

SENATOR SAM ERVIN SAYS

WASHINGTON — Fifty-two Senators have joined me in introducing a revised version of the civilian employee privacy bill to protect Federal workers from unwarranted invasions of their constitutional rights.

A companion bill to protect the rights of military personnel from coercion in savings bonds campaigns and charity drives was introduced at the same time.

The Federal employees bill is a revised version of the proposal which I introduced in the last session of Congress and which was the subject of hearings by the Constitutional Rights Subcommittee in September and October.

The need for these measures arises from a callous disregard by Federal agencies of the dignity of their employees and by the actions of overzealous supervisors who have been coercing employees in areas regarded as constitutionally immune from snooping. The revelations that have been made to the Subcommittee are shocking.

Employees by the thousands are constantly badgered with interrogations on such intimate matters as sex, religion, their willingness to invest in savings bonds, their disclosure of property down to the last bottle cap received from the Welcome Wagon hostess, and their willingness to work while off-duty for causes unrelated to their employment.

The magnitude of such coercive practices has grown in recent years to the extent that reams of regulations, guidelines, and questionnaires are issued for the employee and his family in the name of morality, security, mental health, equal employment, efficiency, and causes which smack of Big Brotherism.

What has been lost sight of in the bureaucratic process is that the best way to attract men of dignity to public service is treat them with dignity.

The measures which I have introduced seek to permit the Federal Government to obtain the information which it must have to function, but they would ban unnecessary snooping and needless curiosities that are now perpetrated upon these employees.

Moreover, I think that it is a national disgrace to deny weekend passes, allot restrictions, assign K. P., specify forced marches, and give adverse efficiency reports to military personnel simply because they are unwilling to spend their small paycheck as the Government dictates.

There is no necessity for these infringements of freedom and invasions of privacy by the Government. Such practices constitute a gross neglect of the Government's constitutional duty to protect its own employees from unreasonable restrictions upon their liberties. I think it is time for Congress to forsake its outdated reluctance to tell the Executive Branch of the Government how to treat federal employees. For this reason, I expect to press for action in the near future upon the Government employee "bill of rights".

LEGION AUXILIARY
The American Legion Auxiliary will meet at 8 P. M. today (Thursday) at the home of Mrs. Bertha Bunch, president.

Since the first Easter Seals were introduced in 1934, millions of dollars have been translated into research and rehabilitation in crippling. Some 250,000 disabled persons benefit annually from Easter Seal programs as treatment centers, pre-school classes, workshops, camps and itinerant and mobile therapy.

What Quality Beef Does A&P Sell?

That's a fair question. But not an easy one to answer because we have our own quality standards, different from any other meat merchant.

These standards don't fit exactly the familiar terms you know for grades of meat. As an example, did you know that some beef, graded U.S. Choice, just doesn't meet our "Super-Right" specifications? It's true! You see... we don't buy by grade. We use our own high standards to bring you the best values.

That doesn't mean we don't approve of such grading—not at all. It just means we're very fussy about the beef we label "Super-Right." It stands to reason we have to be or A&P wouldn't be America's number one meat merchant.
