They that go down to the sea in ships that do business in great waters; these see the works of the Lord, and H.s wonders in the deep.—Psalm 107:22-23.

To launch out into the deep of life, we must have the personal leadership of God and a willingness to follow him, that we may "miss the mark" or resist temptation.

Give us responsive hearts, Our Master, that we may know the riches of Thy grace, and gladly accept Thy leadership.

A LIFT FOR TODAY

Warning To Our Ladies

The swift march of science may sometimes cause us to oversimplify the purpose of new medicines, new gadgets, or new materials. This can be dangerous.

About ten years ago, for example, the women of America were presented by science with a wonderful innovation—the support stocking. You know-the kind that, "unless the wind blows, nobody knows" you are wearing them. The newer versions are remarkable; they look as sheer as nylons and they perform a great service for the wearer—they give needed support to tired legs. About ten percent of all hosiery sold today is of the support variety.

The danger lies in expecting too much of them, according to a leading research scientist, William O. Elson, director of the Kendall Company's Bauer & Black health and medical research laboratories in Barrington, Illinois.

For varicose veins or other serious leg reallems. Elson points out, support stockings simply do not provide enough compression to be truly helpful. When worn in ead of elastic stockings for these proble as far too many women do, they are inedequate and the condition very likely will get worse. The fuller compression of properly-made elastic stockings is essential, according to the scientist.

Even some doctors are confused. More frequently, however, they prescribe support hose for varicose veins, even though they know better-feeling that the patient may consider the elastic variety unattractive, and that some support is better than none. Good news for both docmaking elastic stockings that look like Elson's company has no axe to grind because it is one of the nation's leading this valuable public-service warning to Florida in May. Work may be a great blessing to man. but there are times when we have some doubts.

Being away for a vacation at the beach this week, I'll have to rely for the most part on the "Letter Department" to fill up this column.

A letter from Carlton Haskett, an Edenton boy who has made good out in Indiana, writes me that his daughter Jane received her bachelor of arts degree from Duke University after spending her junior year at the University of Edinburgh Scotland. Then she received her master's degree at Indiana University and now she has received her doctorate in botany at the University of California in Berkeley. Friend Haskett said he figured he spent $35,000, including the purchase of three automobiles, for his daughter's education and that he didn't regret a dime of it. Well, most of us haven't the $35,000, but none of us regret what we've spent for the welfare of our children.

A recent card from Al Habit announced a change in his address. Al says he'll be coaching football and baseball at the new Oceana High School in Virginia Beach this coming year. Incidentally, Al said he and his entire family thoroughly enjoy reading every edition of The Herald.

B. G. Coates, a Herald reader who lives in New Castle, Pa., wrote me regarding the little tribute I paid to three of Edenton's school teachers, Misses Lena Jones, Ruby Felts and Minnie Hollowell, who have retired. In that connection, he wrote a little poem as follows:

TO THE TEACHER ABOVE

I sat alone in the school room today, The children were gone, one by one, I bowed my head

And thought what to say To the Teacher above--The Master, the Infinite One.

Lord, teach me to be a child of Thy school That I might be tender and kindly and

> My friend DeWitt Cooper, who lives in Richmond, Indiana, renewed his subscription and said he knew so few people in Edenton any more now that the Flethers are gone, so that his enjoyment in the paper is largely limited to the columns of the Missus and I and that of Wilborne Harrell. "Whenever I get back to Edenton," wrote Coop, "I would like to meet him, along with the Missus so I can know personally the people who make The Herald enjoyable to me. It could be that I will drift Fast again, as I have a daughter in Baltimore. If I get that close I will stop over at Norfolk for some of those oysters on the half shell, and also see you, provided you are not off running like you were last year." Well, Coop, let us know when you're coming and we'll try to stay put.
