

BROAD STREET BULLETIN

By Kate

Woe is me, how my garden grows
With weeds and flowers mixed
How can I tell the difference
When they're so in betwixt?

I fertilize my flowers
But the weeds grow well without it
The catalog says they'll be gorgeous blooms
But I'm inclined to doubt it.

I believe that if you're not feeling up to par, you can actually get to be quite ill by staying in bed and thinking about it. Most of us will, at one time or another, awake in the morning with varied aches and pains and wish we could just stay in the bed. However, I find that if I push a little and get to work in my daily routine, before long I've forgotten how bad I thought I felt. Perhaps I've just been lazy . . .

GLIMPSES: A little boy riding his bike, his puppy dog trying his best to outrun him. Coffee hour at the local drug stores each morning, around 10—conversation and good fellowship—plenty of laughter. Cheap Side getting painted and spruced up, one trying to outdo the other. Would-be fishermen down from the Court House Green catching anything from a catfish to an eel. The town truck filled with ground peanut hulls and several men, mulching crepe myrtle trees along Edenton streets. Piling driven and construction started on the new fire station.

Most every father will be honored this coming Sunday with love and remembrances from their children. However, it takes a lot of living on our own to appreciate just how much patience and sacrifice is put into making a good Daddy. Most of the time Daddy stays in the background of the family, but Daddy is the BACKBONE of the family. Let us not forget him.

The age-old marriage vow, "to love, honor and obey" is undergoing an important revision in the minds of many young couples on the threshold of marriage. As they see it, the vow might better pledge both the bride and bridegroom "to love, honor and share."

How to be unpopular: "I liked your hair better in its natural shade." Someone describes a Klansman who owns a drip-dry sheet.

The nickel is 100 years old this year and, believe me, it's showing its age. Remember when you paid five cents car fare on the street car—five cents for a good cigar. Pay calls were five cents. Shoe shines were five cents and a big ice cream cone was five cents? The first U. S. Nickel was a three-cent piece. The first Liberty Head Nickel appeared without the word "cents," just a large letter "V." What will a nickel be a year from now?

A good recipe for Happiness:

- 2 heaping cups patience.
- 1 heartful of love.
- 2 handfuls of generosity.
- Dash of laughter.
- 1 headful of understanding.

Mix well. Spread over a period of a lifetime and serve to everyone you meet.

Helpful Hints:

Clean brass with brown shoe polish if no brass polish is available.

Drive thumbtacks into the bottom of legs of chairs to make them glide more easily and to prevent them from scratching the floor.

Get grease spots off the garage floor by sprinkling them with sal soda concentrate and lightly dampening with water. Let stand overnight, then scrub and hose spots away.

Crab cakes will have an unique taste if they are sprinkled with sesame seeds before being sauted in butter.

Prevent air holes in cake by pouring the batter through a slotted spoon.

Art Council Plans Classes

Would your child enjoy making and playing with his own puppets this summer?

Mrs. Thomas Cheers, Jr., reports that the Chowan Art Council will make plans for a class in puppetry if there is enough local interest. The class would include making puppets, making a puppet stage, painting stage scenery and learning how to put on a puppet show.

She also says summer guitar lessons can be made available if there is enough interest.

Both the puppet class and guitar lessons would be designed for children of all ages.

If you would like to enroll your child in either the puppet class or the guitar class, you must indicate your interest this week by calling either Mrs. Cheers, 482-3302, or Mrs. L. F. Amburn, Jr., 482-3164.

Fun vs. Happiness

Then there was the guy who had so much fun at his bachelor party he postponed his wedding.
