

BROAD STREET
BULLETIN— By —
Kate

I do not care for material things,
A new fur coat or a diamond ring;
But if you've got some time to spare, Dear Lord, I'd like a goodly share.

Cornell University of several hundred married couples revealed that American married women are becoming more talkative and bossier and the average American man is becoming quieter, meeker and less demanding.

Sounds like a bunch of "stuff" to me—for when has any male become LESS demanding?

This is about the prettiest time of the year for flowers, I suppose it's because of the beautiful colors and fragrances. Right now I have several vases of glorious yellow jonquils, a few sprigs of spirea and the most fragrant white narcissus. Some of these I pure stole from the yard of Mrs. Carroll Kramer, whose flowers are blooming profusely. Each year Mrs. Kramer has such a variety of beautiful flowers, especially in the spring and she is most gracious in sharing them. What is more thrilling to the eye than the first purple crocus, or a sunny daffodil in a yard with all the beautifully colored birds darting in and out?

Each new day has the promise of something different and exciting, or just the joy of living. The ring of a telephone can change your day, your life and your existence. Sometimes it can be bad news, but it's nice to awake in the morning with a brand new day. For instance today we had a very nice surprise. Some relatives who spend the winter in Florida sent us a crate of tree ripened oranges and grapefruit. As I write this, we've already sampled the oranges and they are truly delicious. This was indeed a thoughtful gift, which is thoroughly appreciated and quite unexpected—so you see, a new day a new surprise.

Do you owe anyone a letter? Stop, if you can, and write it now. It may mean a lot to someone who watches each mail delivery and who, on awaking each morning, thinks "Maybe I'll hear from them today."

Remember the Lenten luncheons at the Methodist Church each Wednesday at 1 P. M. Enjoy an hour of delicious food, good fellowship and good speaking.

TRY THIS:

Put a folded paper towel on the toast plate, as this helps the bottom slice of toast from becoming soggy from condensation.

Women (ancient Greek) who'd gotten too near their home fires and burned themselves used cucumber rinds to soothe the skin.
The expression "cool as a cucumber" comes from the therapeutic use of this vegetable.

To get a good crease in boys' or men's trousers, take a large paper bag, wet it with cold water, wring out and use it as a pressing cloth. The creases will be knife sharp.

To remove a stamp from an envelope, try rubbing the inside back of the stamp with lighter fluid and it will separate easily.

I'm in need of your favorite recipe again. I would appreciate your contributions.
