

BROAD STREET BULLETIN

By KATE

Lady Spring is late this year,
But she will be here any day,
For the flowers and birds have come to cheer
And we are sure they have come to stay.

With flowers and birds and summer breeze
Each day that comes is sure to please
But if by chance we forget to pray
Thank your Lord for this lovely day.

PATIENCE! The hardest word in the English language to learn and understand and maybe after many years and many lessons it can be learned and practiced. All day long Monday I tried to think of a short verse to begin this column, but because of the beautiful weather and not being able to stick to this typewriter, words escaped me. However, fate and my mother came to my rescue with the above poem. It means something extra special to me, as in years past, after I left home, my mother would write me short verses "just for me" and I collected all of them and had them published. In later years she has been quite ill and could not write and then "out of the blue" she sends me another. It's a good sign that a miracle has happened — mother must be improving and I am truly grateful.

This must be Camellia Year as most everyone who has a bush has been rewarded with many beautiful blooms. A friend in Elizabeth City on Monday gave me some gorgeous ones, several of which I had not seen before. The gratification which we have gotten from our bushes here at home, however, is reward enough after such a long dreary winter.

Many people have remarked that their reason for not liking a small town is that there's no diversion or culture, but they haven't lived in Edenton. Last week was a good example with all the excitement of visitors from as far away as Canada and many northern states here to see the heritage and culture of the old homes and historic places—then the most excellent play put on by our own people which, by the way, exceeded many shows by supposedly well trained theater people and finally the concert by the choral group, which is made up from the best voices in our locale. It is a privilege to be able to hear and see all these things and while I think of it, I hear all the churches had especially beautiful music last Sunday and I'm sure Easter Sunday it will be repeated. Isn't it wonderful to be alive?

Here's a good idea for we women at this busy time of the year, when by the time evening comes, we're worn to a "wicker pucker." One of the most heavenly pleasures on earth is taking a good, long, luxurious bath. It relaxes muscles, eases body fatigue and emotional weariness. It can rejuvenate, invigorate and clean. First assemble your bathing tools at arms length, fill your tub with soothing warm water and add some of your favorite bath oil, put cotton in your ears to drown out the telephone and other interferences, and just relax for a few minutes, then scrub, then relax some more. After the bath, cover yourself with a generous puffing of scented bath powder and for the final refreshment, splash yourself with cologne. Now you'll feel so pampered you'll feel like a "kept" woman.

Want to try making homemade Easter eggs? This sounds like a good recipe: 2 boxes of 10X sugar, 1 1/2 sticks butter, 1/4 box cornstarch, 1 dash salt, 1 egg, 2 packages coconut, 1 tsp. vanilla, 1/2 cup milk, 1 box bitter sweet chocolate and chopped nuts if preferred. Mix butter, milk, egg, vanilla, cornstarch and salt in large bowl. After scrubbing hands, cream the mixture until soft. Add 1 box 10X sugar, keep creaming and add the other box of 10X sugar, coconut, fruit or nuts. Form into eggs, let dry on wax paper for an hour. Dip in melted chocolate and 2 squares of melted paraffin wax combined. Let dry on wax paper. (Two dozen eggs).

Did You Know—

A small magnet cemented on top of the mop or broom handle comes in handy to pick up needles and pins from the floor. A good way to clean leather coats: Use rubbing alcohol on absorbent cotton balls—it will do the trick.

If you are using butter instead of lard in an old recipe, use more butter as lard is richer.

Use a solution of suds and baking soda to wash cut glass and it will sparkle. Ammonia in the water is also good for the sparkle.

Another pretty representative from our county—JUDY EARN-HARDT—Charming, too!
