Glaucoma Clinic Date Is May 4th

Attention is called to a free glaucoma screening clinic to be held at the National Guard armory in Elizabeth City on Wednesday, May 4, from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. This clinic is sponsored by the Lions Clubs of Camden, Edenton, Elizabeth City, Hertford, Manteo and Weeksville, and competent doctors and nurses will be in charge of it and do the testing.

All persons 35 years old and older are asked to go over to Elizabeth City on May 14 and take the test. It is free, and it may be the means of saving your precious eyesight.

Examinations at the clinic are quick, easy and painless and does not affect the eyes for driving. Glaucoma is the leading cause of blindness among adults over 35 years of age in the United States, and you will be doing yourself a favor to take the glaucoma test and learn whether or not you are being affected by it.

You have a right to your own life if you have the courage to live it.

Proposed Bank Site Is Chosen

A site has been selected for the proposed Albemarle National Bank and an option has been taken, it was announced today.

J. Meredith Jones, agent for those making application for the bank, and Ralph Parrish, one of the organizers, took an option on property at the corner of North Broad and Church Street. The property is owned by Haywood Phthisic.

The option, filed here, is specifically for construction of a bank building.

The Phthisic property fronts on North Broad Street for a distance of 163 feet and runs 135 feet west on Church Street.

Application to organize a national bank in Edenton was made last month with the Comptroller of Currency in Washington, D. C. No date has been set for a hearing on the application.

Signators of the application in addition to Jones and Parrish were: Frank E. Elliott of Edenton; J. J. Harrington of Lewiston; Lindsay C. Winslow of Hertford; and Leo O. Wynns of Colerain.

The application requests that the bank be authorized to issue 100,000 shares of capital stock for a total consideration upon organization of $1,200,000.

ACP Funds Available
In recent weeks, many thousands of acres of trees in North Carolina have been destroyed by fire. These fires covered many areas of the State, though they were more prevalent in the Southeastern counties.

Agricultural Conservation Program funds are available to farmers to help in re-establishing trees on this burned-over land. The cost-share rate for planting trees is $14.00 per acre. In many cases, this will cover a large portion of the out-of-pocket cost to the farmer.

If farmers replant soon, they can be assured of getting the type trees that are best suited to the area. If they wait too long, undesirable trees will often come up in the area. These undesirable trees are of little value and additional measures have to be taken to destroy these trees before good marketable species can be planted.

Although losses from the fires have been very severe the sooner trees are re-established, the sooner the farmer can begin realizing a profit from his woodland. Any farmer desiring to re-establish trees destroyed by fire should visit the ASCS office and file a request for cost-sharing.

Peanuts

The County Committee re-appropriated 5.5 acres of peanuts that were released from one farm to 28 farms today. Notices will be mailed this week to all producers receiving reappropriated acreage.

Wheat

A double post card has been mailed to operators on all wheat farms, not participating in the 1966 wheat program, for the purpose of obtaining the acreage of wheat for harvest as grain. These cards should be completed signed, dated and returned to the County ASCS Office. Failure to furnish the information may result in a reduction in the future wheat allotment established for the farm.

Cropland Adjustment Program

The voluntary Cropland Adjustment Program will help farmers to divert cropland to protective conservation uses under long-term agreements. Land may be taken out of production for periods of five to ten years. Farmers interested in this program should contact the County ASCS Office. May 13 is the final date to sign up for the 1966 Cropland Adjustment Program.
