Have you noticed the beautiful afterglow
At the close of a clear, cool day?
Just after the golden sun goes down
Across the tranquil Bay.

I've watched it many evenings,
Wishing for time to stand still
Marveling at the shades of night
Painted by the Master's skill.

So, please take just a few extra minutes
At the end of your busy day,
Go where you can watch the sunset
Across the peaceful Bay.

Truly, the gorgeous sunsets across Edenton Bay will make you almost hold your breath at their beauty. How lucky to be able to see these paintings by God.

Several weeks ago we saw the beautiful colors of autumn in the mountains. This past weekend we went to Wilmington and there, too, all along the highways, especially as far as New Bern, we saw the fiery red of the dogwood trees, the yellow maple and the russet leaves of many other trees and bushes, all together making just as lovely a scene as those in the hills.

By the way, don't forget that once again it's time to get your bird feeding stations in order and filled with wild bird seed, suet, peanut butter, etc. You'll be rewarded with daily visits from many different kinds of birds from sparrows to orioles. Right now the birds are migrating south, so you can expect a varied assortment of beautiful birds visiting your feeding stations.

Let me give you this wonderful tip, as to where you can get delicious home baked pies, cakes, cookies and bread, not to mention other home cooked foods which will help you in your busy days ahead. The ladies of the Edenton Chapter of the Eastern Star will have a small curb market each week on Friday or Saturday, in the vacant building next to the Western Auto Store. Cakes NOT MADE WITH MIXES, but made the old-fashioned way from "scratch" will be featured, as well as other home-made goodies. This week the market will be held on Friday and each week hereafter I will give the day of the sale for that week. Once you get a sample of this home cooked food, I'm sure you'll be back for more.

This week we say goodbye to our faithful librarian, Mrs. Marion Robertson. Mrs. Robertson, who has been our librarian for eight years, has retired and will return to her home in East Aurora, N. Y. I'm sure that many of us will miss her, as her friendly smile and willingness to help made one feel a special welcome at the library. I've just read an article on hints for the well dressed man—so will pass some along to any of you men who just might read this column. Since it is "right" in France for a man to tuck his napkin under his chin, but frowned upon here—you still might come out better—at least you'll have the cleanest tie in town. Your feet will stay warmer if you will put light weight innersoles in your shoes, as insulation against cold pavements. Knitted sport shirts are in high style, but certain obese men would look better in the cut-and-sewn kind. Men swear by knee-length socks. They give more support, warmth and better appearance.

Mrs. Jackie Nixon of Route 3 recently sent me a bulletin issued by Mrs. John D. Robinson, national Democratic Committeewoman. This bulletin contains recipes for birthday cakes used by many famous ladies. Since Mrs. Lyndon Johnson is now our "First Lady," I will give you her favorite recipe for Lemon Cake:

1 1/4 cups sugar.
1/2 cup butter.
8 egg yolks.
2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour.
3 tsp. baking powder.
1/4 tsp. salt.
1/2 cup milk.
1 tsp. vanilla.
1 tsp. lemon juice.
1 tsp. grated lemon rind.
Sift sugar. Beat butter until soft, and add sugar gradually and blend until creamy. Beat egg yolks separately until light and lemon colored, then add to butter mixture. Sift flour, baking powder and salt, three times, then add to butter mixture, alternately with 1/2 cup milk. Add and beat for two minutes, vanilla, lemon juice and rind. Bake in nine-inch greased layer pan in 375 degree oven for 20 minutes. Spread with following icing: Blend 2 cups confectioners' sugar, 1/4 cup soft butter. Beat in grated rind and juice of one lemon and one or more tps. cream. (Thanks, heaps, Mrs. Nixon).

A Helpful Hint
Bread and wine baskets will last longer and become less brittle if you give them regular wettings under the faucet.

Notice To Administrators, Executors and Guardians!
