Queen To Reign At Homecoming

Miss Sandra Harrell will be crowned homecoming queen at the Chowan homecoming festivities on February 5 in the high school gymnasium.

Sandra will be crowned by Miss Linda Eyrum White, 1963-64 homecoming queen.

Winborne Blanchard, senior class president, will serve as master of ceremonies.

Queen Sandra will be attended by Marilyn Baker, representing the senior class; June Turner of the junior class; Linda Nixon from the sophomore class and Peggy Bass, representing the freshman class.

Miss CHS, Florette Byrum, will present the queen with a bouquet of roses.

Senior class mascots, Johnny Chappell and Kim Hare, will assist in the coronation.

Entertainment will be supplied by Belinda Perry and the Torches. The Torches will also furnish the music for the dance which follows. Refreshments will be served during the intermission.

want to take a stand. "Everyone wants to be a good guy," McDonald said. "Americans are too prone to ride the fence and individuals are really ineffective citizens."

McDonald said Jaycees are young men who sacrifice to make better towns for tomorrow. He urged local people to lend their support to this movement which is now celebrating its 28th anniversary in North Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Elmore provided entertainment for the evening and Sam Cox introduced the special guests.

Past DSA winners were introduced by Charles Morgan and Allen Harless, Jr., presented McDonald.

Dail was master of ceremonies and Joe Robertson, first district vice president, closed the meeting by leading the Jaycee Creed.

The Eastern Star served a turkey dinner to the largest group ever to attend a DSA presentation.

a prime mover in making the local organization one of the best in North Carolina, regardless of size.

Following a humorous and suspenseful introduction, Mr. Shoaf listed Dail's achievements as director of the Chamber of Commerce, vice president of Barker House Association, nominated by his fellow Jaycees as one of the outstanding young men of America, active in Edenton Baptist Church, and has provided "leadership of the best sort: quiet, plodding".

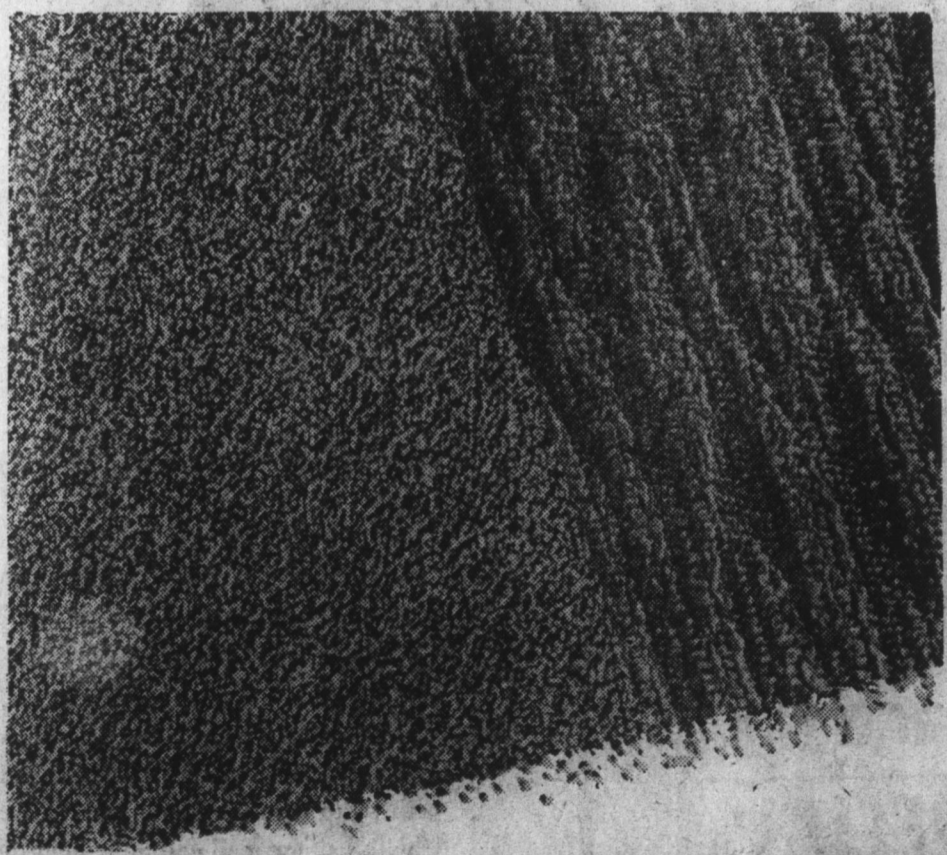

Earlier William McDonald of Hickory, state Jaycee president, said the DSA is designed to bring to attention the accomplishments and contributions of a young man working for a better Edenton. He said to be eligible for this high honor one must be dedicated, determined and responsible.

McDonald said a person wanting to succeed must sacrifice. He said Jayceism taught young men how to work with responsibility.

The speaker added that individuals in America today don't
