A LIFT FOR TODAY

You have not chosen me; I have chosen you.—John 15:16.

Life is a choice upon which the future depends. The most important of all is to choose Jesus Christ as our personal Saviour.

God, give us vision and wisdom to accept new opportunities for service to Thee.

Chowan On Band Wagon

A production control program for flue-cured tobacco will continue for at least three years as a result of the December 15 referendum.

At the same time, farmers approved cotton quotas for 1965 and voted to assess themselves for promotion of peanuts and flue-cured tobacco.

What this means is that the economy of North Carolina will not be affected by over-production of the primary money crop—flue-cured tobacco. Too, the assessment will insure an aggressive promotion of the use of tobacco in foreign countries.

Voting on all proposals in the referendum ran about 98 per cent in favor of them all. A two-thirds majority was needed but a heavy favorable vote was sought in North Carolina to offset some attitudes in other states where the impact of flue-cured tobacco in particular is not such a factor on the overall economy.

The peanut vote means that growers will assess themselves two cents per 100 pounds of peanuts sold to support the N. C. Peanut Growers Association. This is a professional organization designed to promote the use of peanuts as well as crop research. One of the things this group has done is come up with a new variety of peanuts. Also, they have sold airline companies on the idea of serving peanuts on flights.

The impact of flue-cured tobacco on North Carolina's economy is great. Whether or not the use of tobacco to smoke is a health hazard is not the question to be answered. That will probably never be resolved. Nonetheless, while they argue at the corner store and in the courts, we need not have an economic slump due to over-production.

The proposals in the referendum were clear. They were well discussed throughout the area by Farm Bureau and other farm leaders.

It is obvious that they were not alarmists. They gave the farmers the facts and the rural folk reacted accordingly. And they took the only logical road—dusty as it sometimes may seem.

On Wrong Side Of Fence

Out on the West Coast they have a left-wing New Yorker trying to run the big University of California. About the only success this young punk has enjoyed thus far is national publicity.

The TV cameras have been grinding away out in Berkeley since Mario Savio, a 22-year-old philosophy major, started a Free Speech Movement to protest a university rule.

Newscasters on a national scale are making much to do over Savio's protest of a policy prohibiting the solicitation of funds and recruitment of volunteers on the campus for off-campus activities. What they haven't said too much about is that Savio has been able to muster up only 3 per cent of the student body of 27,500 for his cause and a group of nonstudent agitators.

The thing that is alarming to us is that a majority of the faculty, about 8-to-1, favor Savio's protest.

It is about time Savio, who tried two other colleges before heading west, and faculty members in sympathy with him, moved over to make room for those more concerned with things relative to getting an education.

You could put the whole lot together and still not have a sufficient number to have a really successful party raid.

Music And You

Good music, like good painting or good writing, is always rewarding if it is understood. That is not to say that everyone will like all good music, but practically everyone will like some form of good music, once he is educated to enjoy it and exposed to it.

And "good" music is not just opera. Much popular music is good and it does not have to be highbrow-longhair stuff to be good.

Most of us underestimate the power of music. Music can soothe the mind and soul. It can afford relaxation when almost nothing else can.

Music has power that is often unlearned. And in the United States, the way parents insist that their children study music and learn to play at least one musical instrument.

Countless hours of listening and playing pleasure could be theirs, if they were only taught what exists in the world of music and how to appreciate it.

Good examples of good music were reflected in the recent Choral Society concert, the concert presented by the John A. Holmes Music Department Sunday afternoon. Good music will also be heard at the Christmas programs to be presented by the various churches.

Heard & Seen

"By Buff"

Christmas greeting cards are already arriving and one of my first was from DeWitt Cooper of Richmond, Indiana. "Coop" some years ago stopped over in Edenton on an extended trip covering the eastern part of the United States and fell in love with Edenton so much so that he subscribed and still does subscribe to The Herald so that he can keep up with what is going on. That he is a thorough reader of the paper is reflected in his note in the Christmas card. Said Coop: "I think Mrs. Buflap should be permitted to have her picture at the head of her column in The Herald, as her column is as interesting as yours. That is about the only way I will get to see her unless I run down there again some time." Then a note to the Missus reads: "The above ought to hold him for a while. If you would refuse to go fishing with him until you get the picture cut made, you wouldn't have to wait very long." Anyway, it was very nice to hear from an Indiana Hoosier who thinks Edenton is a wonderful place.

And speaking about Christmas cards, an unusual one arrived at home Wednesday morning. It was addressed to our dog "Spike", and while I have not had time to read it to him, it came from a friend or foe in Elizabeth City.

Christmas parties seem to be the order of the day with so many scheduled that it is hard to keep track of them all. Those that have been held and those still to be held were and will be very pleasant affairs. However, here's betting a good stogie that none will have more and better food than was served at the Scottish Rite Club party Friday night down at Kermit Layton's Sandy Point Beach. Wives of members prepared the meal, which included good old country ham, turkey and about a dozen other good things to go with it. Maybe I spoke too soon, though, for the Byrd Home Demonstration Club held a Christmas party Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Mattie Speight to which husbands were invited. Of course, this writing is several hours before the party, but I've been to those affairs before and there's always the best kinds of food on hand and so much of it that a fellow hardly knows when to quit.

Members of the Center Hill-Cross Roads Fire Department plan to hold a turkey shoot Saturday, December 19, from 1 to 9 P. M. Might be a good way to get a turkey for Christmas. The ladies will be selling hot coffee and sandwiches while the shooters are testing their aim.

As stated before, the Edenton street Christmas decorations are very attractive this year. And to add to the attractiveness is a large tree at the foot of Broad Street. It might be a good idea to give a prize to the person guessing how many colored lights adorn the tree—there's a lot of 'em.

The Herald crew has been very much rushed the past week or so, and will have their hands full the first part of next week. Due to the Christmas holidays, we will print the last section of the paper Tuesday in order to get a day or two extra time off for the holidays. So, because of printing a day earlier, it will be necessary to have advertising and newsarticles in the office a day earlier. Monday will be the deadline—but we can't handle everything on Monday. Let us have your news as early as possible.

Anybody want some extra exercise over the holidays? Jim Kinton says the John A. Holmes High School gymnasium will be open during the holidays for those who don't get enough exercise working or running around with Christmas shopping, etc.

Free parking areas have been provided back of the P&Q Super Market, Edenton Furniture Company, Belk-Tyler's and back of Hotel Joseph Hewes. These parking areas are sometimes filled to capacity and despite the extra space for parking cars, just try to get a parking place on Broad Street during busy business hours. It's hard to figure where all the cars come from.

Edenton Acelets Still Undeclared

Claim Long End of Score In Three Contests Played

The Edenton Acelets remained undefeated in three games, winning two games in the past week on their home court. The Acelets were very un-ladylike to the Williamston girls on Tuesday night of last week, whipping them soundly 42-17. Every member of the team played and eight of them added figures to the scoreboard.

The Acelets led 28-11 at the half and held Williamston scoreless during the third period. Sharp-shooting sophomore Linda Hollowell was the high scorer with 12 points. Miriam Willis scored 11. Brenda Stallings 9. Arlene Fry 3, Ann Harrell 3. Sanfra Ange 2, Brenda Cuthrell 1 and Helen Rogerson 1. Becky Williford and Anna Perry were defensive standouts.

The Acelets kept their record spotless by defeating Bertie 30-23. The game was pretty even until the third period, when the Acelets added 7 points and the Bertie girls were held to one. The Edenton girls hit on 66% of their free throws; the forwards missed only 2 out of 16.

Miriam Willis kept up her steady output with 9 points to lead the team. Sanfra Ange and Linda Hollowell scored 8 and Brenda Stallings had 5.

The Acelets will meet the Plymouth girls here next Friday night.

C. Of C. Endorses Library Building

Continued from Page 1, Section 1 was one of several area citizens in New York recently discussing the proposed Hall of Fame with a nationally-known fund raising concern, reported to the board on this conference. He said a pre-campaign survey will be made by the New York firm shortly after January 1.

Robinson reported on preliminary action by the Town Council directed towards establishment of an Airport Commission to operate and maintain the Edenton Municipal Airport. He said such a commission would render valuable service to the community.

The treasurer's report showed that $11,200 had been paid towards a $14,000 goal for the Chamber this year. Robinson noted that this is running about $2,000 more than at the same time last year.

The board, with Elmore presiding, met at the Hotel Joseph Hewes.

Holidays For City And County Offices

Municipal and county offices will be closed for Christmas holidays from 5 P. M., December 23 until 9 A. M., December 28.

This announcement was made this week by Mrs. Bertha Bunch, register of deeds and secretary to the County Commissioners, and William B. Gardner, town administrator.

This holiday schedule for municipal and county employees has been arranged by officials of the two units in order to give people employed in public offices an ample Yule holiday.

Eastern Star Party Monday, Dec. 21st

Edenton Chapter No. 302, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold its annual Christmas party Monday night, December 21. The party will begin following a brief business session of the chapter which begins at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Grace Byrum, worthy matron, is very anxious for all members to attend.

Order is power.

Police Providing Escort To Bank

Service Offered Due To Unusually Large Deposits

Edenton Police Department is expanding its escort service during the holidays.

Police Chief James H. Griffin said during the holiday shopping season merchants will have unusually large deposits. Therefore, if they desire a police escort to the bank—day or night—they can call the Police Department.

Chief Griffin said a local policeman will always be available to assist Edenton merchants in any way possible, not only during the holiday shopping rush, but any time during the year.

Also, the chief cautioned merchants to keep a keen eye out for shoplifters. Thus far there have been no arrests for shoplifting, but if merchants are lax the looters will take items from the stores.

Shoplifters are known to flourish during the holiday season when the stores are crowded. Earlier in the season a film on the subject was shown to local merchants.

Special Services At St. Paul's Church

A festival of service of lessons and carols will be presented at Saint Paul's Episcopal Church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

The traditional service of lessons from Genesis, Micah, and the Gospels tells the story of the coming of Christ. Readers from real life as chorists, acolytes, students, laymen, lay-readers, vestrymen participate.

The Saint Paul's Handbell Choir and the Junior Choir will perform this year in assisting the Senior Choir. "Once in Royal David's City," "Rosemary" and "Silent Night" will be offered.

"The Holly and the Ivy" by the Senior choir will be followed by "What Child Is This," "In the Bleak Mid-Winter," "Lullaby My Liking," and "Joseph Dearer" as well as congregational singing.

Order is power.

Post Office Open To 5 P. M. Saturday

can save 24 hours or more in the delivery of most parcel post. "ZIP Codes on parcels means a far less chance of damage because of more direct routing and fewer handlings, but the success of the program hinges on public use of the ZIP Code numbers in addressing packages," Mr. Chestnut said.

He suggested that even if people do not know the ZIP Code of the address to which their mail is going, they should use the code on return addresses. When cards and packages arrive, the five digit return address codes should be added to Christmas lists for use in the future.

ZIP Coded mail from a smaller post office will generally be sent to the nearest main post office or "sectional center." From there, it is sent directly to the sectional center nearest the final destination. In most instances, this eliminates at least one further separation of mail.

By way of illustration, Mr. Chestnut pointed out that a parcel mailed from Long Beach, California, to Alexandria, Virginia, without ZIP Code must be halted enroute at Cincinnati for further sorting. From there it is sent to the Washington, D. C., sectional center and then forwarded to Alexandria.

If the package is ZIP Coded, it will by-pass Cincinnati and move directly to Alexandria through the Washington sectional center. This usually saves at least 24 hours.

LIONS MEET MONDAY

Edenton Lions will hold their weekly meeting Monday night, December 21, at 7 o'clock at the Edenton Restaurant. President Joe Thorud urges every Lion to be present.
