
Happenings from last week—too late to report for deadline. About two dozen Intermediates, with their sponsors (Mr. Allred and Mrs. Kermit Perry—don't know if any of the rest of the group got there or not) had a hamburger cook-out at the Rocky Hock Community Building on Thursday evening. With recreation following, that didn't leave much time for one counselor to get to his "next appointment" that same night—the Brotherhood Planning Committee meeting with Charlie Peele. Friday night was another one of those "Rocky Hock family nights" at Chowan ball park. I hear tell that an "old timers" game was played that night which was quite interesting. We are going to have to send a photographer out there to get some "candid" shots! Some folks just wouldn't believe it.

Several of the Rocky Hock folks have had surgery, major and minor, this past week. Mrs. Bertha Layton is still a patient at Norfolk General (at this writing) and as far as we know the other patients have returned home. Mrs. O. C. Long stayed overnight in Chowan Hospital Thursday night and had some minor surgery. Irvin Bunch also underwent an operation earlier in the week and as far as we know, he is improving nicely. Little Mike Evans is facing some surgery, too, we understand, if he has not had it this week before the news comes out. We certainly hope this "rash" of operations is not going to continue.

Bob Harrell returned home "from six weeks program at Camp Cale" on Friday. Another assignment is coming up later in the month when he assists on the faculty at Ridgecrest for recreational week.

Sunbeam day camps for World Friends (third grade Sunbeams) in the Chowan Association will be going on Monday, August 10, Wednesday, August 12 and Friday, August 14 at Camp Cale under the direction of Mrs. Robert Harrell, the Sunbeam director for the Association. Assisting on Wednesday will be Annie Ruth Nixon and myself from Rocky Hock Church. Other women of the county will be helping on the two other days.

A good number of folks have been attending the revival at Center Hill, conducted by their new pastor, David Harris. One Rocky Hock comment was that "he reminds me a great deal of Billy Graham, both in his actions and his messages." The special music on Tuesday evening last week was brought by the Chowan Sextette, composed of two Center Hill girls plus four of Rocky Hock, these being Margaret Tynch, Glenda Bunch, Brenda Bunch and Linda Forehand. They certainly sang lovely and we will look forward to hearing them during the Rocky Hock revival (beginning Sunday morning, August 30, and ending on Friday evening, September 4, with the Rev. Jack Wilder of Greensboro doing the preaching).

Ruth Leary is visiting—guess this is vacation time. We're sure she and Emily have enjoyed being home at the same time for a change. Heard along the way recently: "I just don't believe there are enough folks anywhere to eat all the watermelons shipped out of Rocky Hock this past two weeks." Earl Smith's store and Murray Tynch's place both looked like Grand Central Station several times during the rush time, with eight and ten trucks waiting to be loaded at once!

This week was circle meetings plus GA, RA and Sunbeams meeting. The Prayer Hour this week was designated Brotherhood and WMU night, prayer for revival time. Next Wednesday night will be designated Sunday School and Training Union night prayer for revival. Adult choir members need to be faithful in attendance for these two or three weeks before revival time. Sunday morning was an ideal "worship" morning, but a good many families decided it was a good day for family recreation, too. We missed you! The James Bunch family (composed of about 140 members if all had been there) had a delightful get-together and family reunion in the shady pine grove at the home of Lorene and Lewis Bunch on Sunday. Kinfolks meeting kinfolks—and cousins kissing babies they hadn't seen in a while, and the children having the time of their life in that good play area. About 75 or 80 were present, including the pastor's family, to share the food and fun.

Two reminders for all those women who did not get to attend the WMS meeting last week . . . County Scholarship dues are supposed to be turned in THIS MONTH to Mrs. Willie Saunders (at 50c per member per circle) . . . This evens things up a bit if your circle has been giving the same amount as one that has three times your enrollment. Rocky Hock's proportion (if it is unchanged from last year) is something over $50 so that means the 116 members each giving 50c per person will leave a bit in the WMU treasurer's hands. The other reminder is that all this month will be used to gather up good used clear summer clothing (of all sizes and for all ages) to be sent to the Sides family for their use with the extremely needy people on the island where Mr. Sides is based with the Navy. These items of clothing may be carried to the church, where a large box will be kept to receive them. Mrs. Rodney Harrell, community missions chairman, reminds all the women that though this is not COMMUNITY MISSIONS, it is nevertheless a needy missions project that all of us can share in. For those who might not have been present for the WMS program, which entered around English speaking churches overseas, we used portions of letters that have come from the Sides family telling how difficult the work of Evangelicals is on the island. The missionary of the church where they are members, Rev. Thurman, told them recently that the Government tried to deport him when he first went to the island to witness as a Baptist. For months they have tried to secure clear title from the Government for the land which they have already purchased on which to build a little church building as soon as they can do so. The red tape that keeps coming up makes them all wonder if they will ever get permission to build. This is just another indication of how "minority groups" are dealt with around the world . . . and here the Baptists and the white people are definitely the minority. The part of the letter that prompted the gathering of clothing by the Rocky Hock women was Mrs. Sides telling of a family of "dirty, ragged, some naked children" . . . rummaging in her garbage can searching for food! She said that she told them they would have to stop that . . . so she began to feed them peanut butter and bread . . . as long as the jar held out" . . . and Mr. Sides began bringing home lolly pops and other things for them. Day after day they come and Mrs. Sides says there are many just like these who cannot depend on the older ones in the family for very much help, since there is so little work on the island and food prices are so very high . . . what little there of it! . . . When we hear of poverty like this, we know that we have all had "too much" all our lives, in comparison to most of the world's people . . . If you'd like to share in this project, make your "clothes search" as soon as possible so we can get these things off without too much delay.

Several families of our church were saddened by the death of Carey Privott early Sunday morning. We extend our sympathy to all of the family and friends of Mr. Privott.

All you Juniors listen out for word of that "homemade ice cream supper in the next week or so . . . We wouldn't want you to miss it!

Pictures Of Moon Now Being Shown At Planetarium

Morehead Planetarium Director A. F. Jenzano has announced that the Planetarium at Chapel Hill is displaying a collection of slides of pictures of the Moon taken by the spaceship Ranger 7. Through direct contact with the Audio-Visual Department of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Washington, the pictures were quickly made available for public display considerably sooner than they will be in most other communities.

Ranger 7 took off from Cape Kennedy, Florida, at about midday Tuesday, July 28, and crash-landed on the Moon early in the morning of Friday, July 31, having traveled almost a quarter of a million miles through space. Six television cameras in the spaceship started taking pictures of the Moon's surface at the point where the range of the largest telescope on Earth ends. From that point on, until the spaceship crashed, the six cameras transmitted about 4,300 pictures of the Moon.

The result: whereas man, with his most powerful telescope, previously had been able to discern craters on the Moon no smaller than a quarter of a mile in diameter, he can now see craters as small as three feet in diameter.

Ranger 7 pictures have been incorporated into the Planetarium's summer science spectacular, "Spaceship To The Moon". A representative sample of the pictures is also on display in the Planetarium building.

Performances of "Spaceship To

The Moon" are given week days at 3 and 8:30 P. M.; Saturdays at 11 A. M., 3, 4, and 8:30 P. M.; and Sundays at 2, 3, 4 and 8:30 P. M.

Free, NASA Spacemobile lecture-demonstrations will be given through August 21 following each Planetarium program; except those followed immediately by another program.

Most Mothers Of First Child Is Less Than 20 Years Old

One out of every four mothers bearing a first child is less than 20 years old.

A startling statistic? Yes. But not nearly as startling, says Dr. Evelyn Spindler, Extension Nutritionist in the U. S. Department of Agriculture as the fact that about half the teenage girls in some essential nutrients. This makes them ill-equipped for motherhood.

According to Dr. Icie G. Macy, an expert in child nutrition, babies born to undernourished teenagers may be premature, have congenital defects, or lack adequate nutritional stores to protect them through birth and the first days and months of life.

Because the teenager's own body is still in the formative stage, the young mother bears an added strain during pregnancy. She must feed two children—herself and her baby.

At this time a good, well-balanced diet is essential, Dr. Spindler says. The mother-to-be should eat 2 or more servings of lean meat, poultry or fish each day, 4 cups of milk, and 4 or more servings of vegetables and fruits, bread and crumbs.

During the second half of the pregnancy, she should add another egg, an extra pound of fruits or tomatoes, and 3/4 pound of dark-green or deep-yellow vegetables to her diet each week.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Thomas E. Jernigan, who passed away 11 years ago in August: Little did we know when evening shadows were falling, What sorrow the night would bring— The end was sudden; the shock severe, To part with one we loved so dear. He went away without farewell, He said goodbye to none. His loving smile will smile no more; His hands will toil no more; His work on earth was done. Sadly missed by his wife and children.
