Coming back on the job Monday after week's vacation at the beach was reason for a hectic week for yours truly for it seemed as though just about everything worked backward, which makes me believe that after a vacation a fellow needs just about another week to rest up. However, last week at the beach was just about as perfect as one could ask forand that included fishing. In fact fishing was so good two of the days that Anne Jenkins and Ollie Goodwin said they didn't really enjoy fishing so very much because most of the time was consumed by taking fish off the hooks and baiting up again. And speaking about pier fishing, most of the time there's more women fishing than men and always a gang of youngsters. The latter, for the most part, throw over their lines at any old place and what gets a fellow's goat is that they pull in fish when a lot of others

-COTY SHOWCASE-

Every year, New York City plays host to over seven and one half tourists. The world's most exciting city is an incredible playground of sights and sounds found nowhere else on earth. But it is especially magical for the ladies, for this is the beauty city of the world.

And for women looking for the new and exciting, a dazzling sales "theater" has opened on Fifth Avenue—a new "must-see" for visitors to New York. The Coty Showcase, nestled among the skyscrapers of Rockefeller Center on ant Fifth Avenue, is a glass and crystal showplace, an exciting discovery for the woman inter-ested in looking at beauty as well as heing beautiful.

Designed almost as a stage set, unique little beauty theater the will totally change many times during the year (whenever you come to New York, take a look!). breezes. The history of this country should have demonstrated one fact: That all men simply are not equal, never were and never will be. An editorial in the Colorado Trumpet and the Public Ledger points out that: "The Declaration of Independence asserts that all men are created equal, but it says nothing about the duty of a government to maintain citizens at an equal level thereafter." A good example of welfare state "equality" is provided by the following: "Two families living side-by-side are a dramatic example of government favoritism. The one self, right in the middle of the table. Dewith an income of $3,100 a year is entitled to special tutors and medical checkups for their four-to-six-year-old children, summer jobs or free summer seminars on college campuses for their high school kids, and Youth Corps benefits for the school dropouts. They reap numerous other special privileges as well, but the family next door with an income of $3,300 a year gets nothing."

It's easy to find an excuse for delaying hard work.

Here's one who was very sorry Sunday that I could not eat two dinners at about the same time. Mrs. Bill Davis and her daughters had their usual birthday dinner for Bill and due to being away, we were not informed about it until dinner was just about ready at the Bufflap home. I did, however, go to Bill's house to offer my congratulations upon beginning another milestone in his journey of life and while there I just had to go in the kitchen where the table was laden with many kinds of tempting food. What 'marred" the feast was a huge platter of smoked ham, which Bill prepared himspite urgent urging that I join in the meal, I just had to turn down the invitation, for not to eat at home after the meal was prepared could have caused an awful argument. Anyway, one of Bill's daughters fixed up a few honest-to-goodness ham biscuits (with more ham than biscuit) which I took home for "dessert."
