

BROAD STREET BULLETIN

By

If you can give some joy away
To someone who is blue,
Giving cheerful smiles and laughter
Will bring them close to you.

Sharing flowers of human kindness
Which you've gathered along the way
Will give some friend some happy moments
From your happiness bouquet.

Have you ever walked down the street feeling glum and out of sorts, then meet someone who greets you with a smile and friendly greeting? After that, your spirits lift and you think the old world's not bad after all.

We really saw the mini-skirts this past weekend in New York and an ugly assortment of legs, in fishnet hose, most of them being white (hose). I tried to get a good picture of some of them, but the streets were too crowded and traffic too fast. I realize how small town I really am when I get disgusted with the extreme eye make-up for day time wear and the very tight slacks worn by the young girls. Three days in the city, with its hustle and bustle, rushing taxi cabs and flashing lights, are all we could take at one time. I must be getting old and "sot" in my ways, but Edenton sure looked good to me when we returned. Buff shares my sentiments. The only redeeming feature was being with my wonderful granddaughter and children for a few days.

Is it just imagination or is there really a feeling of Fall in the air? Perhaps it's just the association of many things, such as school starting, hazy days and the coolness of the nights. Anyhow, it's wonderful to be alive. I sure saw a lot of Shifts in the big city this weekend. Everywhere on the street, in the theater, restaurants and, of course, in all the stores, it's the "SHIFT." This new trend is wonderful, especially for those of us who bulge in the wrong places. As I heard one time, "it hides a multitude."

I learned another new word, too, in New York. I was shopping in Macy's and could not find the article I wanted, so I asked a clerk where I could find it. She directed me to the other side of the store, through the "Boutique." Incidentally, I found out that even though Edenton is a small town, our stores are just as modern and "priced right" as most city stores—just not as much of them.

Did You Know—
Painted walls offer more excitement if bordered with floral wall paper.
A slice of bread placed on cooked and drained rice will absorb excess moisture and leave rice dry and fluffy.

Next time you fix pancakes, add a cup of applesauce to your batter.

I received a letter this week from Mrs. Marguerite M. Howell of Newport News, saying some very nice things about this column, which I do appreciate very much. Many times I think it's a waste of time and then someone comes along with a little encouragement—so I still try. Thanks so much, Mrs. Howell.

Glimpses
Snooky Bond and Corrine Thorud, looking pretty and cool in their modern shifts strolling down Broad Street one morning last week.

Mrs. Bill Davis on Court Street always has such pretty flowers in her yard and lots of different kinds.
The calm waters of the sound Tuesday morning and the number of small fishing boats trolling for rock and perch. Peaceful and so beautiful!

Here is a copy of a poem sent to me by a reader—a lovely poem, the author unknown:

THE MAN IN THE GLASS
When you get what you want in your struggle for self
And the world makes you king for a day,
Just go to a mirror and look at yourself,
And see what that man has to say.

For it isn't your father or mother or wife
Whose judgment upon you must pass,
The fellow whose verdict counts most in your life
Is the one staring back from the glass.

You may be like Jack Horner and chisel a plum
And think you're a wonderful guy,
But the man in the glass says you're only a bum
If you can't look him straight in the eye.

He's the fellow to please—never mind all the rest,
For he's with you clear up to the end,
And you've passed your most dangerous, difficult test
If the man in the glass is your friend.

You may fool the whole world down the pathway of years
And get pats on the back as you pass,
But your final reward will be heartaches and tears
If you've cheated the man in the glass.

MAKES IT LOOK EASY

SKI POWER — Popping a skier such as this lass out of the water is easy and effortless when the ski boat is powered by the new 1967 Merc 650. Increased piston displacement for added thrust and breakaway power, plus space-age Thunderbolt ignition, make this 65-hp motor a water skiing favorite.

Allotment Set On Cotton Crop

North Carolina has been allotted 458,561 acres under the national cotton program for the 1967 upland cotton crop. W. B. Denny, State Executive Director has announced. This represents the state's share of the 16-million-acre national allotment and of the 200,000-acre optional acreage reserve (to take care of minimum farm allotments), announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture on August 3.

The 1967 national allotment of 16 million acres is the minimum under present law in view of the supply-demand situation.
At the same time, a national marketing quota of 16,033,000 bales (standard bales of 500 pounds gross weight) was announced for the 1967 cotton crop, or which growers will have an opportunity to vote in a referendum later this year. The date for the referendum has not yet been set.

Denny explained that the state allotment will be apportioned among counties and the county allotments among farms according to provisions of the law. Notices of farm acreage allotments will be mailed to operators of cotton farms prior to the referendum.
Cotton growers voting in the referendum will determine whether marketing quotas will be operative for the 1967 crop of upland cotton, and this in turn will decide whether other phases of the program become effective. The quotas will go into effect if they are approved by at least two-thirds of those voting.

If marketing quotas are not in effect for the 1967 upland cotton crop, the allotment program will remain in effect, but there will be no acreage diversion program and no price-support payments. Price support loans, in that event, will be available at 50 per cent of parity to growers who plant within their allotments, as provided by law.

Overton Working With ECC Squad

GREENVILLE—The East Carolina College Pirates, a strong contender for the Southern Conference crown, began football drills last Thursday with a squad of 57 men reporting. Included on this year's roster is sophomore blocking back Charles Overton from Edenton.

The Pirates are holding two-day workouts until classes begin September 8. Coach Clarence Stasavich has not released a depth chart at the present time and competition is keen for starting berths as well as positions on the second and third units.

WOMEN PAST 21 WITH BLADDER IRRITATION Suffer Many Troubles

After 21, common kidney or bladder irritations affect twice as many women as men and may make you tense and nervous from too frequent, burning or itching urination both day and night. Secondly, you may lose sleep and suffer from headaches, backache and feel old, tired, depressed. In such irritation, CYSTEX usually brings fast relaxing comfort by curbing irritating germs in strong, acid urine and by analgesic pain relief. Get CYSTEX at drug gists. See how fast it can help you
