

BROAD STREET BULLETIN

God does not care if your clothes are torn, He cares only if your faith is worn. It's people who notice the clothes you wear, God restores your soul, because He cares.

How many times many Or she may be able to persuade him that her qualifications are so good that he'd have a hard time finding a man who could do the job as well.

I am glad to see Nancy Mitchener back in town—it's always nice to hear her cheerful greeting in the drug store, too. She's had a busy and eventful month with the Mitchener's oldest son, John, graduating from Yale and their youngest son, Bill, graduating from Carolina Military Academy, after which they journeyed to Expo '67 in Montreal. She looks wonderful, too, in spite of being the mother of three grown-up handsome sons whose "goings on" keep her stepping hither and yon. (Daddy "bears up" well, too).

Hot, muggy weather? That's a general complaint. Me? I just think it's delightfully hot. I keep thinking, "I'm really warm—I can go outdoors and still be warm. As you might suspect . . . I HATE WINTER."

Another good thing about summer is all the abundance of fresh fruits and vegetables. Right now we can have our choice of snap beans, good corn-on-the-cob, cucumbers, tomatoes, squash, onions, lima beans, beets and cabbage—cheap, too. Soon it'll be local cantaloupes, watermelons and peaches. Don't it sound truly like the Garden of Eden?

Here's a good recipe for a never fail fudge, given to me by Mrs. Mae Neilson (a fishing friend).

2 squares Baker's chocolate.
4 cups granulated sugar.
1 tablespoon vinegar.
2 tablespoons Karo syrup.
1 cup canned milk.
Bring ingredients to boil and cook four minutes. Remove from heat, add 8-ounce par of peanut butter and an 8-ounce jar of marshmallow creme. Beat until creamy and pour on buttered pan.
